HONEY.

Pitcher's Castoria is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teething and irritable children. BY TELEGRAPH.

Boston, June 12.—Gov. Rice has received assurance that President Hayes will reach Boston on the 25th inst. and will remain in the city two days, attending Harvard College Commencement Wednesday, and visiting Providence Thursday.

Washington, June 12.—President Hayes, although in former years predisposed, like many other hard money men, to adhere to the prevalent doctrine of financial writers in favor of a single gold standard, has materially changed his views regarding the wisdom and propriety of the act of 1873, which demoted the old legal tender dollar. He is now in favor of its re-issuance and of the re-adoption of the double standard of gold and silver.

New York, June 13.—Ex Gov. Hendricks called to-day in the steamship Seydlitz for Europe. He was accompanied to the ship by a large crowd of friends, who wished him bon voyage.

The World's Washington says United States district attorney Howard of Utah left for Salt Lake after a full understanding with the President and attorney general, and with assurance that he will be supported in the prosecution of Brigham Young on any competent evidence impugning him in the Mountain Meadows massacre. He has also been directed to prosecute the Prophet on a charge of misappropriation of government funds while he was Indian agent, provided the alleged crime is not barred.

Sau Francisco, June 13.—Crop and weather reports from all principal points in the State show no material variation from previous reports. Harvesting has commenced in many localities in the northern portion of the State. The recent spell of hot weather has occasioned but trifling damage. A slight shrinkage reported in some localities, and in some places the north wind which prevailed shattered the grain a little, but the main effect of the heat seems to have been to hasten ripening a week or more. The extreme heat is now over, though it is still very warm in many interior valleys.

Boston, June 14.—Indications are that President Hayes will receive as warm a welcome as was ever accorded a President. Great preparations are being made.

Atlanta, June 14.—The majority for Convention 10,000; northern counties almost unanimous for it.

New York, June 14.—The Herald's cable says that Bismarck has resigned as minister to Germany.

Oaaha, June 14.—The States and United States entomologists, after a careful examination, express a confident belief that the grasshoppers have nearly ceased to be a source of danger in Nebraska.

Washington, June 14.—Gen. O. A. Hendricks, well known in years past in connection with the winter expedition to Cuba, died to-day, aged 62 years.

June 15.—Senator James is a convert to Gen. Butler's views, and is now as strongly in favor of paper money as he was three years ago in favor of gold and silver exclusively.

The World's Washington special says the well known philanthropist, W. W. Corcoran, distributed $20,000 among poor men and women who were recently thrown out of employment by reason of reduction in the departments.

West Point, June 14.—Nearly 5,000 people witnessed the closing exercises of the graduating class to-day. The first address was delivered by Prof. Thompson, president of the board of visitors, followed by General Hancock.

Little Rock, June 13.—One half the cotton crop along the river may be considered destroyed.

Newburg, N. Y., June 13.—Seventeen-year locusts are here in abundance. They are so numerous that they will be dangerous in destroying the crops.

The World's Washington special says: The President leaves for Boston on the 25th. He will go to New Hampshire, and visit Providence. Soon after the 4th of July he goes to Richmond and Petersburg, and perhaps to White Sulphur Springs. Some time during the summer he will go to Vermont.

New York, June 15.—Townsend, Tweed's counsel, notifies the World newspaper that Tweed's confession will be furnished the press next Tuesday.

The Herald's leader says that Tilden's recent speech, bewailing his loss of the Presidential chair, not only killed himself but the Democratic party.

The movement to make Hendricks the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency is gathering considerable head. It is declared that Tilden's friends pledged Hendricks the next nomination before he agreed to accept the second place at the St. Louis convention.

Tweed's friends are much discouraged by the failure of the authorities to accept his State's evidence against ring associates, and see his free. There is reason to believe that the failure was caused by counter evidence showing that much of Tweed's proffered testimony would be overthrown by rebutting evidence; also that he transferred to Europe the proceeds of a large amount of property which is still within his control and ought to be surrendered to the city from which it was plundered.

Buffalo, June 15.—The Miller's National Association appointed a committee to inquire into the expediency of establishing a college under the direction of the association for the education of millers.

