

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Conducted by MRS. HARRIOT T. CLARKE.

CIRCLE.

It is the law of streams to run,
Of autumn leaves to fall,
And she who has been false to one—
She will be false to all.

Hasty Burials.

The record of a sudden death and burial in your paper, determines me to write my thoughts upon a painful subject that often occurs to my mind.

RUTH.

ED. HOME CIRCLE: I have long desired to write to your valuable paper, but hesitated, in hopes that some one more competent would take up the pen, and help contribute to the ladies department.

AN OREGON GIRL.

The Royal Agricultural Society of England has given the leading prize of eight, to a woman, Mrs. Ellen Birch, for the best managed farm in the district in which the society is held.

A St. Louis widow has had three husbands. She has on hand a lawsuit to break the will of the first, another to recover the insurance money on the life of the second, and a third to obtain money from the last.

OUR BOYS.

The following letters which we publish, come to us in response to an invitation which we gave to our boy readers to furnish us an article for the FARMER. We suggested the subject, "How to break a colt," as one most likely to be nearest a boys heart, and we promised a book for the best effort.

ED. HOME CIRCLE: Taking notice of your inducement to get some boy to write an article on the best way to break a colt. I will give you my plan.

Brownsville, Lind Co., March 25.

THE BEST WAY TO BREAK A COLT.—My plan is this: I never broke many colts, but then I always find it the best way to be kind to the dumb brutes, especially the horse.

ED. HOME CIRCLE: I saw a piece in your paper about the plan of breaking colts. My plan for breaking colts is to catch them up and put them in a stable, and work with them easy, and not to whip them, nor abuse them in any way.

AIRING BEDS.—No housekeeper has any valid claim to neatness, cleanliness and tidiness, says the Watchman, who makes her beds as soon as they are vacated; or if she has such a claim, it is based on the condition of ignorance.

too clean, while there is no danger of too much care in these respects, as one of the means of controlling such acute diseases as fevers and inflammations.

Waste and Want.

Either man must be content with poverty all his life, or else deny himself some luxuries and save to lay the base of independence in the future. But if a man defies the future, and spends all he earns (whether his earnings be one or ten dollars a day) let him look for lean and want at some future time—for it will surely come, no matter what he thinks.

A DEGRADING LIFE.—The Teuton of old quite ignored a woman's personality. He guarded her virtue simply through the motive of right and property which was vested in her.

A CHEAP HANGING BASKET.—Crochet a little saucer-shaped mat in red wool, loose o. en-work, and place inside a saucer, soup plate, or cover of an old glass butter dish.

TO POULTRY FANCIERS. I am now breeding DARK BRAHMAS, Mansfield Strain, Non-setting BLACK HAMBURG, IMPORTED, and BROWN LEGHORN.

MAGAZINES.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.—The advance sheet came some time ago, but the magazine has failed to put in an appearance, probably lost on the mail route; but, by borrowing from a neighbor who is more fortunate, we find Noah Brooks' reminiscences of Lincoln continued, giving incidents and anecdotes never before in print.

ST. NICHOLAS.—The St. Nicholas has failed to come, and there is great regret among the young folks at its non-appearance, we have no doubt that the March number is fully as interesting as previous numbers.

GODY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Comes again, the lady mails bringing them slowly along. The book is eminently suited to the wants of the family; every number contains many nice recipes, and occasionally a pattern.

The house and its contents belonging to Frank Parish, of Silver Lake, Washington Territory, was destroyed by fire last Friday morning, March 22d.

NOTHING SHORT OF UNMISTAKABLE benefits conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SERRAVALLO enjoys.
