Another Steamer.

Says the San Francisco Alta: "The Pacific Coast S. S. Co. are negotiating for the purchase of a first-class new steamship in the Fast, for their Portland route. The vessel is said to be far superior to any on the route, both for passenger accommodations and freight capacity. She will be on this coast for the next season's crop. Another will fol-low soon after the same trade."

After a most successful run of two weeks. Mr. John Jack, the popular manager closed the Opera House season Saturday night, with Arrah Na Pogue, to a good house. On Sunday morning the company left by steamer for Walla Walla, at which place they will remain several weeks and then visit the Sound country. Mr. Jack will probably visit Salem for a short season, some time in

THE GERMAN GIRLS.

The culinary art forms a part of the education of the women in Germany. The well-to-do tradesman, like the mechanic, takes pride in seeing his daugh-ters good housekeepers. To effect this object the girl, on leaving school, which she does when about fourteen years of age, goes through the ceremony of con-firmation, and then is placed by her parents with a country gentleman or in a large family, where she remains one or two years, filling what may also be termed the post of servant, or doing the work of one. This is looked upon as an apprenticeship to domestic economy. She differs from a servant, however, in this-she receives no wages; on the contrary, her parents often pay for care taken of her, as well as her clothing. This is the first step in her education as housekeeper. She next passes, on the same conditions, into the kitchen of a rich private family, or into that of a hotel of good repute. Here she has control of the expenditures of the servants emplayed in it, and assists personally in the cooking, but is always addressed as Miss, and is treated by the family with defer-ence and consideration. Many daugh-ters of rich families receive similar treating, with this difference, however, that they receive it in a princely mansion or a royal residence. There is a reigning queen in Germany at the pres-ent time who was trained in this way. Consequently the women in Germany are perfect models of economy.

THE TYPICAL BOY.

In the matter of personal adornment the boy of twelve or fourteen has the taste of a mule. Not that he actually feels inclined to bray on occasions, but his asinine taste crops out in another way. Give him way and a little money, and he gets himself up with a red necktie. checkered standing collar, boiled shirt with ruflled bosom, corduray breeches stuffed in red top boots, hair parted behind and a scent of peppermint rising from his red-fringed handkerchief, like the smell of a drug store. Then his room; you should see that! We got a peep into the room of our "devil" yesterday, and it will answer the description of all other rooms of boys of twelve or fourteen. The irrepressible dime novel was on the table, the leaf turned down to mark the spot where Tim. Tangletop went out before breakfast and killed a tribe of Indians. Then there was a bottle of hair oil on the table; a coarse comb with twelve teeth gone; then over the bed a wood-cut of a fight between a man and a bear, and at another place on the wall a picture taken from an illustrated paper of a boy and a dog chasing a rabbit, with a wild deer in the background. The room, viewed from the "devil's" standpoint, is highly artistic, and we learn that he will soon increase the ornamentations with a jewsharp.

THE WAY TO CONQUER.

"I'll master it," said the axe, and his blows fell heavily on the iron; but every blow made his edge more blunt, till he censed to strike.

"Leave it to me," said the saw, and with his relentless teeth he worked backward and forward on its surface, till they were all worn down or broken; then he

"Ha! ha!" said the hammer, "I knew you wouldn't succeed, I'll show you the utise of his process and it is hardly possible way," but at his first stroke, off flew his that the commissioner of Patents has granted head, and the iron remained as before.

"Shall I try?" asked the soft, small flame. But they all despised the flame; but he curled gently around the iron, and embraced it, and never left it till it melted under his irresistible influence. There are hearts hard enough to resist the force of wrath, the malice of persecution, and the fury of pride, so as to make their acts regoil on their adversaries; but there is a power stronger than any of these, and hard indeed is that heart that can resist love,

FARMERS' WIVES.

I am convinced, says a correspondent of the Pacific Rural Press, that no class of men in the world are as ready to welcome women to new fields of usefulness and dignity as are our worthy farmer husbands and brothers. I believe, too, none others do accord her right position. No class of people share more equally life's burdens and joys, or have more unity of aims and interests than the farmer and his family. As the farmer rises in the scale of social and political influence, so will the farmer's wife, until she will reach an elevation from which she can lend a helping band to her sister, still toiling slaves of fashion, and that public sentiment that judges woman's worth by her outward attraction, youth, beauty and costly array. Am I mistaken in believing this a very common feeling?

A Silver Brick.

The Monumental Silver Mining Company contributed to the State Fair a fine collection of are from their mine in Eastern Oregon, also a stiver brick weighing 65 pounds, and valued at $825, the result of one and a balf tons of ore from their mine. The ore was worked at the quartz mill of J. H. Fiske, Portland. This tangible evidence of the richness of their mine attracted the attention of a vast number of people during Fair week and is substantial proof that the mineral resources of Oregon will in time equal if not exceed any other section of the country.

MORE LIBERAL THAN WE'UNS

The Washington Territorial Legislature convened at Olympia, Monday week. The session is restricted to forty days, and the members receive a compensation of $6 per day, and are allowed mileage coming and going. The presiding offi-cers receive $10 a day, and the clerks, doorkeepers, etc., are allowed $5 each per day. This is much more liberal than our day. This is much more liberal than our legislators are paid, and should obviate the necessity of any outside pressure.

