

THURSDAY, Aug. 27.

A PRETTY GIRL.—Mr. A. J. Monroe showed us yesterday a beautiful wreath of artificial flowers, buds, leaves, etc., composed entirely of the feathers of ordinary birds and domestic fowls. It is the handwork of his niece Miss Annie M. Monroe, a young lady of sixteen living in Muskingham county, Ohio. The wreath came in a handsome deep walnut frame with a glass front and makes a beautiful parlor ornament. The feathers are colored to represent the various tints in the wreath, and their exquisite arrangement shows more than ordinary artistic taste. Mr. Monroe is justly proud of this pretty token and thinks that there is not a "web-foot" girl of sixteen in Oregon that can equal this beautiful gem made by his pretty "Buckeye" niece of Ohio.

DESIGNATED.—Governor Grover yesterday designated the Pendleton Tribune as the legal organ for Umatilla county. The Mountain Sentinel of Union county previous to the starting of the Tribune did the litigation printing for both counties. The change of proprietorship in the Sentinel lost that paper the franchise and, of course, the Governor gave the litigation printing to the new paper established in Umatilla county.

OFF FOR SAN JOSE.—Mrs. C. N. Terry left this morning for Portland, expecting to take the steamer to-morrow for San Francisco. In times past Mrs. Terry has been one of the brightest social lights of our city and the center of a circle of friends who will grieve to see the family leave us. As it is, they can only wish that every happiness may attend them in their new home.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—We regret to learn of the very severe illness of Mr. Joseph Cooke, of the firm of Cooke & Dennis, who ran a sliver into his thumb about a week ago and has since experienced very severe pain from it, as erysipelas has set in and affected the whole arm. At last accounts he was suffering very greatly and was considered in a dangerous condition.

CARELESS CORRESPONDENTS.—Somebody has dropped a letter into the P. O. without any superscription. There is also one directed to Wm. P. Henderson, Cowitz, Lewis Co., W. T. without stamp. Also letters directed Mr. Flightner, Williams Center, Williams county, and Mr. Billy Curnutt, West Hazelton, Williams county, both of which have no State on.

HARVESTING AT THE PENITENTIARY.—Forty-five acres of oats and thirty of wheat have been cut this week on the Penitentiary farm. To-day it is being threshed. Superintendent Watkins estimates that the total yield of both crops will be about 2,700 bushels. Most all of the work necessary in making and saving the crop has been done by convict labor.

FARM SOLD.—Mr. J. G. Koch sold yesterday the farm of Mrs. Eliza Shepherd, consisting of 255 acres lying on the upper Howell Prairie road, about three miles from the city. A Mr. Rawley, a newcomer from the States is the purchaser and the price paid was $1,000 gold coin "cash on the block."

APPOINTED.—Mr. D. F. Wagner, who has been the agent of Wells Fargo & Company at Idaho City, Idaho during the past six years, this morning took charge of the business of that company, in this city, as their Salem agent.

Mr. J. D. Smith is "shingling" the sides of his new house on High street.

Mr. A. J. Monroe has in his yard on Liberty street a small pear tree in full bloom.

Major M. P. Berry, Collector of Customs, Sitka, is in the city.

FRIDAY, Aug. 28.

LANGLEY'S DIRECTORY.—Mr. M. M. Harkness the agent for Oregon and Washington Territory for Henry G. Langley's Pacific Coast Directory, is in the city. He is here to compile statistics of Salem and Marion county for the Directory of 1875. This Directory is not only for the use of the business houses of San Francisco but will contain much valuable information to the emigrant relative to Oregon. We trust such of our officials and citizens that he may call upon, will give him all the information in their power.

SOON TO LEAVE.—Rev. William McPherson who has, for the past two years, been connected with the Oregon Conference, and the past year as pastor of the M. E. Church, in this city, will take his departure in the course of a few days for California, to which State he has been transferred.

Hon. A. H. Brown, the State Treasurer elect, arrived with his family in the city last evening and is stopping at the Chemeketa. He intends going to housekeeping next week in the residence corner of Capitol and Chemeketa streets, recently occupied by T. B. O'Connell, Esq.

Mr. G. B. Cornelius was in town to-day with his little girl who was kicked in the face by a horse fully a month ago. The wounds appeared to heal, but lately the face has badly swelled and the child was brought in to consult a physician.

