

Fall from a Berth.

John Quayle, a deck hand on the City of Quincy, fell from his berth last evening and sustained severe injuries by striking the edge of a box. He was taken to the hospital.

Bound Over.

R. L. Lane, the forger, and son of a $300,000 Missouri farmer, was bound over in the sum of $2,000 this afternoon by the Police Court to await the action of the grand jury. He has been committed to jail in default of bail.

For the Pen.

The Washington county Circuit Court has sent three men to the penitentiary during the present term. Martin Parsons and David Bullock, for larceny from a dwelling, three years each; Henry Schneider, for an assault with a deadly weapon, one year.

The Marion Fire.

The ruins of Johns' warehouse is still smoking. The losses are as follows: Johns, $8,000; insurance, $4,000. Peter Smith, $900; insured. Hubler loses 800 bushels of oats. The insurance on the building was in the Imperial, London and Queen.

Jumped His Bail.

W. C. Hicklin, the old duffer of Washington county, who was indicted by the grand jury for an assault with intent to outrage his daughter, has jumped his bail, $2,000, leaving his sureties in the lurch. District Attorney Caples obtained a forfeiture of the bail and will compel payment.

Harbor of Refuge.

Meeting of Delegates from the Valley Counties.

A meeting was held in Albany on Monday, June 2d, pursuant to the following notice:

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 23, 1879. On and after the 5th day of June, 1879, the public sessions of the Board of a committee of the same, will be held at this office. The object of these is to hear the views and opinions of all persons interested in the location of a harbor of refuge on the Pacific coast between San Francisco and the Straits of Fuca. Shipmasters familiar with the navigation of the Pacific coast, and all persons possessed with information on the subject are invited to communicate with the Board in person or by letter.

C. SEAFORTH STEWART, Lt. Col. of Engs., Pacific Sen. Mem.

Delegations from the various committees previously appointed by the citizens of the central Willamette counties met at the court house for the purpose of considering the propriety of sending a deputation to San Francisco to advocate the claims of Cape Foulweather Bay on the Benton county coast as such harbor. The counties were represented as follows: From Lane—A. S. Patterson, J. B. Underwood, Dr. J. P. Gill and C. W. Washburne; from Linn—M. V. Brown, R. S. Strahan, J. H. Foster, Coll Van Cleve, D. Froman, T. P. Hackleman and Thomas Monteith; from Benton—John Burnett, J. R. Bayley, W. R. Carter, R. W. Wilson and John Wray; from Marion—E. M. Waite and Wm. Armstrong.

A. S. Patterson, of Eugene, was elected Chairman and M. V. Brown, of Albany, Secretary of the convention.

J. B. Underwood, of Eugene, offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the citizens of the counties of Linn, Lane, Benton, Marion and Polk be requested to call meetings at once to select delegations to go before the Board of U. S. Engineers of San Francisco, and confer at once with Gen. M. V. Brown, at Albany, by telegraph, so as to have a concerted action and arrangements made so that the delegations may leave for San Francisco by next steamer, and that Gen. Brown shall advise the Board of U. S. Engineers of the action of this meeting and ask them to await the arrival of the delegations before taking final action.

Resolved, That the delegations from the respective counties be requested to procure a tabulated statement of amount of freights shipped from and to said counties, via San Francisco, and that would in the natural course of commerce seek the shortest routes and present the same before the Board of U. S. Engineers, and procure all other information bearing upon the importance of the location of Cape Foulweather as the Harbor of Refuge.

In pursuance of the foregoing resolutions the delegates present from Linn selected as their representative John A. Crawford, the Benton delegation selected Dr. J. R. Bayley and the Marion delegates selected Judge R. P. Boise. The Lane county delegation reserved their selection until their return home. Polk county being unrepresented, and the Convention deeming it highly important that a representative should be sent from that county, unanimously selected Gen. J. W. NeSmith as such delegate, and the Secretary was instructed to notify him of his appointment and express the earnest desire of the Convention that he should attend in person.

On motion the Secretary was requested to forward the proceedings of this meeting to the various newspapers of the valley counties for publication.

A. S. PATTERSON, Chairman.

MART, V. BROWN, Secretary.

Fatal Accident.

Starting a Fire with Coal Oil with the Usual Result.

