ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY, BY CLARKE & CRAIG

PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS. Terms of Subscription:

PORTLAND, SEPT. 12, 1879.

TELEGRAPHIC.

EASTERN STATES.

The Gully Trial.

DE KALB, Sept. 10 .- In the trial of Henry Gully for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm, Gully for the murder of Cornelia Chisholm, the prosecution at 4 o'clock yesterday rested its case. The object of the prosecution had been to establish the theory of a conspiracy on the part of the defendant and others to kill Chisholm, Gilmer and Rosenbaum, and that in carrying it into effect, they killed Cornelia and other persons. An attempt is being made to show that the night after the burial of John W. Gully, a meeting of conspirators was held at the gin meeting of conspirators was held at the gin house of John Gully to mature plans for carrying the conspiracy into effect; but the State's witnesses testified that the object of that meeting was nothing more than to discuss the practicability of a body of citizens going to De Kalb the following day to assist in the arrest of Chisholm and others, charged with the murder of John W. Gully, should they resist and assistance be necessary.

The Bullion Fund.

Warington, Sept. 11,-In anticipation of an unusual heavy arrival of foreign coin and bullion at New York, the Secretary of the Treasury has increased the bullion fund at the assay office ten million dollars in order to facilitate the prompt exchange of foreign coin for U. S. legal tender.

Hanlan and Courtney.

Acheny, Sept. 11 .- A special says that a meeting has been arranged between Courtney and his backer, and Haulau and his representative, at the office of A. T. Soule, donor of the $6,000 purse, in Rochester on Friday. The location, distance, date and terms of the race will be settled, and articles of agreement drawn and signed. Chautauqua lake is favored by the Hanlan party.

Justice Chloroformed.

New Year, Sept 11.—The Herald says It has just been discovered, except by those who are interested in keeping the matter dark, that about 30 indictments for conspirney and murder in the Chisholm case, have slumbered undisturbed in Kemper county for two years, no arrests having In such a county the development of the Ya-zoo plan was inevitable.

Fever Ruging in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Sept. 11,-A fatal fever is raging in the counties of Polk, Paulding and Harrison, and within a few days over fifty men have died in an exclusively rural population. The victims are mostly young men. Those attacked suffer terribly, the tongue turning black and swelling double the size, and blood oozing from their mouth and ears. Immediately after death the bodies become spotted and discolored. Of 29 cases under one physician's treatment not one recovered and the greatest alarm and distress prevails and the fever is steadily spreading The Maine Election.

New York, Sept. 11.—The following are the very latest figures from the Maine elec-tion: The vote cast for governor in 376 ton: The vote cast for governor in 376 towns is 124,274, divided as follows: Davis, 62,552; Smith, 42,914; Garcelon, 18,559; scattering, 249. The remaining 123 towns cast the following vote last year: Connor, 5,201; Smith, 4,563; Garcelon, 3,259; total 13, 023. The opposition to the Republicans had a majority in these towns last year of

New York Democratic Convention.

Synacuse, Sept. 11.—The ballot for Gover-or resulted: Whole number of votes, 301; accessary to a choice, 151; Robinson, 242; necessary to a choice, 151; Robinson, 242; Slocum, 56; Clarkson N. Potter, 1; Hora-tion Seymour, 1. So the chairman declared Lucius Robinson the nominee for governor. Cowen moved that the nomination be made amanimous; carried with but two or three objections.

Money Metals. Washington, Sept. 12.—Burchard, director of preparing statistics relative to the production and consumption of gold and silver, ask. Ireland. ing those employed in arts and manufactures to furnish statements showing their yearly or monthly consumption of U.S. coin, native bullion, or of metals obtained from old manufactured articles. Full and specific information on these points is regarded of vast importance in its bearing upon the economy and history of the metallic currency of this Revenue Receipts.

Aggregate internal revenue receipts from all sources up to and including to-day, show an increase of $72,000 over the corresponding period of last year.

Massachusetts Greenbackers.

Boston, Sept. 12 .- The State Convention of the national Greenback labor party as-sembled at Fancuil Hall to-day. The following ticket was placed in nomination: For Governor, Benjamin F. Butler; Lieutenant Governor, Wendell Phillips; Treasurer, Wilbur F. Whitney; Auditor, Davis J. King; Secretary of State, Jonathan Arnold; At-terney General, Horace B. Sargent.

Agreeably Disappointed.

MONTHOMERY, Ala., Sept. 12.-A man named Bailes was sentented to be hanged at Athens to-day, but the case was appealed to the supreme court next term and sentence ded. Bailes killed his wife and narrowly escaped lynching at the time. Three thousand people assembled to-day at noon, broke the jail and took Bailes half a mile out of town for the purpose of hanging him, but no one would tie the knot. The sheriff then jumped into a wagon, pistol in hand, and drove Bailes back to town and lodged him in jail. The crowd slowly disperse i.

