

Gray W H 'dec74

$2.50 per Year.

SALEM, OREGON, JULY 13, 1877.

Volume IX.—Number 22.

BY TELEGRAPH.

FOREIGN.

Constantinople, July 9.—The Porte has published a protest, accusing the Russians of horrible atrocities in both Asia and Europe.
Bucharest, July 9.—The current of the Danube has been found too strong for a pontoon bridge built straight across the river.
London, July 9.—A Simlitz correspondent understands that the Czar has resolved finally to cross the Danube and see as much as possible of the war.
Vienna, July 8.—The Dispatch says 30,000 newly-arrived Russians are now on the march from Jassy to Galatz.

by prevails beyond the lines of the contending armies. Bulgarian and Circassian Tartars are murdering each other indiscriminately.
Chicago, July 10.—Cable specials via New York state it is positively ascertained that the Russians, after a fierce battle, occupied Tirnova.
Chicago, July 9.—A special says that John Egan and wife, five miles from La Crosse, were found dead and burned until unrecognizable in their house Sunday.
Milwaukee, July 9.—A special to the Sentinel from Pensaukee says a terrible whirlwind struck that town Sunday night, blowing down three houses.

The Indian War.

[From the Oregonian.]
Lawirson, Idaho, July 5, 1877.

The Indians left Horseback Bend, came down the Salmon river near its junction with the Snake, leaving General Howard in force up the river.
The Indians have been murdering the whites and robbing the stores, and are now in force at the Snake, leaving General Howard in force up the river.
The Indians have been murdering the whites and robbing the stores, and are now in force at the Snake, leaving General Howard in force up the river.

The Indian Nuisance.

The way that the Indians are managed in this portion of Oregon at present is horrible. There seems to be no head or tail to their management.
The way that the Indians are managed in this portion of Oregon at present is horrible. There seems to be no head or tail to their management.
The way that the Indians are managed in this portion of Oregon at present is horrible. There seems to be no head or tail to their management.

Wool.

There was an advance to 20 cents per lb. for good lots here at Salem, and a tolerably lively business was done.
There was an advance to 20 cents per lb. for good lots here at Salem, and a tolerably lively business was done.
There was an advance to 20 cents per lb. for good lots here at Salem, and a tolerably lively business was done.

WESTINGHOUSE SEPARATOR.

A Bold Challenge.

T. Cunningham & Co., Salem, are agents for the Westinghouse Separator, the machine which took the first premium for a wool separator at Philadelphia, after four days' trial, one of the judges being Maj. Broce, of Oregon.
T. Cunningham & Co., Salem, are agents for the Westinghouse Separator, the machine which took the first premium for a wool separator at Philadelphia, after four days' trial, one of the judges being Maj. Broce, of Oregon.

A Traveling Fraud.

We hear of a man calling himself Crocker, who after visiting Salem and collecting alms on his pitiful story, has visited Polk and Yamhill counties, seeking among the farmers for homes for his pretended children.
We hear of a man calling himself Crocker, who after visiting Salem and collecting alms on his pitiful story, has visited Polk and Yamhill counties, seeking among the farmers for homes for his pretended children.

COTTAGE GROVE, July 4, 1877.

Ed. Farmer: I left Ashland on the 23d of last month, and heavier crops are not to be found on the coast than there is in the Rogue River Valley, and there were a great many fields of grain all ready for the header; and with a railroad to transport crops, Southern Oregon would be one of the finest places on the coast.
Ed. Farmer: I left Ashland on the 23d of last month, and heavier crops are not to be found on the coast than there is in the Rogue River Valley, and there were a great many fields of grain all ready for the header; and with a railroad to transport crops, Southern Oregon would be one of the finest places on the coast.

Recorder's Court.

Officer J. W. Minto introduced to Recorder C. W. Bowie this morning the following persons charged with disorderly conduct.
Officer J. W. Minto introduced to Recorder C. W. Bowie this morning the following persons charged with disorderly conduct.

Annual Meeting.

J. C. Cooper, Esq., the wide awake Secretary of the Peoples' Protective Transportation Company, writes us that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company will be held in McMinnville, Thursday, July 19th, at which time they will elect a Board of Directors for the ensuing year, and transact any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

Knocked Down and Robbed.

Last night, about 11 o'clock, a Chinaman was knocked down near the Court House square, and robbed of about $2, all the money on his person at the time.
Last night, about 11 o'clock, a Chinaman was knocked down near the Court House square, and robbed of about $2, all the money on his person at the time.

A Good Beginning.

When over in Polk county last Saturday, we met Mr. D. D. Prettyman, and suggested that he should contribute towards the display of Oregon products to be made for the Oregon Industrial Fair, and he has already responded by sending in a very handsome assortment of cereals and grasses to represent the hills of Polk.
When over in Polk county last Saturday, we met Mr. D. D. Prettyman, and suggested that he should contribute towards the display of Oregon products to be made for the Oregon Industrial Fair, and he has already responded by sending in a very handsome assortment of cereals and grasses to represent the hills of Polk.

If you want to see an acre of the most beautiful wheat, go to Mr. Dickinson's garden near town.

It has been pronounced by good judges the finest piece of growing wheat in the world.
It has been pronounced by good judges the finest piece of growing wheat in the world.

MARRIED—July 10th 1877, at the residence of the bride's parents, by Elder David Brown, Mr. Henry Clandfield and Miss Martha J. Palmer, all of Waldo Hill, Marion Co., Or.

DEPARTURES—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Babcock, of Salem, left their little boy Frank last Saturday, with this dreadful disease.

Armed Askew.

Governor Chadwick received a telegram last evening, asking for arms to protect the settlers between Walla Walla and Lewiston, as an outbreak was looked for. The arms, 100 stand were sent this morning from Vancouver.

Daring Robbery.

The house of Mr. Wauless, a short distance this side of the Orphan's Home was entered Friday night and two wagons and a truck of clothing stolen.
The house of Mr. Wauless, a short distance this side of the Orphan's Home was entered Friday night and two wagons and a truck of clothing stolen.

ABINGA, July 5, 1877.

Ed. Farmer: Believing that a few items from this part of Marion county might be interesting to your numerous readers, I send the following:
Ed. Farmer: Believing that a few items from this part of Marion county might be interesting to your numerous readers, I send the following:

COQUILLE CITY, July 3, 1877.

Ed. Farmer: With deep regret and surprise I read, in your last issue, of the death of Miss Alice Townsend, of Sublimity. The circumstances connected with that event, as shown by the very mildly drawn statements of the coroner's jury, would appear to demand the fullest investigation.
Ed. Farmer: With deep regret and surprise I read, in your last issue, of the death of Miss Alice Townsend, of Sublimity. The circumstances connected with that event, as shown by the very mildly drawn statements of the coroner's jury, would appear to demand the fullest investigation.

DIED—Near Peoria, Linn county, July 31, 1877, of diphtheria, Dora Bell, daughter of W. R. and M. E. Garret, aged 9 years.

Near Peoria, Linn county, July 9, 1877, of diphtheria, Miss Anna B. Garret, daughter of J. and E. M. Garret, aged 3 years, 4 months, and 15 days. The deceased was a most lovely and affectionate daughter, and the comfort of her parents in their declining years, and her many associates and friends, whose delight she was, will bear her death with the deepest feelings of sadness.

For the credit of the medical profession, let justice be done. M. D.