Chicago, June 15.—The Journal's Washington special says Chief Justice Waite has just returned from South Carolina. He says during three weeks' stay in Charleston not a single social call was made on him or his daughter by the old ex rebel element. He was treated more like an outcast and criminal than a gentleman. Judge Waite's friends here are indignant and the President and cabinet seem greatly astonished. He was treated with marked respect by the citizens of Greensboro and Raleigh, North Carolina, where he held court.

Washington, June 15.—The Star says it is not true that Corcoran has given $20,000 or any amount to be distributed among discharged government employees.

Rev. Abbott Martin returned from a conference with Sitting Bull, held at the latter's camp in the British Possessions May 28th. Sitting Bull was courteous. He told the same old story of his wrongs. The conclusion reached was that Sitting Bull would not return to the United States, but would remain in the British Possessions. He could not bear the idea of surrendering his possessions, his family, arms, etc., and besides feared for his personal safety. The Indians lost all their lodges and many arms and supplies while crossing the river this spring, and are in bad condition to continue the war. There are 320 lodges, or about 1,000 warriors. The British officers sympathized with them and assured them of protection during good behavior.

Senator Conkline has sailed for Europe. A detachment of Mexican troops were pursued the other day to our side of the Rio Grande and attacked on our soil by Mexican revolutionists.

The President is supposed to regard with favor the re-issuance of silver.

Newburgh, June 10.—John C. Adam, postmaster of this city, is president of the common council. He announces his resignation of the latter position owing to an intimation from the postoffice department that the administration does not wish its officials to hold municipal positions.

The board of pardons, after a session lasting from 9 o'clock Saturday evening until 12:30 a. m. Sunday, refused to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment in the case of the convicted Molly Maguire, sentenced to be hanged Thursday next, at Lexington, June 16.—The trotting races commence Tuesday and continue five days. They promise to be the most successful ever held in Kentucky. The purses have all been filled, and fast time is expected.

FOREIGN.

New York, June 12.—Hobart Pasha has been ordered to bombard Odessa. London, June 12.—There is almost an utter absence of news of interest either from Asia, the Danube or Montenegro. The two armies on the Danube are watching one another, and cannonading is frequent, but the Russians have not disclosed their intentions.

The Lord Mayor and wife will accompany Gen. Grant to the Crystal Palace on Friday.

Chicago, June 13.—The Tribune's Bureau correspondent has such a private letter from a high Russian official at St. Petersburg earnestly and with great bitterness against the idea that the Czar will make peace and evacuate Roumania. He considers it an intolerable insult, and adds that the Czar would be left the expelled, personally informed the writer that Russia's new era of conquest had begun.

The Tribune's London special says the speech of Derby and Salisbury last night caused much interest. Derby's views can hardly be gathered from his speech, but his feelings are doubtless inclined rather toward peace than war. The war party's support and constant argument is that England cannot remain quiet, now that her commercial interests are threatened. A division of the country into two new parties on war issues is not improbable. The Radicals present a determined front and are outspoken, but cannot prevail in Parliament at present.

London, June 14.—Probably no attempt will be made to cross the Danube before July. This supposition is strengthened by the present state of the Danube.

Constantinople, June 13.—An official telegram of June 13 says Sultan Pasha has forced the entrance of DUBA pass, after a sanguinary battle, and is advancing on Nisic. Montenegrins are in full retreat. Sultan's junction with 150,000 other Turkish corps is expected in a few days.

Vienna, June 13.—Sultan Pasha started yesterday to re-visit Nisic for a year.

Vienna, June 13.—Certain signs point to Thursday or Friday next as the date for crossing the Danube. Just before that operation takes place it is expected the Czar will issue a manifesto.

Impressions to the Russian telegraphic agency seem that Russia is desirous to re-open the route to India, and consequently the neutrality of the Suez canal and Egypt.

Bucharest via Erzeroum, June 14.—The Russian made a determined attack on Kara. The fighting lasted during Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The Muscovite troops were repulsed with great slaughter.

St. Petersburg, June 14.—Turks are attempting to burn counter approaches to Kara, and are constantly making sorties. The Russian batteries have been very successful in frustrating all these attempts. Sorties were yesterday repulsed with a heavy loss to the Turks. Several Russians were slightly wounded.