Prof. D. W. Prentice will organize his fall and winter singing classes about the middle of the coming month. "The Song Monitor," a new collection, will be used.

Miles M. Miller has quit the printing business and is now connected as salesman with the new house of R. H. Price & Co., on State street.

APPOINTED.—Governor Grover yesterday appointed Thomas B. Humphries, of Hillsboro, Notary Public for Washington county.

Judge B. F. Bonham assumes the robes of the Chief Justice of Oregon on the 1st inst.

State Woman Suffrage Association.

A special session of the Oregon State Woman Suffrage Association will convene in Salem on Tuesday, September 22, at 10 A. M. Members are requested to be promptly on hand the time specified, ready and willing to work. The Vice-Presidents of the Association are requested to be present if possible, and if not, to forward written reports of the work in their special localities, to the Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Coburn, at Portland, by the 15th of September. An order of Executive Committee.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR SEPTEMBER.—Opens with "The Gentle Angler," a paper on Isaac Walton, and upon a story about hunting antelopes in the West. A very funny, illustrated poem, called "The Cheated Mosquitoes." The serial stories, "Fast Friends," by J. T. Trowbridge, and "What Might Have Been Expected," by Frank R. Stockton, draw near their conclusions. "The Pony Express" handsomely illustrated. Shows how messages and letters were carried before railroads and steamboats monopolized the business. Celia Thaxter has a poem called "The Kittiwakes," and Mrs. Dodge, in some lively verses, tells how Mother Pussy taught her children. There is "Old Dutch Times in New York," by Col. T. W. Higginson, and the author of "Robinson Crusoe," by Donald G. Mitchell. Lucretia P. Hale has one of her quaint "Peterkin" conceits. There is a lavishly illustrated account of the adventures of a certain "Jim Crow," and a poem, curiously illustrated by James C. Beard. Sarah O. Jewett contributes a capital story for girls, and there is a romantic tale, "Little Ben and the Sunshine," by Kate Blooded.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY FOR SEPTEMBER.—Scribner's for September contains an unusual number of stories. The most striking of all is Bret Harte's amusing sketch of "Wan Lee, the Pagan." Then there are stories, by Jules Verne, Miss Trafton, James T. McKay, Constance Fenimore Woolson, Harriet Prescott Spofford, and Miss Hopkins. Mrs. Davis describes the "Pepper-Pot Woman." Mr. Burroughs writes about "Mellow England," Mr. Crosby "Gastric Literature," and M. S. S. about umbrellas. Mr. King's "Great South" paper deals with Alabama and Mississippi. Mr. Loehler relates a striking Eastern incident, "A Malay Sailor Running a Muck," and Mr. Richardson tells about the new Normal College in New York. The poetry is by Benjamin F. Taylor, (handsomely illustrated), Nora Perry, Samuel W. Duffield and J. V. C. Dr. Holland's Topics are "Literary Style," "The Average Prayer-Meeting," and "American Incivility." The old Cabinet has to do with "Knight Errantry," "Story Making," Social custom, literature, science, anecdotes and fun are represented in the other regular departments.

SATURDAY, August 29.

CREDIT DUE.—Mrs. Agusta Warner, the widow of Conrad Warner, this morning received through the hands of her attorney, Mr. P. G. Koch, the sum of $1,017. The amount of the policy on the life of her husband who was murdered a short time since. This will enable Mrs. Warner to take up the small mortgage that is due upon the farm, giving her a home for herself and children free from encumbrance with the crop of the present year clear for the future. Too much credit can not be given to the officers and managers of the "Petaluma Mutual Relief Association" (who waived the usual time of payment) for their promptness and to Mr. P. G. Koch the attorney for his efficient aid in collecting the amount.

INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation were filed this morning in the Secretary of State's office, incorporating the "Winooski Warehouse Company, of the Patrons of Husbandry." The purpose for which this company is organized, is to do business as a warehouse company, and to buy and sell and deal in real estate as may be necessary for the successful prosecution of business. The place of business is Winooski, Yamhill county. Capital stock $1,200, shares $25. Incorporators—David Rainsay, William Jones, David Everett, Peter H. Hagey and Sebastian Brutscher.

