Jahking Guillory: The 'Kicks' Interview

By Kam Williams
For The Skanner News

An undeniable young talent on the rise, actor and rapper Jahking Guillory is already a veteran in the entertainment business at the age of 14. Born and raised in Long Beach California, 'King' started pursuing his dream at nine years of age, landing jobs in national commercials, music videos and national print campaigns.

Graduating to larger roles in film and TV, 'King has already shown how versatile an actor he is, playing the ultra-cool kid with swagger, to the computer geek, to the teenage drug dealer. In addition to acting, 'King is a talented rapper and works on his craft every day. He writes lyrics about his life and makes beats with his friends to every song he records.

Jahking is also a championship athlete. He played running back for superstar rapper Snoop Dogg's Junior football team, winning five championships. He is a track star, too – winning the 800 and 1500 meter dashes in the Junior Olympics.

Here, he talks about his starring role

Jahking Guillory

as Brandon in "Kicks," a coming-of-age adventure set in the Bay Area.

Kam Williams: Hi Jahking, thanks for the interview.

Jahking Guillory: Thank you.

KW: What interested you in "Kicks"?
