Interview

ran out of the theater, and my brothers and cousins had to come get me. So, it's amazing that I would study martial arts years later, because that certainly freaked me out at first.

KW: What type of dietary regimen do you follow to stay in such good shape?

MJW: I basically eat fish and vegetables, pretty much the pescatarian route.

KW: When you look in the mirror, what do you see?

MJW: A constant work in progress.

KW: What's the craziest thing you've ever done?

MJW: At 16, I traveled across the country by Greyhound bus.

KW: If you could have one wish instantly granted, what would that be for?

MJW: Fairness. I just wish there was fairness overall. And you know what? I also wish for honesty.

KW: Larry Greenberg asks: Do you have a favorite movie monster?

MJW: Gamera, the giant, flying mutant turtle.

KW: The Anthony Mackie question: Is there anything that you promised yourself you'd do if you became famous, that you still haven't done yet?

MJW: Boy, these are great questions. I'm a former Special Ed teacher, and I plan to do more in the country's public schools system. I definitely intend to help with policies in the inner-city school system. That's something I haven't done yet, but I'm going to.

KW: Finally, what's in your wallet?

MJW: Two credit cards, my driver's license and 20 bucks.

KW: Thanks again for the time, Michael, and best of luck with the film.

MJW: Thank you, Kam.

We honor the many accomplishments of African Americans.

It is our primary goal as a labor union to better the lives of all people working in the building trades through advocacy, civil demonstration, and the long-held belief that workers deserve a "family wage" - fair pay for an honest day's work.

A family wage, and the benefits that go with it, not only strengthens families, but also allows our communities to become stronger, more cohesive, and more responsive to their citizens' needs.

Our family wage agenda reflects our commitment to people working in the building trades, and to workers everywhere. In this small way, we are doing our part to help people achieve the American Dream. This dream that workers can hold dear regardless of race, color, national origin, gender, creed, or religious beliefs.