Last evening a daughter, eleven years of age, of Mr. Thomas Berry, living in East Portland, undertook to start a fire by pouring kerosene from a can on the fire. An explosion followed and the child was immediately enveloped in flames. She ran out of the house, and before help arrived every particle of clothing, except her shoes and stockings, was burned off. Neighbors ran into the room where the accident occurred and it was discovered that the fire was spreading in the room, but had gained no headway. While some took care of the unfortunate girl, others extinguished the fire in the house. The girl suffered terribly all night and this morning at seven o'clock died. This is but another illustration of the danger of using kerosene for the purpose of starting fires.

Astoria and Winnemucca R. R.

Astorian Taken Down with a Violent Fever and Refuse to be Comforted.

A rousing meeting was held in the Court House on Saturday evening last to consider the Astoria and Winnemucca railroad project, and the indications are favorable to an early realization of the hopes of Astorians. Judge Bowby called the meeting to order, and an organization was effected by the election of Col. Jos. Taylor president, and C. E. Holden, secretary. Stirring speeches were made by Hon. W. D. Hare, David Newsome, J. W. Robb, Mr. Linenweber, Col. Parker, Mr. Seeley, and others. A great deal of interest was manifested, and those who attended merely to look on, soon fell into the spirit of the meeting and helped to swell the enthusiasm. The following resolution, offered by Mr. Holden, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, citizens of Astoria convened for the purpose of discussing the question of the construction of a railroad from Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia river to a point intersecting the Oregon Central railroad near Forrest Grove, and from thence to Winnemucca in the State of Nevada, as proposed by the Astoria & Winnemucca Railroad Company, fully realize the necessity, desirability and feasibility of the construction of said railroad. And we do hereby pledge ourselves to take stock in said road according to our means, and to use our influence in every way we can to influence our fellow citizens of Astoria and all others interested, to do the same.

A number of the prominent citizens of Astoria subscribed to the stock, and the assurances are great enough so that surveys will be put in the field this month, and work will be proceeded with in the shortest possible time. Another meeting will be held next Saturday, and it seems to be the determination not to let go the hold already taken.

Suicide of James D. Fay.

The dispatches to the Douglas Independent, which we give below, announce the death of one who some years ago bore a prominent part in Oregon politics. In 1872 Mr. Fay was State Senator from Jackson county, and president of that body. He was a man of considerable ability, and had good success in the practice of law. Some years since he removed to California, and at the time he committed suicide was in Coos county, Oregon, on professional business.

EMPIRE CITY, May 30.—The people of this place were startled this morning by the report that Jas. D. Fay had killed himself. It soon became known that this was a sad fact, and a coroner's inquest over the body of the deceased resulted in the finding of the following verdict:

We, the jury summoned to inquire into the cause of the death of James D. Fay, find that the deceased came to his death from the effects of a pistol shot fired from a pistol held in his own hands.

The facts developed by the testimony given before the jury were that the night previous he had retired in company with L. P. Lane about 12 o'clock. After that time he took two or three drinks, but not sufficient, as Mr. Lane testifies, to produce delirium tremens. Mr. Lane then left him, and Mr. Fay went to the Star saloon, and was sitting by the stove reading a newspaper, when Mr. E. W. Sprague and A. W. Sprague, his brother, keepers of the saloon, went out and left him sitting there. They shortly afterwards heard the report of a pistol, and ran back to the saloon, where they found Mr. Fay still seated in the chair, with his head bent forward, the blood flowing freely from his head and his pistol lying in his lap.

Dr. Mackey testified that death had resulted almost instantaneously with the shot.

Mr. Fay came here from San Francisco, and was attending to business here had in court. He had made many friends, and his sudden and tragic death has cast a gloom over the entire community.

The Contractor's Cases.

The injunction cases, pending in the Circuit Court, in which the legality of Chinese labor is to be contested, will be prosecuted vigorously by City Attorney Moreland and District Attorney Caples.

State and Territorial.

Willamette Valley.

A new hotel is being built at Halsey. A daughter to the Chemeketa has arrived at Salem.

The Cumberland Presbytery has been in session at Cottage Grove. The crops in the vicinity of Halsey look as though a little sunshine would be in order.

Two sons of Mr. Arnsperger, of Harrisburg, are down with a serious type of scarlet fever. Harrisburg schools have 101 pupils enrolled. Seventy-five average attendance, boys 54, girls 47.

