

Black History

Briefs cont'd from pg 11

The NAACP signed agreements with the NNPA: The Black Press of America; the National Minority Pan Hellenic Council; the African-American Institute, and The LINKS as part of a strategy by the NAACP to shift resources toward mobilization efforts for the 2018-midterm elections.

Partnerships included Memorandum of Understandings (MOUs) with:

- The LINKS: A group of nearly 15,000 professional women of color, with 285 chapters in 41 states, the District of Columbia and the Bahamas.

- National Newspaper Publishers Association (NNPA): Also known as, the Black Press of America, NNPA is a trade association of the more than 200 African American-owned community newspapers from around the United States that reach millions weekly.

- Africa-America Institute (AAI): An organization created to expand education on Africa, increase capacity building and foster relationships between Africans and African-Americans.

- National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC): Is an international organization representing nine (9) International Greek letter Sororities and Fraternities: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Iota Phi Theta Fraternity, Inc., Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc., Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

The NAACP's partnership with the Black Press extends for decades but a new attack on the rights of communities of color has revitalized their relationship. "The partnership of the NAACP and the National N

As part of their agreement, NNPA will provide membership forms in all of their over 200 weekly publications and provide regular weekly and monthly columns to NAACP leadership.