"Administering lead through a tube" is what the papers call it in Michigan when one person shoots another.

PROM THE SANTIAM MINES.

MRHAMA, Oct. 9th, 1877.

A flying visit to the Henline district mines up the turbulent North Fork of the Santiam, galloping als cayuse over fern prairies, and across table-lands bottoms, fording wild mountain brooks, that the iale rains have swolen to torrents; sliding down into muddy, greasy canyons, and pulling yourself out by the teeth vivines the whole system, and sends the blood quickened on its rejuvena-ting mission. We are here. First at the Capital mine, we find the surface department under charge of P. E. Glover, in perfect order; everything done by the minute hand of his Roscoff. Under his supervision a flue lot of timbers have been gutten out for the shaft now under process of "boring." A "run" through the 300 foot tunnel brings you to the mouth of a shaft which is being run perpendicularly poward to connect with a shaft at the surface down 28 feet. Your townsman, Seth R. Hammer made the survey for this shaft and Don Smith, of Kings' Prairie is doing most of the arduous mining work assisted by S. Chenoweth an ordinary English miner that formerly wrought in the Oswego Iron mines. The Nonparell mine shows a 20 inch vein of fine ore and when the present contractors finished the 100 feet we may confidently look for good reports from this lode. J. A. Buck is running a tunnel on his discovery; (the Monumental) which at this time stands No. l in the catalogue. Yours,

A MINER.

Children.

If there is anything in which parents ought to feel a leep and abiding interest, it is in the progress of their children—in them in the progress of their children—in them they shall live again after their days are numbered, and they will either be a staff or curse in their declining years. Upon their present progress the future of the children in a large measure depends, and what they acquire at our public schools is to be their permanent life capital—it cannot be taken from them. them, neither can moth or rust corrupt or thieves break in and steal. Keep your child in school.

Heavy Loss of Flax.

J. W. Compton, of the Forks of the San-tiam informs the Albany Democrat that there is a large amount of flax still standing out in his part of the country, and that it is very probable the whole of it will be lost. If harvested he thinks there would be be-tween $15,000 and $20,000 worth. This falls very hard on the people over there as many were turning their entire attention to the culture of flax for the seed, and have not raised enough grain for their own use.

The Plummer Fruit Dryers.

Mr. Plummer is meeting with great and deserved success in the sale of his fruit dryers, having already sold sixty, with more orders on band. This success is based on the fact that his fruit ranks with the very best put upon the market and sells to the very best advantage. It can be shipped to any part of the world and claim to be a first rate article. Ten of these dryers have been sold in Walla Walla; fourteen have been put into operation in the vicinity of Butteville. The fruit crop seems to be good through the State and the scarcity of fruit in California, where very little has ripened, will cause a demand for what we can manufacture and is a reason why fruit growers should make the most of their orchards the present year.

Some parties are very industriously circulating reports that Mr. Plummer is infringing some other patent and has no patent of his own for his machines. On the contrary Mr. Plainmer has three different patents on his machines that cover every part and minthese patents in conflict with the rights of any other patentee. If he has, the proper way is for those interested to commence suit to show the fact. That they do not do so is a sure indication that Mr. Plummer is right, and as he has the Patent office on his side those who want fruit dryers need have go fear in purchasing. He is a very energetic and enterprising man and has certainly a genius for invention.

As will be seen from his card published elsewhere, he offers special premiums of $75 for the best displays of dried fruits made by his machines. He informs us that he is de-termined to show at the coming State Fair the finest collection and display of dried fruits made by his machines, that ever was seen in this State, and he is the man to do what he undertakes.

The following testimonials show the success of his machines:

WHEATLAND, Feb. 1, 1877. Mr. Plummer, Dear Sir: With the Fam-ily Dryer I bought of you at the State Fair my two little boys with some help from their mother have dried Eight hundred doilars worth of fruit worth 12% cents per pound, said by good judges to equal the samples at State Fair. A. P. ROBERTSON.

Mr. W. S. Plummer, Dear sir: In reply to yours of Feb. 10th, I would say that I have handled a large amount of Plummer Dried Fruits and in no instance has it failed to bring the very highest market price of any fruit sold in this city. Yours, etc.

Portland, May 23, '77

From Yamhill Reporter, Feb 18th 1877:
"I wish to give the farmers of our county some of my experience in fruit raising. For several years I have had a large amount of fruit but it was of very little value, so that I had about decided to dig up the trees and farm the land. One year ago I would have given any man the use of the land, (40 acres) for one year, to clear it of fruit trees. No one offered to do this, and last year I concluded to dry my fruit, and after about one-half the grop had periahed. I got a Plummer Dryer. I dried 200 worth, and my dryer including a building 2018 feet, cost me $700. Six hands, using one-half cord of wood, can dry sixty bushels of apples in ten bours. I propose to plant 2000 prupe trees in the Spring. I believe we can do better then to let our fruit waste. I like my dryer very much, and am now glad I did not dig up my orchard.

A. L. ALDERMAN."
