Let the People Rejoice. For the beautiful harvest of 1877 has now passed into the hands of the people of the golden corn, that they may do so to W. P. Johnson & Co.

Letter from Clackamas County.

ED. FARMER: We began to think that we were going to have a nice spell of weather, but the weather was destined to change, and now we have regular web-foots-tyle rain and mud.

Quite a number of neighbors have employed Chinese labor to clear up their lands for future cultivation, but their grubbing is not the best in the world. True they had it their own way for those hiring them, had their own work to do, hence they bossed themselves.

Wheat is looking well, though this cold snap may make it look like the fire had been too near it. There has been more wheat sown here this fall than usual, and nearly every farmer talks of sowing a large acreage.

The school-house, of school district No. 15, has been made larger, it is now 18x36 feet, weatherboarded with rustic, painted and celled; it is a good recommendation for the school district.

Clackamas Co., Oregon.

From San Francisco.

Since I last wrote, the holidays have come and gone, and "San Francisco is herself again." Christmas was duly observed, and comparatively small number of people were to be seen on the streets.

During the intervening time, until New Year's day, people could be seen on the streets "taking in the situation." The New Year arrived, and was greeted in an appropriate and becoming manner by about 10,000 "hoop-horns" and as many boys to back them.

Only a few accidents happened that day, and the only one we will mention was the case of a man who was beset upon by a couple of hoodlums for the purpose of robbery, and as they failed to find any money they took revenge and shot him, and death resulted almost instantly.

The working men's cause is still being agitated, and we notice a large number of idle people, notwithstanding that this is a "country of gold," we must say that there are plenty of idle mechanics who do not get work three days out of a week, and it is so in all trades here.

The wheat market here is quoted at $2.33 @ $2.37 per cwt., or $1.42 per bushel—and not much changing hands. Wool is quoted at—, and a late paper gives the amount of wool produced in California last year at 62,235,817 pounds.

COL. A. B. MEACHAM.

We clip the following from the Elmira (N. Y.) Advertiser of December 23rd, in reference to our distinguished fellow citizen now lecturing in the Empire State. It says:

Col. A. B. Meacham, of Oregon, who was in the Modoc war and left for dead on the lava beds when Gen. Canby and Dr. Thomas were assassinated, but who survived his seven bullets to tell the story of the battle, is to be in Elmira this week, to speak on Indian character and policy.

Brave warrior as the Colonel has shown himself, is an advocate of the peace policy and an eloquent pleader for the Indians as he was an effective officer in the campaign against them. A Christian man, he believes more in the Gospel than in the sword and pleads for justice in their behalf.

The Albany Argus speaks of the address "to the large audience at the Assembly Chamber as a most forcible and eloquent appeal."

Col. Meacham is to speak twice in Elmira, on Sunday evening next at the First Presbyterian Church, and on Monday evening at the Park Church.

An Early Reminiscence.

The other day a little short, heavy set man, with a bob-tailed coat and a plug hat that had done service for several years, came into our office and began to tell us reminiscences of the trip across the plains in the spring of '49.

A few days ago we made mention of the fact that one W. M. Cherry had come all the way from Kansas and arrested a man by the name of Henry Grayson, charged with the killing of one A. G. Foyette, some ten years ago.

A New Superintendent.

At a late meeting of the Lucky Queen Mining Company held at Roseburg, Mr. C. L. Walter was elected Supt. of the mine.

A petition is being circulated in Douglas county, and generally signed, asking Congress to make an appropriation for the construction of a light house at the mouth of the Umpqua.

Last Saturday the Imperial Mills were sold at referee's sale, and were bid in by D. W. Burnsides, of Portland, for $23,500.

MARRIED:

MANN-COX At the M. E. Church, January 9th, by Rev. F. P. Tower, Mr. J. C. Mann and Mrs. H. A. Cox.

CHURCH WEBBER—In Albany January 16th, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. Mr. Stephens, Mr. A. L. Church of Portland, and Miss Maggie Webber, of Albany.

SWAFFOLD VINSON—Near Oregon City, Jan. 9th, by Rev. D. B. Gray, E. J. Swafford, of this city, and Mrs. Clara M. Vinson, of Oregon City.

To the Afflicted—Ladies in particular.

Why need you suffer with Paralysis when you can be cured?—Why will you suffer with Rheumatism when you can be cured? And why have so many aches and pains when it is within your reach to be cured?

Clear, cold weather seems to be prevalent over the whole coast, as dispatches published Jan. 1st in one of the city papers indicated.

