Portland Center Stage Celebrates 10th Anniversary

Portland Center Stage at The Armory celebrated its 10th anniversary in its home at The Armory with a record-breaking fundraising gala titled "Diamond in the Pearl." More than 400 of the organization's most dedicated supporters were in attendance, including many of the people that were instrumental in helping transform The Armory into the LEED-Platinum theater facility that opened its doors in 2006 and is now visited by 150,000 people annually. The guests raised $700,650 to support Portland Center Stage at The Armory's mission of inspiring our community by bringing stories to life in unexpected ways. It was the most successful fundraiser, and the largest attendance for a gala, in the company's history.

RACC awards Arts Equity Grants to 24 organizations

The Regional Arts & Culture Council (RACC) has awarded $126,540 in Arts Equity Grants to 24 organizations that are advancing RACC's goals for equity and inclusion. These grants are funded by City of Portland's Arts Education & Access Fund, or arts tax, along with support from Multnomah County.

Arts Equity Grants provide financial support to organizations that are conducting arts and culture projects and programming for communities of color, immigrants, refugees, underserved neighborhoods, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ communities, people experiencing homelessness and houselessness, and other communities that have historically been marginalized.

A total of 75 nonprofit organizations submitted eligible Letters of Interest in this cycle and 31 organizations were invited to submit full applications. A panel of RACC Board Members and community representatives reviewed the 29 submitted applications and recommended full or partial funding for 24 applicants, totaling $126,540. The RACC Board of Directors approved the final grant awards on May 24, 2017.

Here is a brief summary of the 24 Arts Equity Grants awarded (*First-time RACC Grant recipient):

- Autism Society of Oregon - Art workshops for adults on the autism spectrum. $1,250
- Cinema Project - Social justice film screenings at correctional facility in partnership with Liberation Literacy. $1,480
- Cymaspace - Oregon Arts & Accessibility Festival to showcase the work of deaf and hard of hearing artists. $6,500
- Fuse Theatre Ensemble - OUTwright Theatre Festival, celebrating the contributions of the LGBTQI+ community to the art of theatre. $5,000
- Girls Inc of the Pacific Northwest* - Five week summer documentary filmmaking program that inspires girls to share the stories of Portland women. $6,500
- Hmong American Community of Oregon* - New Year Celebration at Glenhaven Park. $6,000