A little son of A. Delschneider, of McMinnville, was seriously hurt during a game of base ball.

Grain in the vicinity of Cottage Grove looks fine and no doubt the farmers will realize a large yield.

The cars arrive at Sheridan about five o'clock in the evening, and leave in the morning at five o'clock.

Marion Wilkins, who went to Palouse a short time since, became sick at Colfax and started for home.

A large train of emigrants passed through Jacksonville last week en route for Josephine county, from California.

A little daughter of J. F. Pence, near McMinnville, was kicked by a horse and lingers in great agony at times.

John Wilson, aged 91, died at his residence in Linn county, on the 24th inst. The cause of his demise was old age.

Ferryman Roach, of Harrisburg, approximated the velocity of the river to be ten miles an hour on Tuesday morning.

The Yamhill Reporter says: Crops are not hurt at all near Sheridan by the long rains and they never looked better.

Several fine dwellings are going to be built here this season, which will give the town quite a metropolitan appearance.

Grandfather Aubrey died at Junction on Monday. He has been helpless on account of paralysis for nearly twenty years and was over eighty years old.

J. M. Townsend, who lives on Captain La-follet's farm up by Grand Ronde, has had 25 head of sheep killed by bear. In fact bear and all kinds of animals are very plenty up that way.

Eugene City people were excited over the absence of a 14-year-old boy who went out hunting. He turned up all right next day, after the people had hunted all night in the drizzling rain.

The university year at Eugene will close in two weeks. There will be six graduates this year, three ladies and three gentlemen: Misses Cornelius, Adams and Hayes, and Messrs. Condon, Peary and McQuin.

A Goshen correspondent of the Guard says: It is thought that much injury has been done to the grain, especially to the late sown wheat and the flax, of which latter there is a large acreage in the vicinity. Considerable land remains unshown, owing to the extremely wet weather.

The Eugene Guard says: Wheat, in some instances it seems, grows to rank. Mr. Bushnell, living about five miles below town, has turned his cattle on his Fall sown wheat for the purpose of having it cropped down. He pursued this course last year, and it resulted in an abundant yield.

Junction has the following programme for the celebration on the Fourth: Orator, Hon. J. H. Mitchell; Reader, Robert S. Bean; Chaplain, Rev. J. P. McCorkle. Music will be furnished by the Eugene City Band, University Cornet Band and Junction City Glee Club, and a grand time is anticipated.

Southern Oregon.

The post office at Cole's Valley has been discontinued.

All the Walla Walla papers are brim full of newsy items.

Roseburg had a heavy hail storm the last Sunday in May.

The rainfall at Walla Walla since January 1 is 11.86 inches.

Walla Walla peach trees are literally loaded down with fruit.

Citizens of Roseburg are working up a 4th of July celebration.

The Roseburg people are preparing for a big blow out on the Fourth.

Sol. Abram's mammoth warehouse at Roseburg, is nearly completed.

Roseburg is soon to have a foundry in operation, which is much needed.

A bear killed some of John Hancock's sheep. Then J. H. killed the bear. Elkton.

An organ-grinder has appeared in Jacksonville. Send out couriers and warn the people.

Judge E. E. Watson and Miss Kuhl were united in marriage at Jacksonville, last Wednesday.

The Coos Bay News says: The Hays brought 520 goats to Gardner on her last trip from San Francisco.

The Jacksonville Times says the mining season refuses to close. Keep her open, then; we need dust in our business.

Jacksonville had a masquerade ball and Miss Ella Prim and Henry Pape, Jr., were selected as the best masqueraders.

Five steamers now in the local Coos Bay trade, each making daily trips between the various points on the Bay and its tributaries.

A very damaging hail storm visited the southern part of Douglas county last Sunday. The stones were smaller than cannon balls and softer.

The Independent says: James McFarland, who had his leg fractured some weeks ago, has sufficiently recovered to be able to walk about on his crutches.

The Roseburg Star says: The schedule time over the mail route from this city to Coos Bay has been reduced by the authorities to twenty-four hours in the Summer season and thirty-one hours in Winter. The new schedule goes into effect on the 2nd prox.

East of the Mountains.

Boise City is to have a steam fire engine.