COMING HOME.—The friends of Hon. W. L. Adams will be pleased to hear that his protracted stay at the East has resulted beneficially to his health. He writes to a friend in town that he is now better than he has been for ten years, and feels entirely cured. He expects to leave Boston about the first of September for Oregon, coming by way of Salt Lake, Boise City and The Dalles, reaching home about the first of October. About the "great scandal," he says: "The Wood-bullies and dirty dogs generally over here go with Tilton, because they want Beecher brought down to their own level."

SALEM MILLS.—The flouring mill is now running three butts, and early in the week hope to have all grinding. The ditch is not yet full, but hands are working on the dam, at the Santiam, under the efficient management of our old friend, S. R. Scott, and the water supply will soon be abundant. During the past two days teams have been coming in very lively with wheat. Thursday the receipts at the mill were 3,300 bushels, and yesterday about as much more.

INDEPENDENCE.—Mr. A. Asall, the proprietor of the Salem and Independence stage, informs us that there is now 29,000 bushels of grain stored in the warehouses at the latter place distributed as follows: McCord and Smith 11,000; Claggett, 9,000; and Butlers 6,000.

The Deaf-Mute school will open the third Tuesday in September.

From Silverton.

Silverton was visited by a spunky little shower last evening. The drops were large and scattering, kicking up the dust but doing no damage to the crops.

The coming State Fair begins to be the principal topic of conversation in these parts. Plums, Peaches and Apples, are ripe and delicious.

Thrashing machines are humming in almost every direction.

A visit down in Clackamas county last week convinced the writer that the farmers of that county are on the "rustle."

Mr. Enoch Skirvine of that county has a piece of stump land from which he has harvested four successive crops of wheat with the following results: First year, 45 bushels to the acre; second year, 30; third year 28; and this year 25. The ground had formerly been covered by a dense under-growth of fir. It is so stumpy that it is impossible to give the piece a thorough plowing. Can any one beat this "rustle" in Oregon, if they can would like to have them say so through the RECORD and WILLAMETTE FARMER.

Sketch of a Veteran.

Our fellow citizen, James Davidson, was born in Barren county, Kentucky, August 30, 1792, and to-morrow will be his eighty-second birthday. He was almost entirely self-educated, as were most of the men of that day, and his good use of the advantages he possessed is shown by the intelligence he has always manifested, and has secured for his children. Mr. Davidson was in the war with England 1812 and 1813, when scarce more than a boy, and was in the battle of the Thames, where Tecumseh was killed. He was married November 22d, 1817, and has had nine children, 4 boys and 5 girls. They lived in Nashville, Tennessee, from 1823 to 1829, in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1830, in Greene county, Illinois, from 1831 to '36, then moved to the Black Hawk purchase (Iowa) and lived in Burlington until 1847, when they came to Oregon. He settled at an early day in Salem and is now the oldest man living in our city, has represented us, in an early day, in Legislatures and having passed from the field of active effort, is represented here by his sons Albert and Thomas, who rank with our best citizens and enterprising agriculturists. We cannot place his other children, all of them, but, wherever found, the name is significant of true worth and reliable character. Mr. Davidson has lived a long life and the wife of his youth remains to him after more than half a century of companionship. Many of the older settlers of Oregon will read of their happy and prosperous old age with pleasure and unite with us in the hope that their last days will be their best days.

FROM MISSOURI.

From a Missouri Granger.—An Ecceles from Lawrence County, Missouri, to Oregon Promised—Room for thousands—Let them Come.

LAWRENCE CO., Mo., Aug. 1874.

MR. EDITOR: Through the kindness of my good friend, W. H. Cooper, Esq., of Bethel Oregon, I am receiving many numbers of your valuable paper, the appreciation of which prompts me to write this, perhaps uncalled for epistle. Be that as it may, I am constrained to say your paper compares more than favorably with older weeklies of the East; and as an exponent of the farmers' movement certainly has the ring of the true metal. May the proud State of Oregon soon stand with Iowa and Missouri in the front rank of Patrons of Husbandry.

There will be quite an exodus from this vicinity to Oregon next spring. Many go by rail, and some by horse, mule and ox teams. Your correspondent goes by mule and horse team, and hopes to form your acquaintance or at least become a permanent subscriber to the WILLAMETTE FARMER, as Polk county is his objective point. Yours, C.

A Correction.

