of Dec. 25th: W. Cowles, a shepherd in the employ of G. W. Smith, of Goldendale, was thrown and trampled upon by a vicious horse, sus-taining injuries from which he died in a short time. He had just been married to a vooug lady of Goldendale. During the high water at Goldendale a family was rescued from their residence, with a raft constructed by some of the neighbors for the purpose,-the Klickitat creek having raised so high within so short a time z to flood the dwelling almost una-wares. The Paris Scutinelle ds Midi gives some de-tails respecting the loss of the French man-of-war Magenta. The explosion of the ves-sel was followed by showers of burning wood [aper, clothes and iron, which fell into the streets of Touloa. One of the plates of the ship fell on to the pavement, and entered it some 18 inches. Not a single jet of gas was left burning in the town. The windows of the shops, cafes and private houses slong the quays were all broken, while doors and souters were bursted open. There is scarce-iy a house in the town which has not been more or less indured. It is expected that the sizteen gums of the ship may besaved. Im-mediately after blowing up the Magenta sank, and at present the sump of the miz zenmast appears above water. It is con-firmed that no lives have been lost. There will be a very strict inquiry as to the origin of the disaster, and the ceptain of the Maz-enta will probably have to appear before a cont-marcial. The Paris Scutinelle du Midi gives some de-

The material resources of Southern Oregon The material resources of Source's Oregon are almost unlimited, but owing to the luck of capital many of them remain compara-ratively undeveloped. Among the valua-ble items that have not been developed is that of marble. Marble quaries are found in Southern and Western Oregon, the principal of which have been found in Jackson and Locophing connelies and are said to be valuof which have been found in Jackson sud Josephine counties, and are said to be valu-able for building purposes. Owing to the expense of exporting it, the marble cannot be utilized except in the section in which it is found. From what we learn the marble has a fine grain, and is succeptible to a high polish. It has a white lustre, slightly cloud-ed with what appears to be oxide of iron, which adds much to the beauty of its finish. Www Blake & Co. of Boston, nave just

The Hon, J. G. Swan, Centennial Commis sioner for Indian curiosities of the Northwest coast, has had brought down from Alaska, a carved column 30 feet long and about 4x4 feet. It has carved on it immense heads of Iudians in various positures. It is now being boxed up for shipment to Washington. Mr. Swan is making valuable selections for the Centennial.

A man pamed James Newman was drown-ed at Port Ludlow a few nights since. He had been down to the wharf to buy apples from a bostman, when, in returning he fell from a bostman, when, in returning he fell off and was lost. He lived in Port Ludlow where he worked in a sawmill, and leaves a wife and three children.

The Tacoma saw mill has been running night and day for nearly a month past, and cutting about one hundred and six and one hundred and eight thousand feet of lumber every 24 hours.