ABOUT VIGILANCE COMMITTEES.

A Vigilance Committee Said to be in Existence in Salem—Thieves, Burglars, and Tramps to be Summarily Dealt with—Observations of an Old Californian—Moderation Counseled.

SALEM, January 11, 1878.

A long residence on the Pacific coast, extending far back to the early days of the gold excitement in California, has made me conversant with some of the signs of the times.

By the knowledge thus obtained I have recently been led to watch certain things, which to one of less experience would have had no significance, but to me have been full of suggestions. And by this close observation I have become fully assured that a vigilance committee has recently been formed in this city, and that several of the best citizens of the place have been enrolled in the organization.

This is mere conjecture, for although I could not become informed of what has transpired at any of the meetings already held, except by enrolling as a member myself, which I shall never do, yet things have taken place lately that convince me beyond a doubt of the formation of such a society.

SENSATION OF DANGER.

Which have led these citizens to deem it necessary to take the step which they have taken. But I am also fully aware, that although some of the members of this society are old in experience, having served actively on committees of like kind in California, still that many of the gentlemen enrolled have very little idea of what is likely to accrue from their action.

Let us consider what a vigilance committee, once under full swing in this city, is likely to do. There is no doubt that it will detect and suppress.

SEMI-MARTYRdom.

All, or nearly all, the burglarious ruffians who now infest our city and vicinity. This is certain. The very nature of its formation guarantees the detection and arrest of the criminal; men from all parts of, and every occupation in the city, meeting together and comparing notes, and deliberating with but a single object in view, and implicitly obeying their superiors, cannot fail to accomplish this result.

ANOTHER CONSIDERATION.

Is, our laws are the result of careful deliberation and repeated amendment; they are not the suddenly conceived offspring of inflamed passions. Can we expect that law—save the mask—brought in existence on the spur of the moment, by men excited by the frequency of daring crimes, and rendered fearful by the danger with which they are immediately threatened, will be as good as that which we now have.

CHARACTER.

There is a difference between character and reputation. Character is what we really are, reputation is what others suppose we are. A man may have a good character and a bad reputation, or he may have a good reputation and a bad character. The reason of this is, that we form our opinions of men from what they appear to be, and not from what they really are. Our true happiness depends not so much on what is thought of us by others, as on what we really are in ourselves. Early impressions, although they may appear to be but light, are the most enduring, and exert the greatest influence on our lives. So character is everything.

North Mill Creek Bridge.

This morning we took a stroll down to the above named bridge to see how the work was progressing. The structure has reached the opposite bank and there remains but three more bents to be placed in their proper position, a portion of which are already framed. It is the intention of Mr. Kline to try and have the flooring laid this week and to complete the entire structure by the last of next week.

Absconded.

It was rumored on the street this morning that one Al. Rowland, for a long time connected with R. H. Price, in the cab and hack business, had absconded after collecting all the money he could and drawing fifty dollars from a well known firm in this city, in Mr. Price's name.

True Picture of Innocence. If we were to have a large picture of innocence to hang up in our parlors, and we did not wish to sit for it ourselves, we would get a correct likeness of a mullet. There is innocence enough depicted in a mullet's countenance to fit out a Sunday School class. It looks as guileless as an angle worm.

A Double Loss.

A few days since a granary belonging to Hans Weaver, near Myrtle creek, Douglas county, burst and spilled the grain out upon the ground. His sheep, which were running about, ate the grain, and many of them died. Mr. Weaver loses by this accident between 300 and 500 head of sheep.

Stubborn Coughs and Colds yield promptly to the healing and curative properties of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. It loosens and promotes the expectoration of irritating matter,—mitigates much pain and distress, and checks inflammation.

Asthma, Bronchitis, and Throat Troubles are at once relieved by Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. It removes constriction of the Bronchial tubes, loosens phlegm, soothes and heals the mucous membrane, arrests any feverish tendency, and helps to forward a gradual cure.

Consumption, Pleurisy, and Lung Affections are generally controlled and ameliorated by Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. It saves the lungs from much irritation and distress, by relieving them of the irritating matters by which they are clogged, it also suppresses inflammation and gives the affected parts a chance to heal.

Whooping Cough, Croup and Hoarseness are efficaciously treated by Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. It removes difficulty of breathing and oppression in the throat or lungs, promotes the ejection of mucus and subdues the violence of these complaints at the outset. It is a Safe Family Curative, of long-established reputation, and where promptly administered, has enabled many to escape serious Lung Affections.