ED. RECORD: Please correct the statement of the Statesman in regard to Mr. Joseph Cooke. That paper was misinformed. His sickness began with a pain and swelling in his right thumb, which rapidly spread over his hand and up to the elbow. The doctor pronounced it local inflammation of a very aggravated type. The pain was very acute, entirely preventing a moment's rest. Erysipelas has not made its appearance at any time. The hand now resembles inflammatory rheumatism but lacks some important features of that disease. The swelling after poulticing faithfully shows no signs of suppuration, but seems to be under control, and slowly disappearing. B. W. C.

Ash logs are being cut on Minto's Island for the Capital Lumbering Company, to fill a contract made with a Portland firm for cabinet lumber.

Sheriff T. C. Shaw has rented the Imbree property, on Capitol street, and will move his family into the city during the coming week.

S. Friedman has purchased the drug store opposite the Chemeketa. What will our enterprising townsmen invest in next?

A misnomer—Calling the warfare in Spain a "civil" one.

MONDAY, Aug. 31.

CHEMOKETA HOTEL.—As most of our readers are aware, from and after to-morrow morning the Chemeketa Hotel will be in charge of Mr. Thomas Smith. Mr. Smith comes to us from the Dalles with the reputation of knowing "how to keep hotel," and, starting in at an opportune time, he will have a good send off. Mr. Frank Boehow will have charge of the books and office. Mr. Peter Mann will manipulate the barber shop and bath rooms, while the genial and gentlemanly George Hughes will preside over and have in charge the saloon, liquor and wine department. Success to the new proprietor and attaches of the finest hotel in Oregon.

OREGON CHURCHMAN.—Rev. J. H. Babcock, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of this city has been appointed editor of the Oregon Churchman. In our opinion a better selection could not well be made. We are not informed whether the publication office will be removed or not. It ought to be.

DELEGATES.—The following persons have been elected to represent Silver Lodge, I. O. G. T., at the State Temperance Union, that convenes on the 10th inst. Orla Davonport, Edna J. Brown, A. A. Leonard and Hon. W. Cranston. Alternates, Susie Dudley, Fomes Wilber, L. P. Mescher and John Hicks.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We learn by the down train this afternoon that Wm. H. Riddle, an old settler in Douglas county, was thrown from his horse yesterday, the 30th, and seriously injured. His thigh was broken and it is feared that he was injured internally.

FOR THE EAST.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Toller, who reside three miles down the river on the Polk county side, will leave by the next steamer, to be absent about two months on a visit to the East.

ARRESTS.—Marshal J. A. Baker made but four arrests for the month of August. One for neglecting to abate a nuisance. Two for drunkenness and one for assault and battery.

Remarkably Fine Peaches.

There is no fruit more valuable for all purposes than the peach, and Oregon suffers a great deprivation in not being able to raise a delicious peach crop. It has been difficult to acclimate the peach, west of the Cascades, but there are favored spots in Eastern Oregon and in Washington, where the peach thrives and attains its greatest perfection. One of these places is on Hood river, which flows into the Columbia from Mount Hood. During the late summer and Fall delicious peaches are shipped down from Hood river and points above. One of the most successful fruit growers in all Oregon is W. P. Watson of Hood river, whose success in raising peaches has not merely extended to the imported varieties, but has attained the propagation of distinct and very valuable varieties from the seed.

Saturday evening a box of peaches reached our office from Mr. Watson's farm which gave the strongest proof of his success in that line. While the bulk of the lot were luscious rare-ripes, there were five lots of samples of varieties he has propagated himself, seedlings, which he says he has saved as worthy of cultivation, out of two hundred selected. He considers these five varieties worth perpetuating and describes them as follows: No. 1, is a rare peach, which ripens 10 or 12 days earlier than the early Crawford, is very free from fox, parts very freely with the pit, which makes it very valuable as a drying peach. He thinks nothing like it is known, for that purpose, and is confident that it can be grown to advantage, as trees only two years old bore this year 60 or 70 peaches of very large—in fact unusual size. Nos. 2, 3, and 4, are also very fine peaches and it strikes us that varieties which have originated in our soil and are therefore acclimated here are the most worthy of cultivation and may be expected to thrive better in this valley as well as East of the mountains. Mr. Watson intends to propagate these varieties, and can fill orders at a reasonable price. His address is Hood river, Oregon.

