

I. O. G. T.

Correspondence from the G. W. C. T.

PHOENIX, OR., May 21, 1877.

ED. FARMER: This evening I addressed a large audience here in the Colver Hall after which I reorganized Eden Lodge No. 197, with a large membership.

W. S. Gore, J. C. T.; Bella Rose, V. T.; J. M. Hoxie, S.; L. A. Rose, P. W. C. T.; and Hannah D. Jones, Lodge Deputy.

The lodge is composed of good material and will give the proposed distillery at this place a lively fight.

The Brothers and Sisters say "we will win" and I believe they will.

Weather continues cold and cloudy. Rogue River folks don't know what to make of it. Grass is good and stock fat. Times looking up. Yours in F. H. and C.

ROSEBURG, May 28, 1877.

On the night of the 25th inst. at the hour of midnight I took my seat along side the driver of the north bound coach of the O. & C. Stage Co., and sped away over a pretty good road for Roseburg, at which place we drew rein in front of the postoffice at three o'clock and thirty minutes a. m. Through the kindness of friends on Deer Creek I was conveyed in a buggy on Saturday to the hospitable home of Mr. N. Cockerleese, near Dodson's Butte, where I had a real enjoyable visit with the family.

The Lodge is doing a good work and its members have the grit necessary to "hold the fort." On yesterday a public temperance meeting was held, which was well attended. The Sabbath School just organized gives promise of being an interesting one.

W. R. DUNBAR.

DECISIONS

By the Grand Worthy Chief.

- 1. If a Degree member ceases to be a member of the Order in a Subordinate Lodge by expulsion, or resignation, he thereby ceases to be a member of the Degree Lodge or the Grand Lodge and can regain those honors only as though he had never been a member.

ALBANY, May 21, 1877.

The following are the names of the officers installed at Onward Lodge No. 229, I. O. G. T., for the ensuing term, viz: Geo. Geisendorfer, C. T.; M. Chambers, V. T.; E. Conn, S.; J. W. Propst, F. S.; Emma Geisendorfer, T.; Maggie Geisendorfer, Chap.; Ralph Froman, M.; N. C. Conn, I. G.; Joshua Conn, O. G.; F. A. Burkhardt, P. W. C. T.

The G. W. C. T. on the 19th inst. visited Table Rock Lodge No. 294, and reports it doing a good work.

W. R. Dunbar, G. W. C. T., writes from Myrtle Creek, Oregon, under date of May 25th as follows: "I have this night visited the lodge here, and found it doing a very good work. It has made a gain of eight members during the past term. The members of this lodge are entitled to great praise for their devotion to the cause. They have had much opposition to contend with."

Rogue River Lodge No. 275, I. O. G. T. The following officers have been elected for the quarter commencing May 1st and ending August 1st: Thos. Carr, C. T.; C. S. Birdsey, V. T.; Lizzie Schieffelin, T.; Addie Birdsey, C.; J. T. Robins, S.; W. J. Savage, F. S.; Annie Savage, A. S.; B. W. Huston, M.; Charlotte Schieffelin, D. M.; C. M. White, I. G.; Dick Schieffelin, O. G.; Affie W. Colvig, R. H. S.; Ione Bailey, L. H. S. Our lodge is in a fine working order. Initiated last quarter ten members. G. W. C. T. Dunbar visited us last Friday evening and delivered a public address to a large and appreciative audience.

ROCK HILL, OR., May 18, 1877.

ED. FARMER: At a regular meeting of Center Lodge No. 251, I. O. G. T., held May 12th, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: V. T., Emma Parrish; W. S. G. F. Sylvester; F. S., Milton Miller; T. Maggie Barnett; M. Thos. Zoonsman; Chap., C. W. Richardson; I. G., D. W. Barnett; O. G., Henry Ingram; R. H. S., Ella Zoonsman; L. H. S., Viola Temple; D. M., Jerome Coyler; A. S., Genervia Pickens. Our Lodge is in a prosperous condition at present, and we think that the members are in earnest in the temperance cause, and may they still be until king alcohol is driven from our midst.