A knife and pistol row occurred at Weston last Saturday. No new graves.

The total valuation of real and personal property at Walla Walla is $1,291,508.

Jas. A. Davis, a liveryman at Colfax, was kicked by a horse last week and is lying very low.

Two cavalry soldiers deserted from Fort Boise Thursday last, taking their horses with them.

Mr. Marsterson, of Walla Walla, recently sold 2,000 bushels of wheat at 50 cents per bushel.

The Camp Harney people want mail connection with the Ochoce country, and ought to have it.

Dayton is well supplied with saw-mills, and lumber sells at $15 per 1,000, while it is worth $25 at Walla Walla.

Extensive freight outfits are again kicking up the alkali dust on the overland road between Kelton and Boise.

A cloud-burst on Platter Hill, 12 miles from Dayton, came near drowning the stage-driver and his whole outfit.

Rattleman (or Rattlebrained) Jack still lingers in jail at Canyon City, although he expresses a willingness to leave.

Simon Howard killed a large cinnamon bear on Grant creek, three miles from John Day City, last week. He bears his honors meekly.

Capt. P. B. Johnson, of Walla Walla, was thrown from his horse while out on the range, and remained insensible and undiscovered for 24 hours.

Jesse Day, of Dayton, holds that the city is illegally incorporated, and refuses to pay his city taxes. The City Council has had some of his stock corralled, and propose to sell it.

Al. Hoskin & Co.'s mine on Shaw's mountain, I. T., promises well. From some of the ore taken from the mine, Mr. Stewart with the new process obtained the result, indicating a value of $800 per ton.

Col. Frank Parker, editor of the Walla Walla Statesman, is writing some sensible facts about the real evils of the upper country and knows whereof he speaks. Experience has been his teacher.

A Baker county surveying party are running the line between that and Grant county, near the Malheur agency. Baker proposes to take a slice of Grant and to charge the latter $1,200 for the trouble. The Grant County News thinks Baker will have a sweet old time collecting the amount.

The Idaho Statesman says: Mr. John Weisner, of Dry Creek, has struck a veritable bonanza near the head of that stream. He has discovered a mass of soft black mud, specimens of which, worked by Mr. Stewart yesterday, gave a result of $700 per ton. There are thousands of tons of this substance in sight, which is probably a kind of decayed quartz. Mr. Weisner was immediately offered $1,000 for his claim, which he refused.

The Walla Walla Union says: A contract is about to be let for the furnishing of 400,000 railroad ties for the use of the North Pacific Company, to be used in the construction of the road east from the Columbia river. This will be welcome news to the settlers in Whitman and Stevens counties. We did not learn but suppose that the timber will be taken from the borders of Hangman creek and the Spokane river.

The Dayton News says: It is now the universal belief that the crops of Columbia county will be very heavy. From present appearances the wheat crop will average thirty or thirty-five bushels per acre. Some fields will yield sixty to seventy bushels per acre. The fruit crop will also be abundant. The peach trees, particularly, are loaded with fruit in embryo. Every one should rejoice at our prospects, because heavy crops will go far towards removing the present stringency in financial affairs.

The Union Sentinel says: The Seawright Bros. drove their last herd of cattle to this Spring's purchase out of this valley last Tuesday. These extensive dealers have purchased over twelve thousand head of cattle in Grande Ronde, Walla and Powder valleys since Mr. Seawright came here last Winter, and have paid the cash. They have also purchased a large number of horses for the use of their formidable army of herdsmen. Those who have dealt with Mr. Seawright are anxious to have him come again, as he has gained a reputation for fair and honorable dealing that will ever insure him a warm reception with our stock men.

Astoria.

Capt. Fisher, of Astoria, has recently fished up several old anchors in that vicinity.

The sea and waves have washed up five of their dead this year north of North Head.

Judge Lawson, of Salem, is down at the mouth of the river filling up with big fat oysters preparatory to starting for the prickly pear country.

Temple Sealy left a fine specimen of bituminous coal at the Astorian office. He has found two veins of it in the Nehalem country, 25 miles from Astoria.