Bucharest, June 15.—On the Russian army any foresting of peace would fall with a thrill passing through the world's brain. There can be no question that the army regards Constantinople as the only goal that can content it.

The Czar will return to Russia immediately after he has witnessed and participated in the passage of the Danube.

Erzeroum, June 15.—Sickness, especially typhus, causes greater gaps in the Turkish ranks in Asia than the volunteers are able to fill up. During the last six months at least 100,000 men have died in the hospitals.

London, June 15.—A correspondent writes that the idea among the Russians is that half-way measures will not suffice. Bulgaria must become as autonomous as Servia and Roumania.

Erzeroum, June 15.—Muhktar Pasha's position at Zewin is believed to be unassailable. The Turkish right confronts the Russian left in an open district of Akshirk. An engagement is imminent. The Russian detachment, the center of which occupied Soghauia, has fallen back in the direction of Kara.

Chicago, June 15.—The later Ocean's London special says the English cabinet is said to be divided on Gortschakoff's reply. Derby and Salisbury think Russia's assurances are a delusion. Bismarck is a subtler man on some points, and declares further diplomatic correspondence necessary before England can absolutely define her position.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—It is officially announced that Muhktar Pasha has been reinforced by twenty battalions from Trebizonde.

London, June 15.—The Earl of Derby, Stuart Northcote, Lord Aberdeen, Viscount Cardwell, Lord Tenterden and Right Hon. Mr. Forster, with their wives, have given notice of their intention to be present at Guild Hall to-day when the freedom of the city will be presented to Gen. Grant.

Lady Sterling Maxwell, better known as Hon. Mrs. Norton, is dead.

London, June 17.—Special dispatches from Berlin say that Sureda's sitting of the chamber of deputies was one of the most violent ever witnessed. The Times correspondent says it extended over five hours and a half. During that time there was one prolonged roar. At one time, when Gambetta said that the power was in suspicious hands, the minister of public works sprang with a threatening air towards the tribune, and the members of the Right and Left dashed forward. Ushers had to separate the hostile armies. It really seemed as if there would be a hand to hand fight. All instinctively waited for the reports of revolvers.

London, June 16.—Count Schouvaloff is to assure England that the route to India by way of the Suez Canal and the Persian Gulf is free; that treaties will be observed, and that the question of the Bosphorus and Dardanelles will be settled at the end of the war by a European congress. Beyond these points no engagement has been undertaken.

It is reported that Prince Gortschakoff in his reply to England disavowing any wish on the part of Russia to take possession of Constantinople, declares that the city ought to belong to none of the European powers.

The Russians have definitely determined to make the passage of the Danube between Psketo and Turner Magurell. Preparations indicate early operations.

A dispatch dated Shumla, June 12th, says the attempt to cross is hourly expected. There is great excitement at Routschuk and Shumla. There is every appearance of desperate fighting shortly.

Specials say that the Porte has concluded, as a measure of safety, to occupy the principal positions in Servia.

necessitate a new election of deputies by the people.

It is thought many Turkish officers are bought up by Russian gold.

Muhktar Pasha has improved his position and will try to relieve Kara. It is said the Russians have suffered terrible losses before Kara. Nisic has been re-occupied after tremendous carnage.

The Egyptian contingent has arrived at Constantinople. The relations between Russia and England are most critical.

Gen. Grant in England.

London, June 15.—Gen. Grant has written the Mayor of Southampton that previous engagements prevent his accepting the invitation to the hospitalities of that city at present, but he hoped to visit the town later in the summer. A special performance will be given at the Royal Italian Opera, Covent Garden, June 22d, in honor of Gen. Grant. Gen. Grant was not present at Oxford commencement. The students while waiting for recitation of various prize poems and other portions of the programme, have a custom of cheering or hissing the names of public characters. All papers this morning remark peculiarly hearty reception evoked by Gen. Grant's name which was one of the first proposed.