Maryland Republican Convention. BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.-The Republican State Convention was held to-day in Concordia Hali. There was an unusually full attendance and Milton G. Urner was made president. Ex-Postmaster-General Croswell was nominated for governor, but he declined as his private affairs require his entire time and attention, and named James A. Gray, of Howard county, for governer: The nomination of Gray was received with the wildest applause, and he was made the candidate for governor by acclamation.

Samuel Mollaber was nominated for comptroller; Francis M. Darby for attorney-general and J. L. McCullough for clerk of the court of appeals.

The Fever.

cases of yellow fever at Morgan City and two mild cases in the infected district in New Orleans.

Esquimoux, dogs, sleighs and other articles to complete her outfit for a cruise to the North Pole.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that assistant inspectors of steam vessels are incompetent, under the law, to sign certificates of inspection.

MEMPHIS, Sopt. 12.—Cases, twonty-one deaths, four; weather favorable

NEW YORK, Sept. 12th. W. J. Smith, Acting President of the Howard Association, Memphis:—I send you by telegraph an additional $5,000 to-day. JAY GOULD.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Impending Strikes,

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Iron masters of Lan-arkshire and Ayrshire reject the demand of workingmen for an increase of wages until the price of iron exceeds 50 shillings per ton. One-third of the furnaces are to be blown out, masters believing the revival in the iron trade only temporary.

Self-acting winders in the Ashton cotton mills have almost determined on a strike. If weavers do not strike with the winders they will in almost every case be locked out. Funds of the winders union will possibly enable them to continue the struggle for two months or more. The weavers could net possibly remain so long without experiencing great privations. Card-room hands will doubtless be locked out when the struggle begins. A five per cent. reduction in wages has been covated in the Lencaster wills and has been posted in the Lancaster mills and short time and reduction of wages in the mills near Stockport. Operators of two large mills at Mossely have struck against reduction posted at other mills,

From India,

A special dispatch from India says that two regiments of Highlanders and two regitwo regiments of Highlanders and two regi-ments of native troops are moving up the Kuram valley, and that two regiments of na-tive cavalry and one British and two native regiments of infantry are now on their way to the Kuram valley.

The statement that the sepoys who were with the embassy were left alive is disbe lieved.

Spring Wheat a Pailure.

Tonosto, Sept. 11.—Spring wheat in On-tario has been a signal failure—injured by midge, weavil and rust.

Skipping Out.

RANGOON, Sept. 12. — A government steamer has left Mandelay, bringing down the staff of the British residency at that place, fears being entertained that King Theban would follow the example set at Cabul by massacreing the embassy. Figures. LONDON, Sept. 12 .- The Viceroy of India telegraphs a sketch of military arrangements under date of September 11th, Gen. Roberts will have 6,500 men, consisting of we brigades of infantry and one of cavalry,

This force takes possesssion of the country from Shutargartern pass to Cabul, and from Shutargarten pass to Thull. The country will be held by 4,000 men under Gen. Gorden, and the Khyber line from Peshawu to Ghundamuk will be protected by 6,600 men in addition to the Peshawur garrison. This force will provide a movable column to hold Jaggalallak and communicate with Cabul reserves at Peshawur Rawui. Pinai will number 5,000 men. The above force will represent a division capable of meeting all opposition. It will have its headquar-ters at Cabul, and an army line to the base of Peshawur. It will have a second line by way of Shutargarten till that pass is closed, after which Gen. Roberts will look for maintenance to Cabul and Peshawur. The Khyber column is in active organization. Troops are now advancing to occupy Dakka. Guides are pusning on to Bazawal. A correspondent at Allahabad says orders are to occupy Cabul with or without the Ameer's occupy Cabul with or without the Ameer's

The Harvest in France. France, Sept. 12.—Twenty-eight million francs worth of French gold will leave for the United States this week. In a detailed annual statement relative to the French barvest Esteinue, a great agricultural authority, says that it has been very good in four depart-ments, good in seven, fair in 24, poor in 40, bad in 15. This year the aggregate crop will be ninety million hectolitres against ninetyfive million last year. This will make neces-sary the importation of five or six million

Farmers Descritor England.

London, Sept. 12 .- A party or farmers sailed to day from Liverpool for Canada to investigate the advantages of settlement in the Dominion. They represent Roxeburgh-shire, Boswickshire and Dumfrieshire, Scotland; Durham, Cumberland and Yorkshire; of the mint, has issued a circular with a view of preparing statistics relative to the produc-counties of England and several districts of

PACIFIC COAST.