The Astorian says: Mr. Thomas B. Williams, light keeper at North Cove, Shoalwater bay, writes to us that on the 25th the body of a man was picked up and buried about three miles from there. He was five feet nine inches in height; dressed in linen drawers, check pants, small dark blue coat and gaiters with cotton socks. There was found in his pockets two dollars and sixty cents; three assorted sleeve buttons; gold thimble; silver plated fruit pocket knife with A. B. H. engraved on it; double hair comb and steel cork-screw. I have the above described articles and will send them to relatives or friends who may identify the person by the above descriptions.

Fugue Sound.

The grangers of the Sound country had no representatives in the recent session of the State Orange.

The Olympia Transcript says that prospectors are fitting out to hunt for gold and silver in the Cascade range.

Within the last year and a half, five newspapers on the Sound have died, and about half the balance have changed hands.

Beriah Brown has sold his interest in the Seattle Intelligence, for a farm on White river and Mr. Hanford is now its sole proprietor.

The Port Townsend Argus says: Some egg! We received an egg from Mr. Tukey's farm, which measured 8 by 6 1/2 inches. Bring on your big layers.

The Sound papers are discussing tobacco culture, and it is evident that persons over there have it in their minds to attempt it. The Courier has four columns devoted to a description of culture and care of tobacco.

A Seattle paper says, as John McGee, of Cherry Valley, was going home last week, he heard a soft footfall behind him, and looking back he saw a large panther following him. He tried to frighten the beast away, but not succeeding, laid down his bundle and retreated as fast as his legs would carry him. Mr. McGee was not hurt, but a dog and gun, and came back and killed the brute, which proved to be one of unusual size.

The logging business is unusually depressed this season all over the Sound. It is estimated that there will not be more than two-thirds of the amount of logs put in this year that there were last, when the business was fearfully overdone and there was a consequent demoralization of the market. There are now millions of feet of logs in the water at low water out unshod, and offering at unprecedentedly low figures.

A correspondent of the Port Townsend Argus writes from Quilient Valley, over on the coast, south of the Straits of Fuca: Persons desiring to settle here can buy horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and produce at reasonable rates, in the valley. Settlers may do well to come and bring their families along with them, but I would advise them to come and see, and then act from their own judgment. I do not feel like telling any man what he had better do, but if anyone who is willing to work wants a home, let him come, they can't go much further West without crossing the "pond."

Decorating of Praloe.

The East Portland Brass Band came over yesterday and played several tunes on the streets. The band is composed chiefly of young men and boys, under the leadership of Bill Everett and Tom Parrott, and considering the time they have been practicing, have attained a degree of proficiency worthy an older band. A couple of years of labor will place this band on an equality with any in the State.

Commuted.

The sentence of Ben Berry, sent up from Umatilla county in 1876, for a term of ten years, for robbery, has been commuted upon condition that he will leave the State and remain out of it for the balance of the time not served in the penitentiary. The action of the Governor is based on a petition signed by the citizens, District Attorney and Judge of Umatilla county.

The Fire Flood.

The large warehouse of J. M. Johns & Co., of Marion, in Marion county, was destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock Saturday night, being the work of an incendiary. The building was entirely ruined, entailing a loss of about $8,000. Mr. A. J. Hubler had between 10,000 and 15,000 bushels of oats in the warehouse which are more or less damaged. His loss is estimated at about $4,000. The amount of insurance, if any, is unknown.

A GOOD PLAN.

Anybody can learn to make money rapidly operating in stocks, by the "Two Uarring Rules for Success," in Messrs. Lawrence & Co's new circular. The combination method, which this firm has made so successful, enables people with large or small means to reap all the benefits of large capital and best skill. Thousands of orders, in various states, are pointed into one vast account and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of the largest operator. Immense profits are divided monthly. An amount, from $5 to $5,000, or more, can be used successfully. N. Y. Register weekly, Sept. 20th, 1878, says: "By the combination system $15 would make $75, or 5 per cent; $50 pays $250, or 7 per cent; $100 makes $1,000, or 10 per cent on the stock, during the month, according to the market." Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, June 29th: "The combination method of operating stocks is the most successful ever adopted." New York Independent, Sept. 12th: "The combination system is founded upon correct business principles, and no person need be without an income while it is kept working by Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Brooklyn Journal, April 29th: "Our editor made a net profit of $101.25 from $20 in one of Messrs. Lawrence & Co's combination." New circular (mailed free) explains everything. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. June 3-17
