WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—All charges against Secretary Seward, of Washington Territory, were dismissed to-day, and that officer was directed to return to his post of duty. According to findings of the Department of the Interior, the principal charge against him being the mismanagement of public printing, was clearly shown to have been without any foundation whatever in fact.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secretary Bristow has had under consideration for some time the question whether Federal office-holders should be allowed to become candidates for election to office while they hold their positions. The President has fully approved the views of the Secretary, which are that Federal office-holders should, under no circumstances during their terms of office, become candidates for elective positions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Postmaster-General to-day awarded to Phillip D. Moore the contract for carrying the mails during three and a half years from Jan. 1, 1875, between Tacoma, W. T., and Victoria, British Columbia, at $20,800 per annum. Other bids for this service were by Garfield and Jas. B. Robbins, at $22,900; and Lewis M. Starr, at $33,500. Optional bids were made for besting services of Olympia by Moore at $26,800; Garfield & Robbins, at $31,400; Starr, at $30,700; and D. M. Finch at $42,000. Starr, the present contractor, will stop services on the 31st inst. Moore is therefore requested to begin on the 1st proximo.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29.—This afternoon Gov. Kellogg, with Judge Atchoa, was going home in a cab, when Major Ira Burke stopped the cab near the corner of rampart and Canal streets, and was walking up to it when Kellogg extended his hand, which Burke took, and at the same time seized the Governor by the waist with the other hand, and attempted to pull him out of the cab, but the Governor being strong he quickly released it, and drawing a pistol fired at Burke, the ball grazing him. Burke then drew a revolver and fired three or four shots without effect, the cab driving off. Burke was arrested and taken to the station, but was released afterward at the request of Judge Atchoa, who was sent for, for that purpose by the Governor. The difficulty grew from a correspondence in a paper about naturalized citizens.

A Dayton special says the woods and fields between Union City, Greenville and Dalton are on fire in many places. Hundreds of acres are being covered by the flames. In the forest the flames have reached the tallest trees and present a terribly grand spectacle at night. Forest fires are also raging in the vicinity of Oxford, Logan, Crestline, New Lexington, Cambridge, Ironton, Bellefontaine, and Delaware, Rushville and Russell, Kentucky. There is a great scarcity of water at all these points.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The session of the Reichstag was opened to-day by the Emperor in person. The speech from the throne enumerates comprehensive measures to bring about uniformity in judicial procedure. The statement of this end the Emperor says will center on Fatherland a boon long enjoyed by other countries. Steps have also been taken to secure kindred uniformity of civil rights. It is true years will elapse before these reforms can be accomplished, but the Emperor rejoices to be able to-day to express the conviction that the hopes of the Government and the country will be realized in a not too distant future.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—The United States grand jury have found three true bills of indictment against Joseph McArdie, second mate on the ship Undansea, who is charged with maltreating Oscar Westgren, E. Kahn and E. J. Spender, seamen on the ship. The celebrated trout house Glozier died to-day of lung fever, and was buried at the grounds of the Bay District Fair track. VIRGINIA, Oct. 30.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon the Belcher air-shaft was discovered to be on fire. The fire started at the 850-foot level, and a few moments afterwards huge volumes of smoke poured out of the mouth of the shaft. Alarm was sounded by various fl. a bells and holing works' whistles, which brought out the fire department in full force, and hurried to the scene, followed by thousands of spectators, including women and children, fearing husbands and fathers who were working in the mine, had perished in the flames. The whole energies of the officers and men employed in the mine was directed to extinguishing the flames.

An immense stream of water was brought to bear on the fire through existing works hose half an hour after the commencement of the fire. The flames which had hitherto been smothering, burst up into the air with terrific violence a distance of several hundred feet, hurrying fragments of rock in every direction. At this stage the fire resembled a huge volcano. A few men who worked in the shaft when the fire broke out met with a narrow escape from death. The last who came up the shaft had to pass through the flames a portion of the way, and came near being suffocated. Timbers of the shaft will, in all probability, be consumed to the depth of 1,000 feet. The origin of the fire is unknown; it is supposed, however, it caught from a lighted candle left sticking in the timbers on the 850-foot level.

Both parties claim success in the New York elections which comes off to-day and the contest will undoubtedly be close. Arrests are being made in Louisiana for complicity in the Conshatka affair. Large supplies are being received for the grasshopper sufferers in Nebraska.

SAF. FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Ten men were injured by fire in the Belcher mine yesterday. The mine proper is reported not damaged, and work will be resumed immediately. The men who were burned were injured in the 1,000 foot level while endeavoring to erect a bulkhead to intercept the progress of the flames. Timbers burning above them caused a cave which created a draft, and they were unable to escape from the fire before receiving serious injury.