Kalloch's Programme

San Fhancisco, Sept. 11.-Dr. Kalloch, nayor elect, having enjoyed a hearty breakfast this morning, and sitting up comfortably in bed, attended by his wife, allowed himself to be interviewed on the work he has cut out for himself when he assumes the reins of office. "I am glad," said the doctor, "to be able to say a few words. I am getting better all the time. I believe I could get up now and dress myself if the physicians would only let me. Since the people have honored me with their choice, I have had but one honestly in all things. I shall be assisted by true men in some of the other executive de partments to carry out the reforms which are needed. I hope also that the new super-visors and school directors will try to redeem their respective boards from old reproaches that have been attached to them in the past. that have been attached to them in the past. I intend to go to the bottom of everything in the discharge of my official duties. I have no friends to reward, no enemics to punish and no vindictive feelings to gratify. I have long been satisfied that the people of this city have been unreasonably burdened by excessive taxation, and also by too heavy charges for water and gas. Whatever is fair and just to water and gas companies nearly and just to water and gas companies, people will cheerfully render, but more than this I shall, on their behalf, resist. I am in full sympathy with the Workingmen's party in their policy of retrenchment, and I shall use all my official power to effect thorough reform in this directio

The Grant Reception.

In pursuance with the action of a conference with citizens last evening at the Palace Hotel, Mayor Bryant appointed 11 members of the 15 to constitute the executive committee for the Grant reception. The remaining four will be appointed this evening. Those selected are, Governor elect Perkius, W. H. L. Barnes, Samuel Wilson, Wm. T. Cole-man, Tiburcio Parrott, J. P. Jackson, John McComb, John Rosenfeld, Claus Spreckels, John H. Wise, and W. W. Montague.

The Jeannette.

The schooner Ounalaska, which arrived in port to-day from Sanak, reports that the Bennett Arctic exploring steam yacht Jean-nette sailed from Ounalaska for St. Michaels Washington, Sept. 12.—A telegram to the at 7.30 A. M. on Angust 6th. At St. MiNational Board of Health reports five new chaels the Jeanmette was to take on board fall with infinitely more grace if starch better to sell at a loss in these times to teach you both to be more silent. Go,

There are five desired from Canadaska for St. Milin, while the dainty folds of the robe of the starch better to sell at a loss in these times to teach you both to be more silent. Go,

There are five dainers now sire that is all I have to say to you Children Poisoned.

URIAH, Sept. 11.—Three children of John McGrath, living near this place, were poisoned by eating bread and milk, the milk being fresh and warm from the cew. Seen after the little ones had eaten their usual supper they complained of feeling sick. From the symptoms, the mother, who was blue, great coat, in which his appear alone at the time, concluded that they were ance was not altogether prepossessing ance at the conceded that they was not altogether prepossessing. poisoned, gave such remedies as she had at hand, saving one by the use of warm water and salt. The other two little girls, aged ally received with a coolness and indiftwo and seven, dying in convulsions. The cow also had spasms, leading the doctor to the conclusion that the animal had been Preparations to Receive Gen. Grant. San Francisco, Sept. 12.—The committee of arrangements having in charge prepara-tions for the reception of General Grant met at the Palace Hotel this afternoon. A communication was received from the Pacific Mail Steamship Company tendering the use of the steamer China to meet the City of Tokio outside of the heads, and offering to obtain cable advices from Yokohama as to the probable time of arrival of the expected guest, Goodall, Perkins & Co. also tendered the steamer Ancon for the same purpose in case circumstances should oblige them to withdraw the offer of the steamer State of California. The Pacific Yacht club also sent in a letter announcing their intention of cruising seaward with a squadron to escort the City of Tokio on her arrival. The various offers were accepted. The sense of the meeting was that in view of the recep-tion being in the day time it should be de-cidedly nautical in character, and a desire was expressed that every one owning a sail in the harbor should spread it on the bay in honor of the event.

Like All the Rest.

"My dear," said Mrs. Joblink last vening, "when can I go ?"

The lady referred to a visit to California which she had been contemplating for months.

"How soon do you want to go?" inquired Mr. Joblink, looking up from the Chronicle, and benevolently gazing through his spectacles upon the partner of his wallet.

"Just as soon as ever I can," replied the lady eagerly.

"Let's see," said Joblink, pulling out his pencil and preceeding to figure. "Mebbe in three weeks, Mariar, mebbe four," and he continued to figure.

"Four weeks," murmured Mrs. J., in disappointed undertone.

"Ah, I know what'll fix it, Mariar, suddenly exclaimed the old gentleman tossing aside his paper and pencil, "Pil sell my Belcher. I'm tired o' payin' assessments. You can start day after to-morrow

"Lord bless me!" cried the bewildered Joblink, "what on earth's the matter,

Mrs. Joblink burst into tears.

