SALEM, FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1877.

A Little Effort Needed.

A week or so ago we wrote something with reference to the importance of making a good exhibit of our Oregon products for the present year, at the Industrial Exhibition for the State of California...

The intention is to show at the California Industrial Fair what Oregon can produce, for the benefit of California and any strangers who may be in attendance.

There is only the month of July in which to prepare our exhibition, and we hope every farmer who can collect a fair bundle of headed wheat or oats of any description...

Not only grain and grasses are wanted, but anything and everything is desired that will display to advantage, the resources and capabilities of our State.

As we said before, the exhibit should comprise all things that demonstrate the capabilities of the Pacific Northwest, and any person who can add to it any trifle, will do something to benefit the State.

The Railroad Company has shown great liberality and energy in this and many other instances, and the people who are at least equally interested in the prosperity of the State, should respond by active cooperation in making preparation for this exhibit.

The Editor of the Farmer intends to do what he can personally as well as by editorials, to forward this effort, and will visit any portions of the Willamette or Umpqua valleys where valuable contributions can be gathered...

OFFICE-HOLDERS' DUTY IN ELECTIONS.—The President today addressed the following circular letter to all prominent federal officers throughout the country:

Washington, June 23, 1877. Sir: I desire to call your attention to the following paragraph in a letter addressed by me to the Secretary of the Treasury, on the conduct to be observed by officers of the general government in relation to elections...

rule is applicable to every department of civil service. It should be under stood by every officer of the general government that he is expected to conform his conduct to its requirements. Very respectfully.

R. B. HAYES.

THE EASTERN WAR.

There is a terrible conflict going on in the East between the armies of Russia and Turkey, both in Europe and Asia Minor. The Danube is crossed and the Russians march towards Constantinople, but the way is still long, the defenses formidable, the Turks in great force, and with the crossing of the Danube the war has but just commenced.

Russia is to be left alone to destroy Turkey, and unless the Czar steps over the bounds of prudence and claims too much for the equilibrium of Europe to afford, peace will not be disturbed to any greater extent than at present.

DR. SASSARETH.—This eminent and scientific oculist arrived on the last steamer. Dr. Sassareth resides in New York, and he has been induced to pay Portland a visit, as much through a desire to see this prosperous and rapidly growing young State of which he has heard recently such favorable reports...

Dr. Sassareth has met with equal success in Oregon. Drs. J. C. Hawthorn, J. B. Pilkington and Ghiselin of Portland have availed themselves of his great skill. That he is eminent as an oculist we cannot doubt as we have personal evidence of his skill in filling glasses to defective visions.

Dr. Sassareth goes South from Salem and his card will show at what dates he will visit Albany, Eugene, Roseburg and other places south. We can commend his professional skill to all persons who wish to remedy defective vision.

Umpqua and Willamette Wools.

A friend writes from the Umpqua the following postscript to a business letter: "Wool is quoted here to-day (July 1) at 29 1/2 to 30 cents."

We have taken some pains to understand the reason why Douglas county wool brings 2 cents to 2 1/2 cents per pound more than Willamette wool—for we are satisfied that it does bring it—and we have reason to believe that they raise better and more saleable wool there than here.

Will not Mr. Thomas Smith, Mr. H. Davis and some other wool growers of the Umpqua give us, in the FARMER, some correct idea of the character of the popular wool there.

As they produce more of the combing wools, and if so what breeding effects it and how much do their fleeces average. Any thing that will bear on this subject will be valuable for all wool growers...

ATTENTION HORSEMEN.—W. C. Meyer informs us that he will remain in Marion and Linn counties, at the stations established heretofore, until the first of August with his celebrated Purebred stallions White Prince and Gen. Fleury.

Washington, June 22.—Mail service has been placed on the following routes in Oregon: From Canyon City, Grant county, to Camp McDermott, once a week; also from Goose Lake, Lake county, to Prineville, Wasco county, weekly service; also, from Coquille City, Coos county, to Fairview, once a week.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES.

DR. M. S. SASSARETH.

THIS VERY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH OCULIST (of over 25 years experience), arrived on the steamer City of Chester, and is now stopping at the home of J. C. Hawthorn, where he will remain until the 31st of July.

One of the leading papers of Indiana says of Dr. Sassareth: "He is without doubt a very scientific man, who has thoroughly studied the eye, and fully understands all the diseases and defects to which it is subject. He is able to remove all obstructions, and performs the most difficult operation when necessary; but the best remedy he furnishes for the defective eyeight is the most perfect glass as is like having a pair of new eyes. The pleasure and satisfaction can only be realized by actual trial. These glasses are made upon the most scientific principle, and therefore are not only just what is needed, but so perfect that the person using them is soverely aware that any glasses at all are before his eyes. Dr. M. S. Sassareth has treated most successfully a number of our leading citizens, and we notice that he is patronized by the best informed people wherever he goes."

DR. SASSARETH expects to remain only until next Tuesday. His time is limited, and those who wish to consult him for eye ailments should be seen every day between 10 A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M.