The following is the revised programme of Grant's movements: Friday morning he receives the freedom of the city of London, Friday afternoon attends the fête at Crystal Palace, Saturday General and Mrs. Grant dine with the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise at Kensington Palace; Monday morning breakfast with Geo. W. Smalley, Monday evening dinner at Reform Club, Lord Granville presiding; Tuesday attend the fête at Alexandra Palace; Wednesday dine with Lord Ripon; Thursday meet Prince of Wales at a dinner given at the American embassy; Friday morning he takes up his residence with Consul General Badeau; Friday evening attends state performance at the opera and subsequently the Queen's ball given at Buckingham Palace.

Picnic at Aurora.

[From Daily Record, June 18.] By nine a. m., yesterday, the platform of the depot was thronged by a large number of our citizens who were anxiously expecting the arrival of the excursion train which was to convey them to the picnic at Aurora.

Punctually at the appointed time, the whistle was heard, and the long train of cars steamed up to the platform. "All aboard," was the cry; the ladies were ushered into the passenger car by that model Conductor John Belliger, the males scrambled into the freight cars which had been fitted up with plank seats and off they went.

About two hundred passengers started from Salem, so on the cars rattled past Brooks, French Prairie, Gervais, Woodburn and Hubbard, and the distant sound of music announced that Aurora was near.

On reaching it the excursionists were received by the Aurora Band and a sort of semi-military company, organized for the occasion. At their head stood John Wagoner, arrayed with the insignia and gold-headed cane of Dr. Kell who was not present, and in a few moments the train from Portland came in sight, all adorned with greenery saluted with their sabers, the band struck up an inspiring air, and the "Turners," with the passengers from Portland and other towns, poured out of the cars, and with their banners, carried aloft, assembled close to the track.

The procession was soon formed, and with the band in front, filed along through Dr. Kell's MAGNIFICENT ORCHARD, and vineyard, and then into the park where they halted and were briefly addressed by Fred Eiler of Portland, and then, with three cheers for the Aurora Band, and three more for the Turn Veterans, the pleasure seekers dispersed all through the beautiful grounds. Various sheds had been erected, and from them lager-beer, soda-water, ice-cream, pies, were dispensed to the multitude. There was also a temporary restaurant which furnished tea, coffee, and other light refreshments, whilst those who wished for something more substantial were accommodated at the far famed Aurora Restaurant, kept by Wm. Kell & Company, where about six hundred persons were entertained during the day. Then there was a "Schutzenfest," where a stout Teuton hired out toy rifles at five cents a shot, and the ambitious youths tried to hit a white spot in a target twenty yards off. If the center happened to be hit a gaudily painted chap was supposed to jump up, but he was apparently tired out and did not jump worth a cent. During the afternoon old Dr. Kiel himself, appeared, took charge of the military company and put them through their exercises with great vim, considering his advanced age, much to the edification of those present.

There was also some very excellent music by Messrs. W. Linderman, J. Quant, W. H. Dalig, C. L. Lonberger, L. Levi, D. Zinzle, and F. Elias, who sang several hunting and forest songs in first rate style. During the latter part of the day Turners, visitors and frauleins whirled around in the Valse or glided gracefully through the quadrille, but their pleasure and comfort would have been greatly increased if proper dancing-floors had been provided. Dancing on the "GREEN SWARD"

Reads very nicely, but when the "sward" is dust and gravel the actual experience is not so delicious. In various parts of the Park the standard of the Turners, the old German Confederation and the more modern Empire were placed in charge of sentinels belonging to the nameless military organization and the drums beat and guard was relieved at due intervals. At one time the company was led by the old teacher of the settlement, Professor Kogal, who had crossed the plains with Dr. Kell in '55 and remained ever since with his family.

About 5 o'clock the excursionists began to return to Aurora and then the Restaurant was again crowded and a host of pretty "DEUTSCHLANDERINNS" Ministered to the wants of the hungry.

Punctually at 6:30 the cars loaded up with the members of the picnic started almost simultaneously north and south and with cheers and the waving of hats and handkerchiefs the pleasure-sated excursionists started on their return trips and the last notes of the Aurora band died away in the distance. The railroad officials and the gentlemen who had charge of the excursion (Mr. Ferdinand Metzger of Portland, and J. Henry Haas, from Salem), deserve great credit for the order and regularity maintained as not the slightest mishap or accident marred the enjoyment of the day.

