DECISIONS OF THE G. W. C. T.

1. If a member refuses to pay a fine imposed upon him for disobeying any of the regulations of the Lodge, it should be charged to him on the books of the W.F.S. and it then becomes a due, for nonpayment of which the password may be withheld. Or he may be tried for contempt in not pay-ing the fine immediately, and suspended or expelled as the case may require.

Letter from Bro. Dunbar.

HUBBARD, Sept. 17, 1876.

ED. FARMER: I was much surprised and as greatly rejoiced upon visiting Marion Lodge No. 43 (located here) to find it one of the most prosperous and well conducted Lodges in the State. Truly the temperance people in and around this pleasant little village are doing a noble work. I am told that the meetings have been largely attended every Saturday night, notwithstanding the busy harvest season and that recruits are being constantly received. Not a meeting so far this term without an initiation.

That gallant champion of temperance, Rev. G. W. Dimick, is filling the chair of W.C.T., this term. Sister Hovenden is W. V.T. and Bro. Grim, W.S. All the officers are prompt and efficient. Bro. S. M. Hatch is Lodge Deputy, and is an active earnest worker, and to his energy is due much of the prosperity of the Lodge.

Among other active members I would mention the names of Sisters Jones, Sarah Garrett, Gleason, Scott, Harris, Russell and Leslie with Bros. Russel, Henstis, Thomas Dimick, Grim and many others whose names I have not space to mention. To-day we held a public temperance meeting in the M. E. Church which was well attended.

In haste. W. R. DUNBAR.

W. R. Dunbar, G.W.C.T., visited Buena Vista on the evening of the 12 inst., and installed the officers of Morning Star Lodge No. 41 I.O.G.T. J. W. Hobart, W.C.T.; Maggie Smith, W.V.T.; G.S. Death of Mrs. Downing.

We regret to have to record the death of Mrs. Temperance Downing, wife of Hon. John Downing and sister of G. W. Hunt, of the Waldo Hills, who died at her home on Saturday evening Sept. 16, and was buried Monday afternoon Sept. 18. It is true that death came as a welcomerelief from protracted disease and great suffering: she was armed with an earnest faith in her Redeemer that robbed death of all his terrors and went to her death with a calm consciousness that showed perfect trust, and dying gave her last adieus to each loved one as if she was going on a not distant journey. She possessed those qualities that made her life valuable to all who knew her and endeared her greatly to those who knew her best, and leaves a pleasant memory behind her attested by the multitude of those who paid the last mournful honors to the friend they had lost. The family have the sympathy of all who know them in this sad hour of their bereavement.

Since writing the foregoing notice of Mrs.
Downing's death, we have received the following obituary notice.

DIED.—Of cancer, Sept. 16, 1876, Temperance Downing, wife of John Downing. The deceased united with the Christian church four years ago; she calmly stepped under the yoke and joined the happy band of christian workers and has ever lived true to her sacred promise in walking close to her Savior in all that was true, noble and pure, thus recording one more examplary life in the proper stock being cased in with other wood to prevent cracking by the san.

her sacred promise in walking close to her Savior in all that was true, noble and pure, thus recording one more exemplary life in truth, virtue and piety.

A short time before she died she called her family to her bedside and one by one she bade them good bye. No one had a larger share of friends. No one was more worthy of friendship. While her death is not a surprise, or shock, it will be none the less sincerely mourned here where she was so well known. A consistent Christian and devoted mother has passed from the pains and troubles of this life to enter upon the bright inheritance prepared for the people of and troubles of this life to enter upon the bright inheritance prepared for the people of God. It is due to her that we ever pay our highest and purest tributes in memory of her never tiring devotion, tenderness of heart, steadiness of mind and purity of her whole being as a loving wife and kind sister.

Death of an Old Citizen.

We recorded some weeks since the fact that Mr. James Davidson had met with a fall when attempting to rise from a lounge, and received injuries of a dangerous character. Mr. Davidson was 85 years of age and a very heavy person, and being very feeble, at his great age such injuries could not but result fatally, and his death has been looked for for weeks past. The deceased was one of our early pioneers who settled near this city many years ago and has been well known and much respected. He was the father of our esteemed correspondent Albert F. Davidson, and of T. L. Davidson, who lives on the old homestead, one mile south of town. As one of the surviving soldiers of the war of 1812, Mr. Davidson had a peculiar claim on his country, and the more so as the number of those old sol liers is growing so small that soon they must all be numbered with the