ED. FARMER: The following officers have been chosen by Valfontis Lodge No. 74, I. O. G. T., and have been duly installed May 12, 1877: S. S. Gimble, C. T.; Miss Ida Higgins, R. H. S.; Miss Alta Peer, L. H. S.; Miss Susan A. Higgins, W. V.; W. A. Henry, F. S.; Samuel Phillips, A. S.; Chas. Phillips, F. S.; Ella Higgins, T.; Hannah Phillips, M.; Lutsius Daine, D. M.; Sallie Cavitt, I. G.; G. W. Cavitt, O. G.; J. K. P. Cavitt, W. C. and L. D. This lodge has fought the whiskey traffic ten years, and proposes to fight it out on this line until our good cause has won the race. Yours fraternally, S. S. G.

Delegates to Grand Lodge of I. O. G. T. have been chosen as follows in addition to those already reported: Rogue River, No. 275—E. L. Schieffelin, W. H. Savage, with Thos. Haymond, J. T. Robinson, as alternates. Myrtle, No. 229—James Adams, E. A. Buick. Deer Creek, No. 281—L. K. Hedgpeth, W. H. Chappell, with J. S. Cockerleese alternate. Monawk, No. 253—W. H. Parsons. Looking Glass, No. 108—A. A. Mathews and Dr. King. Pacific, No. 179—Harris Hazleton, alternate.

DRUNKENNESS IN ENGLAND.—A parliamentary return made last week shows the number of arrests for drunkenness, in one year, to be 201,880, of which 47,732 were women. Lord Coleridge has recently made remarks similar to those of Justice Manisty from the Bench. He contrasted the increase of drunkenness among the working classes and this is, indeed, a notable phenomenon. A gentleman of my acquaintance says that he remembers his grandfather saying to him: "Avoid much drink, my boy; for many years I limited myself to my pint of port a day"—"A quantity," my friend added, "which, small as we thought it, would put me in my grave in a year." Still, great as is the improvement, Lord Coleridge would probably remark it less if his associates were more with the aristocratic circle than with the literary and religious people, whose society he likes best. A case is at this moment being heard in the Criminal Court of London, which discloses the fact that it is still possible for men of high position to pass their time drinking nearly all day and all night going from delirium to delirium, to death and crime. It was while awaiting trial for the crime now detailed that Sir Edward Cunyng-hame, baronet, was lately found dying in prison. He was taken to a small hotel, where he died—ending an old and once noble family in shame. He and Matthew Wetherall and Charles DeChastelaine used to meet with William Le Hunt Doyle for drinking. On one of their bouts the four consumed eight bottles of champagne, eight large glasses of brandy, thirty-one small glasses of the same, three tumblers of beer, and fifteen of lemonade. Doyle had delirium tremens three times, and on one occasion while drunk was induced by the others to put his signature to a paper conveying a large sum of money to themselves. Sentence will be given to-day on the living gentlemanly swindlers, and on the once fair fame of (haply) the last of the Cunyng-hames.—London Letter.

At a regular meeting of Lebanon Grange No. 21, P. of H., following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That in the death Sister Bell her husband has lost a kind and loving wife, Lebanon Grange one of its most faithful members, and the Patrons of Husbandry one of their warmest supporters and admirers.

Resolved, That in the loss of Sister Bell our Grange has only temporarily lost a member, and although we shall miss her in our councils, we realize that our loss has been her gain.

Resolved, That in this great bereavement the family of our deceased Sister has our most heartfelt sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the friends of deceased and the WILLAMETTE FARMER, Albany Register and Democrat, with request to publish the same.

The United States Economist says that "the first of May ushered in an event of greater moment to many housekeepers than the annual moving, namely, the expiration of the most important patent which enabled the makers of sewing machines to keep up their exorbitant prices. For years past the large corporations have bought up inventors' patents and concentrated their rights, thus enabling themselves to restrict any such general manufacturers as might interfere with their practical monopoly. The grand central patented feature, the needle with an eye near its point, was one to which all the makers paid royalty, and for self protection they combined to drive dangerous rivals out of the field. The last of these patents in which all the varieties of standard sewing machines had a common interest was the four-motion feed, and four months past the combined corporations have been working for a renewal of the patent, but renewal has been denied. Already the principal companies have begun to offer their machines at twenty-five per cent. discount for cash, and ere long the Howe, Singer, and other machines will be extensively made by other companies than those that have had the monopoly, and machines that cost only ten dollars each will no longer sell for sixty.

Almost every boat, says the Dalles Tribune, brings up immigrants. Some go up the river, some go across into Wasco and Umatilla counties. To see immigrants camping out in the Dalles is no unusual thing at present.