A horrible murder was perpetrated this morning on Virginia street, by a negro named Louis Berry, aged about 32 years. He went to the room where his father, Isaac Berry, was lying in bed asleep, and without a moment's warning, furiously assailed him with a hatchet, cutting his head literally in pieces. He made no effort to escape, and is in jail. He talks very coolly about the deed. Says that his father groaned several times and in order to end his suffering he at once thrust a large knife into his neck to the hilt and then he died. He talks and acts like a crazy man. He says he is to be tried in his cell and will die by a knife and hatchet as his father died. The murdered man was over seventy years of age.

Fullerton won the first heat—time 2:10—Occident half a length behind. The second heat was won by Occident, time 2:18. The third heat was also won by Occident, time 2:22. The result was received by the immense crowd with the wildest enthusiasm. Occident won the last heat by about three lengths, Fullerton breaking badly at the start.

RENO, Nov. 1.—The passenger train of the V. and T. R. R., which arrives here at midnight, met with a serious disaster last night. As it was coming in at a full rate of speed, it struck two flat cars about a mile south of town, which had run down a side track and partially across the main track, completely demolishing the two flats and the engine and tender. The engineer, Tom Clark, and fireman, John Webster, received very painful but not serious cuts and bruises. The passengers were jostled about considerably, but fortunately none of them were hurt.

So far the weather has been good, but little rain and no frost, but every body is looking for a "cow killer" this winter.

Those Slaughtered Bills.

Certain bills which passed the two houses of the Legislative Assembly and were signed by the Speaker of the House, failed because the Senate was adjourned before the bills were returned to the Senate from the House. It is plainly charged here in Salem that Dolph, representing the railroad interests, was anxious for the adjournment, and that Col. Cornelius, President of Senate, sympathized with the same feeling, and therefore suspicion attaches that it was intentional to defeat a certain measure in that way. We have no desire to encourage these charges and prefer to show a way out of the difficulty, which seems easy enough to do.

The Constitution of Oregon says: "A majority of all the members elected to each House to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills or joint resolutions, so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective houses." There is not a word in the Constitution about signing the bills before adjournment, for we have quoted above all the Constitution has to say on the subject. We happen to remember that Col. Cornelius did sign H. B. 121 after the adjournment, and we submit that he could and should have signed all the bill that were properly passed and enrolled and should still sign them. Those who are interested in the passage of these bills would probably insure their success by seeing them presented to him, as he could not refuse to sign them any more than the one he did sign at the request of Col. C. A. Reed.

The Saturday Review sees nothing in Mr. and Mrs. Tilton but a couple of weak, commonplace creatures, gifted with a deceased literary faculty and fondness for big words, who are perpetually wishing themselves in a state of rational frenzy.

AGORA GOATS. Landrum and Rogers, of California, intend to bring overland, to Oregon, next year, about three thousand goats, ranging from half to pure-bred Angora. They say the pastures are becoming short with them, and they intend to start their flock overland and arrive in this valley with what remain unsold, during the month of August. They have some orders to fill, expect to sell some of the flock, and have numerous offers from men who wish to clear brush land to keep goats for merely the good they can do in that direction. Mr. Landrum says this country needs the goats to clear off its brush, as they will kill all the sprouts of ground where the brush has been chopped, which sheep will not do. There is a great extent of good land in this valley now covered with brush, and the cost of clearing it under ordinary circumstances is fully what the land is worth when cleared. Sheep will not do nearly so well as goats for keeping down sprouts, and it is said goats will soon destroy grubs that have been cut down and leave the land in the best possible condition, and they will also eat the sour grass that sometimes comes up in cleared land, which no other animal will touch. Goats will eat half browse if they have their choice, while sheep will scarcely touch browse if they can get grass. The next question is: What can be made off goats while keeping them? It is claimed that they are very prolific, and that their meat is sold in San Francisco as mutton without any discrimination against it, and that the eating public pay the price and can't tell the difference. Half-breed goats yield no fleece, and three-quarter bred only yield one pound to one pound and a half, valued at forty cents per pound. Seven-eighths pure blood average about two pounds and a half, and the mohair is said to be worth sixty-five to eighty cents a pound. When nearly pure blood, ewes will average three pounds to the fleece, and males five pounds and over, and the mohair is worth sixty-five to eighty cents per pound. Pure Angoras and best selections from high grades yield fleeces worth one dollar to one dollar and twenty cents per pound. These facts we receive from Mr. Landrum, who thinks enough of the Angora goat to devote himself entirely to their culture. He says the market for mohair is reliable, and the shipments from California annually increase in bulk and value.
