BARBERSHOP CHAT

Marcos Alday, 4, helps barber Leon Williams give his brother Marcel, 5, a haircut during the 8th annual Barbershop Chat at Rainier Beach Community Center. Seven barbers including Tony Brooks, Sr., Aaron Lucas, Terry Hill Jr. Mr. Williams, Dexter Harris, and Mike O. volunteered their time to give free haircuts to the community. The event, which was sponsored by F.A.S.T (Fathers and Sons Together), also featured several guest speakers: author Terry Hill Sr., former Husky football player Terry Hollimon, Magician Darrell Fisher, spoken word performances by CJ Dudley and Lincoln Wilmore.

County's First Afrocentric Women's Transition Home to Open in Gresham

Multnomah County's first Afrocentric women's transitional home will welcome residents this April.

The 8,000-square-foot Diane Wade House is located in Gresham and designed to house 38 residents. Funded through a $2 million grant from the MacArthur Safety and Justice Challenge and administered by Bridges to Change, the facility will offer culturally specific counseling, education, employment, mental health, and addiction services.

Abbey Stamp, executive director at the Local Public Safety Coordinating Council, worked with the MacArthur Foundation to identify the need for better support services for women of color who are navigating the justice system and specifically, who are on probation.

She points out that while African Americans comprise only six percent of the population in Multnomah County, they represent about 20 percent of inmates in Multnomah County Jail.

"We want to be responsive to a community that has not thrived or been able to seek recovery in the current continuum of justice services," Stamp said, adding that while there are local Afrocentric transitional services for men in the area, no such options existed for Black women.

Proud Boy Arrested in Connection With June Assault

Donovon Lyle Flippo, 23, was booked Tuesday in connection with a homophobic assault

The Associated Press

A member of the right-wing Proud Boys group was arrested Tuesday after being indicted last month on assault charges.

The arrest came a day after Mayor Ted Wheeler complained that law enforcement was essentially ignoring violent protests in the city.

Protests occur often in Portland and police have at times struggled to contain violent clashes.

"In what city is it legal to engage in a street brawl?" Mayor Ted Wheeler asked Monday at a news conference.

The Oregonian/OregonLive reported that 23-year-old Donovan Lyle Flippo of Vancouver, Washington, was booked Tuesday in connection with a June attack.

He faces charges of third-degree assault, a felony, and fourth-degree assault, a misdemeanor. It wasn't clear if he had an attorney.

Flippo and another Proud Boys member were indicted in connection with the June 8 assault of a man who said the pair shouted homophobic

De La Salle North Catholic High School has found a new home. School officials announced Tuesday that it had reached a deal to with St. Charles Parish at the southeast corner of Northeast 42nd Ave. and Killingsworth in Portland.

A press release put out by the school says the church and the school have not worked out all the lease details but have signed a letter of intent to a 50-year lease with two 25-year extensions.

Since 2007, the school has been housed in the former Kenton Elemen-

Gordon Caplan of Greenwich, Conn., walks out of federal court Tuesday in New York. Fifty people, including Hollywood stars Felicity Huffman and Lori Loughlin, were charged Tuesday in a scheme in which wealthy parents allegedly bribed college coaches and other insiders. Caplan, who is co-chairman of the international law firm Willkie Farr & Gallagher, was accused of paying $75,000 to get a test supervisor to correct the answers on his daughter's ACT exam after she took it.
