ble front-runner status with the help of "Game of Thrones" record-tying 12 wins. The channel had a total of 34 awards from Sunday and last weekend's creative arts ceremony.

But streaming hit new Emmy heights, powered by Amazon Prime winners "Fleabag," "The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel" and "A Very English Scandal," and Netflix's "Bandersnatch (Black Mirror)," honored as best movie. Netflix collected 27 awards and Amazon nabbed 15.

Michelle Williams, honored as best actress for her portrayal of dancer Gwen Verdon in FX's limited series "Fosse/Verdon," issued a call to arms for gender and ethnic equality.

She thanked the network and studio behind the project for "paying me equally because they understood ... when you put value into a person, it empowers that person to get in touch with their own inherent value. And where do they put that value, they put it into their work.

"And so the next time a woman and, especially a woman of color, because she stands to make 52 cents on the dollar compared to her white male counterpart, tells you what she needs in order to do her job, listen to her," Williams said.

Patricia Arquette won the trophy best supporting limited-series or movie actress for "The Act." She paid emotional tribute to her late trans sister, Alexis Arquette, and called for an end to prejudice against trans people, including in the workplace.

Ben Whishaw took the category's supporting actor trophy for "A Very English Scandal," admitting in charming British fashion to a hangover.

Alex Borstein and Tony Shalhoub of "The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel" won best comedy supporting acting awards.

"I want to dedicate this to the strength of a woman, to (series creator) Amy Sherman-Paladino, to every woman on the 'Maisel' cast and crew," Borstein said, and to her mother and grandmother. Her grandmother survived because she was courageous enough to step out of a line that, Borstein intimated, would have led to her death at the hands of Nazi Germany.

"She stepped out of line. And for that, I am here and my children are here, so step out of line, ladies. Step out of line," said Borstein, who also won the award last year.

Shalhoub added to his three Emmys which he earned for his signature role in "Monk."

The awards opened without a host as promised, with an early exchange pitting Ben Stiller against Bob Newhart.

"I'm still alive," Newhart told Stiller, who introduced him as part of a wax museum comedy hall of fame that included Lucille Ball and George Burns.

Kim Kardashian West and Kendall Jenner drew some mocking laughter in the audience when they presented the reality competition award after Kardashians West said their family "knows firsthand how truly compelling television comes from real people just being themselves."

An animated Homer Simpson made a brief appearance on stage until he was abruptly crushed, with Anderson of "black-ish" rushing in to, as he vowed, rescue the evening. He called "Breaking Bad" star Bryan Cranston on stage to tout the power of television from its beginning to the current golden age.

"Television has never been bigger. Television has never mattered more. And television has never been this damn good," Cranston said. Online:

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL 3745 METRO

Active Transportation Return on Investment Study

The Planning Department of Metro is requesting proposals for an active transportation and return on investment study. The selected consultant will perform an analysis of Metro transportation projects since the 1990's. This analysis will provide an opportunity to advance the implementation of active transportation projects in the region by further assessing and communicating costs and benefits. It will inform future policy discussions, including those scheduled to occur in 2021 that will guide the next round of Regional Flexible Funding. Pre-Proposal Conference A voluntary pre-proposal conference will be held in Room 370B, Metro Regional Center, 600 N.E. Grand Avenue, Portland, Oregon on Tuesday October 1, 2019, 2:00pm. This meeting will have two purposes: 1. To introduce COBID firms to potential prime contractors to explore contracting and subcontracting opportunities, and 2. To provide interested proposers and subcontractors an opportunity to gain information about the RFP requirements. Proposals are due no later than October 22, 2019 at 2:00 pm at the Metro front desk at 600 NE Grand Avenue, Portland OR 97232 Attn Julie Hoffman RFP 3745. Solicitation documents can be viewed and downloaded from the Oregon Procurement Information Network (ORPIN) at <http://orpin.oregon.gov/open.dll>/ Metro may accept or reject any or all submittals, in whole or in part, or waive irregularities not affecting substantial rights if such action is deemed in the public interest. Metro extends equal opportunity to all persons and specifically encourages minority, women-owned and emerging small businesses to access and participate in this and all Metro projects, programs and services. Metro and its contractors will not discriminate against any person(s), employee or applicant for employment based on race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, disability, political affiliation or marital status. Metro fully complies with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and related statutes and regulations in all programs and activities. For more information, or to obtain a Title VI Complaint Form, see www.oregonmetro.gov.
