SPOILED GRAIN.

TURNER'S, Sept. 19, 1877.

It is now certain that a considerable amount of the iste grain in this county is so much injured that it will not go into foreign market. It is useless to sould and fret about it, or to say what might have been done to save properly, all the grain here. A wise course now to pursue, is, to take all such damaged grain, the screenings and talliers from the machine, and some of regular costs, and mix the whole together, at dhave it chopped for stock feed. Two run of small burns are now rigged in the basement story of the Aericalizer whole together.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregoni. story of the Agricultural works in Salam, for chopping such feed, and no doubt there will be other places or mills where such mixture can be chopped. Our sweek need just such feed and should have it. This chopping will so grind up the wild cats, as to prevent its growth, passing from the stomachs of our domestic animals. By this means no good wheat should or ought to be ground up for for sock and feed. Abund-

Let us make one more appeal in behalf of the proposed Sixteenth Amendment, Almost everybody attends the State Fair. We are making arrangements for canvassing for signatures on that occasion, but it will take ready hands and willing hearts to do the desired work. Suffrage meetings will be held on the ground as often as practicable. Blank petitions will be distributed daily to all or any persons who will devote an hour or more each day to the work. This plan, if successeach day to the work. This plan, if successfully carried out, will greatly facilitate time and labor in pushing forward this much desired work. Come, friends, raily to the work of justice and right,

A Providential Escape. One day last week Thomas Pomercy, son of a new comer, living on the Santiam a short distance beyond Mehama, met with a Providential escape from almost instant death. He was riding on horseback through a field of oak grubs that had recently been cut, when the animal become restive and threw him. His foot caught in the stirup, and the frightened animal dashed off draging his hapless victim through the grubs someten rods before he was torn loose. Young Pomerov's flesh was literally pound ed to a mass of jelly but sigular to relate his head escaped injury and not a single bone was broken. Truly a marvelous and Providential escape.

Silver Wedding. Silver Wedding.

A few of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs.

O. Dickinson assembled at their residence had Saturday night, the 22d inst., to assist them in celebrating the 25th anniversary of their wedding day. The presents were presented in a neat address by Judge R. P. Boise and received in appropriate terms by Mr. D.ckinson. After which a bountiful colation was served, and the rest of the evening was apent in social chat until the proper hour was spent in social chat until the proper hour for retiring, when the visitors paried from the "ancient bride and groom" in due form, with many wishes for their future happiness and prosperity. An Invitation Extended.

We learn that the officers of the State Agricultural Society have extended an invitation to General W. T. Sherman to be present at the coming State Fair. As the General will probably be in Oregon during that week it is strongly possible that the invitation will be sceeped. If so, the whole values will are out or masses, were worker. ley will urn out on masse; men, women, and children to greet the hero of the Great

Weather Probabilities.

Weather Probabilities.

This morning found Salem in the midst of a pitiless rain storm, doubtless the equinoctial, and with every indication of its continuing for a week or more. It is rough on the farmers, rough on the Hillsboro Fair, but bully for steamboat men who want water to run their large steamers between Harrisburg and Portland. The heavy storm at this time gives token of fair weather State Fair week. However, Oregon weather is not a safe thing to bet on at any time. to bet on at any time.

Will Rebuild.

Mr. Charles E. Stewart will commence immediately to tear down the shell lately co-cupied by T. B. Wait as a grain and feed store, on Commercial street, and put up in its place a neat one story brick. If Mr. Andrew Kelly would join teams with Mr. Stewart and erect a brick blacksmith shop on the site of his present one, it would improve the site of his present one, it would improve that part of our principal thoroughfare wonderfully.

GCOD BYE, DIPPER.

The breaking up of the constellation of the "Dipper" is prophesied in an article by Professor Richard A. Proctor. The Professor finds logical reasons for his belief in the motions of the stars composing the constellations, and illustrates these with careful diagrams of his own. In one map of the "Dipper" is shown as it was 100,000 years ago, and in another as it will be 100,000 years hence. Five of the seven stars, the Professor claims, form one family and travel together, but the other two have distinct motions of their own and are slowly drifting out of their own, and are slowly drifting out of their relative positions in the "Dip-

A Pleasant Surprise. Mr. Joseph Cooke was agreeably surprised by the appearance in his work shop this morning, of a brother just from the States, that he had not seen for 28 years. The sur-prise was comple's as Mr. Cooke had not had the slightest intimation of his brother hav ing left the "white settlements."