The Oregon City Enterprise of Friday says: Miss Georgia Graves, a young girl about 14 years of age, who resides with her parents on the Clackamas, step-daughter of Mr. P. M. Rineason, met with a sad accident last Sunday. She was riding on horseback in the orchard, and no one knew that there had any accident befallen her until the horse was observed in the orchard without a rider, when search was made for her and she was found lying on the ground insensible, in which condition she has remained until last Thursday, consequently we have been unable to learn positively how the accident occurred.

Eugene St. Clair who escaped from the Multnomah county jail a few days since has been recaptured near Holman river.

TUESDAY, Sept. 1.

TO LEAVE US.—We regret to learn that Mr. Sol Durbin, who has lived so long in this city, is making arrangements to move his residence to Eastern Oregon. Mr. D. has sold out his entire interest in the stable, building and stock to his brother, Mr. Dan Durbin, but still owns the corner store in the block, and his farm adjacent to the city. So we have the satisfaction of knowing that his entire interest in the Capital City will not be completely severed. He anticipates taking his family and starting about the first of the coming month to his new home.

A FIGHTED BATTLE.—Two young men had a pitched battle this morning, on State street, about the setting of some fire. One lit the other a welt on the side of the head with a monkey wrench which stunned him for the instant, but recovering he went for his adversary. A clinch and tussle, both down, when the bystanders interfered and separated the combatants.

DIED.—In this city August 21st Mr. Robert English of a disease of the stomach suppose to have been caused by the presence of a small leard which was thrown up a few days before his demise. Mr. E. has been in poor health for some years and for the past six months confined to his bed. Aged 36 years.

POSSESSION GIVEN.—On presentation of a perished deed of conveyance to P. G. Koch, Esq., Mrs. Eliza Shepherd received, yesterday, the sum of $1,000 gold coin, for her farm near Salem, sold by herself and husband to Martin Rowley, who takes possession this day.

ARRESTED.—Arnold Myers was arrested this forenoon for assault and battery upon the person of Lewis Ross, and brought before Recorder Coffey who fined him $20 and costs. The difficulty originated about some rout Myers claimed Ross owed him. Ross who appears to be an inoffensive German is badly beaten up.

ABOUT OVER.—Seaside excursions and mountain rambling, in a few more days will be over for the season. They have been abundant this year and as far as we can learn very pleasant to those participating in them.

SUPREME COURT.—Hon. B. F. Bonham this morning took his seat as Chief Justice of the State of Oregon, in place of Hon. W. W. Upton, whose term of office expired last evening.

A large number of our citizens are getting ready to attend the annual Conference of the M. E. Church South, which commences at Dixie on the 10th instant.

Old steambotmen predict that the Willamette river will have a good boating stage of water by the 15th of October as far up as Corvallis.

The address of Mr. John M. Gearin before the Supreme Court this morning in the Grand case is spoken of as a fine effort.

[For the Willamette Farmer.]

Red Hills in the Willamette.

BY A. F. DAVIDSON.

There is a great difference in the forms, altitude and constituents of the hills in the Willamette. The hills in Yamhill county are higher, often big, irregular, round, cone like, angular, the tops of a dark red, and the base a black and splendid mold. This rich mold, among and around the hills, is the best land in our country. And the hills of Yamhill county are valuable land for every purpose needed in agriculture, for fruits, or grazing.

There are prairies in Yamhill county—these are generally good, but, in some places not. The low, white lands, or swails, are not valuable, in the true sense of the term, like the blacker and more rolling lands. In winter they are too wet, in summer too dry; but, with ditching, manuring, and deep thorough culture may be reclaimed. And, when this is done, Yamhill will be a county we of the Willamette, may be proud. The high hills of Yamhill are free from late and early frosts, demonstrating the truths of meteorology, as delineated by Peltier, Henry, Warring, Barry, Downing, et al., that "high lands are best for fruit trees." The reasons why I have given in a former article.

The Yamhill river, its tributaries, the little branches, the groves of oak and fir, the springs, prairies, rolling lands, hills, buttes, Coast Chain, widely extended fields, the houses, farms, orchards, superior cattle, horses, sheep, swine, fowls, etc., etc., all present to the eye a scene transcendently beautiful.

Add to these the school-houses, churches, roads, mills, villages,—boys, girls, men, women, with faces smiling and energy beaming from their eyes, complete the red, the enchanting view, and the heart swells up, full of love for our home "in the hills" of the Willamette. More anon.