The Fourth at Silverton.

SILVERTON, June 13th. Thinking a few items from this place regarding the coming celebration of our National Anniversary and other things would be interesting to a portion of your readers, here goes.

As a starter, I will say that everything appertaining to the celebration, is going on smoothly, and every preparation necessary to insure a good time, is being made.

The committee of arrangements has taken a new departure, and will introduce many new features. A leading one will be the parade of a number of young ladies on horseback, the leading one carrying the national ensign, and all wearing the "Red White and Blue." The committee will spare no pains to make this part of the programme one of the best "performances" of the kind ever seen in our State; the ladies' trials of equestrianism at our State Fairs to the contrary notwithstanding.

The car of little girls, each representing a State, will be magnificent in the extreme. This statement no one will doubt when they are informed that the irrepressible Cal. Geer is getting up the car and will handle the ribbons over the six horses that will draw the beautiful car and its precious burden on that occasion.

There will also be another car, over which Thomas Richey has the supervision, and if any one is disposed to question Thomas' ability to draw the ribbons over three span let them come and see. This car will be beautifully decorated, and will contain 18 little boys, representing the Presidents, and one boy of larger growth will represent the Father of his country. He will probably carry the "little hatchet."

Professor J. G. McCraw is rigging up a wagon to haul his choir of vocalists, which will be another prominent feature in the procession.

The veterans of the Abiqua war have been invited to "join in," in the march, also Gen. J. W. Nesmith, Ex-Gov. Curry, and several other "doubting Thomases."

A grand brass band will give a grand ball in the evening at Lippitt's Hall.

The Orator, Reader and Chaplain are getting ready to spread themselves and to do justice to the occasion.

The barbecue will be gotten up in the good old-fashioned Kentucky style. In short, such preparations will be made that will insure everybody who attends, a gala time.

A New Park.

The Oregon and California Railroad Company purchased last week, forty acres of land on the slightly bluff just north of New Era, and will proceed immediately to lay out a splendid park, with all the modern improvements, for the accommodation of excursions, and out door gatherings. The view from the bluffs is grand, and overlooks the beautiful Willamette where it enters the deep channels other side of Rock Island. Mr. R. Koehler, the Vice President of the Company, and the energetic Managing Director has taken the matter in hand, and will make it the loveliest place on the road. We suggest that the name of the grounds be called "Koehler Park," and the post town adjacent, New Era, be changed to "Koehler City," in honor of the gentleman who is going to make their little burg an important station on the line of the road.

LETTER FROM POLK.

DALLAS, June 16, 1877. The annual convocation of the Christian Church at Dallas yesterday, was a decided success. More than two hundred campers are on the ground and will continue over next Sunday.

The M. E. Church South, will hold their camp-meeting at Dixie, on the last Friday in June and continue till after the first Sabbath in July.

Polk county crops are now looking better than ever and promise a big yield.

Reckless and Criminal Drivin.

Last Saturday afternoon while a drove of 1800 sheep were being driven to the Salem Ferry from some point near Dixie, a hack said to contain the Independence Base Ball Club, who were on their return from a match game at Amity, pushed in among the flock at full speed and broke the legs of four of the drove besides severely injuring a valuable buck worth $50. They will probably be prosecuted by the owners of the sheep, Dr. D. M. Jones, of this city, and F. R. Hill, of Albany.

A Model Wife.

Amongst the excursionists yesterday, there was one lady who deserves that title if any one ever did. She was engaged in a scientific discussion with a learned professor, and on her husband's appearance greeted him with an affectionate smile, and the endearing inquiry, "Theodore don't you want some money?" simultaneously producing a well-filled purse. This action deserves especial notice and appreciation in these degenerate days.

A Suggestion.

As Hon. O. P. Morton will probably be in this city on the fourth of July, we would suggest to the committee of arrangements that he be invited to attend the Sunday School picnic in Marion Square, on that day. We have no doubt that if not otherwise engaged he would accept, and give the little folks just the same pleasant talk we heard him give at a Sunday School picnic 21 years ago on the banks of the Missisniwa in Indiana.