Mariar !" "You-you-oo oo-oo-want me to go way, you old brute! Hoo-oo-oo!"

An hour later an elderly gentleman might have been seen in a leading saloon with his hat jammed on the back of his head and his c.avat untied, inviting all hands up to drink .- Virginia Chronicle.

Can't Afford to Marry.

Cirls, do you hear this? Many good en are crying, "Can't afford to marry!" Why i "Expense of supporting a wife," Why support a wife i Might not wives be made self-supporting, or partly so? Isn't there something wrong in this system which makes matrimony dependent on a man's ability to pay all the wife's expenses? Is it not filling ficers of the guard, which Napoleon had the land with old maids ! Has it not overheard, done so for the last half century? Who voice which had caused beroes to tremmarry most | What race? The people ble, demandedwho care nothing for keeping up style. The foreign-born, whose women turn to and tend the shop. The cultivated impatiently where he was, American is not the marrying man. He now stepped forward and volunteered to likes the goods on exhibition, but they're be answerable for the debt with which too costly for his every-day wear, assurance the mistress of the cafe was Hence, oft they remain on the counter satisfied. Durce regarded the young until shop-worn. This is a crying evil. man with surprise, and drawing from cause so many of our girls are saying, brilliants, said to him-"You must take me for better, for worse, to feed me, to clothe me, to warm me to keep me clad in the fashion, to give me a house proportionate to my style, to keep me in pin money, and I will condescend to live with you, and you are men of honor." take your money, and do nothing to earn more, and to lament, if anything goes wrong, that I didn't marry better, confidence in us." and you must regard it as a great favor wish and that is to serve them faithfully and on my part." The man wants you pretty badly, but it's too heavy a contract. Things must be rearranged so to Napoleon, who laughed heartily, and that you can carry more of your end of was much pleased by the generosity of the log.

A Change.

Isn't it about time that our humorous artists stopped portraying Uncle Sam as a long, lean, lank specimen of humanity, and sketching John Bull as a tat, round, jolly person, weighing about two hun-dred and fifty pounds? Since Uncle Sam is sending John Bull ship loads of breadstuffs out of his plentiful store to keep the Briton from starving, it seems to us that the thing should be vice versa just now-Uncle Sam the fat person and John Ball the lean, hungry-looking individual. -Nor. Her.

No More Starch for Babies.

Babies have been starved long enough on such starchy foods as arrow root, which contain scarcely any nourishment, nurses and dectors to the contrary, notwithstanding, and now a wise and kind public opinion has about concluded that me they have been scratched and punished long enough by having starch put in Napoleon.

Napoleon was very fond of walking the streets of Paris incognito, in search of adventures. On these occasions he generally wore a round hat and long, ance was not altogether prepossessing. was unaccustomed.

One morning shortly before Christmas he rose as early as seven, and accompanied by Duroc, grand marshal of the palace, who wore the same sort of disguise as Napoleon, left the Tuillieries just as day was breaking. After a walk through the Palace Vendome, thence to the Rue de Napoleon, where he much admired the splendid mansions which had recently been erected there, chatting familiarly with Duroc, he observed-

"It seems to me that the Parisians in this quarter are very lazy, to keep their shops shut at this time of day."

Discoursing thus they arrived at the Chinese bath rooms, which had been recently painted and embellished. As they were criticising the decorations of the exterior the cafe, which belonged to the establishment, opened.

"Suppose we enter and breakfast here," said Napoleon to Duroc. "What do you say? Has not your walk given you an appetite?"

"Sire, it is too early ; it is only eight o'clock.

"Bah! bah! Your watch is always too slow. As for me, I am quite hun-Afterward we can return home. "Pay, and let us return now."

Then, rising and going to the door, he began to whistle an Italian recitative, and endeavored to appear at ease.

The grand marshal, after fruitlessly searching his pockets, found that, having dressed in haste, he had forgotten his purse, and he well know that Napoleon never carried money about him. Nevertheless, the waiter came and presented the bill to the grand marshal, who stood mute with surprise at not being able to discharge it, although the amount was only twelve francs.

Napoleon, not knowing what detained Durce, and not accustomed to be kept waiting, re-entered saying impatiently. "Come, make haste, it is late.

The grand marshal, now comprehending the unpleasant situation in which he was placed, and thinking that the best way to get out of it was to avow frankly his inability to discharge the debt, approached the mistress of the cafe (who sat silent and indifferent at the counter), and said politely but con-

"Madame, my friend and myself left home this morning a little precipitately; we quite forgot to bring our purse -bu I give you my word that in an hour I will send you the amount of your bill." "It may be so, sir," coldly replied the lady ; "but I know neither of you, and we are every day taken in in this manner. Do you think that-

"Madame," interrupted the grand marshal, reddening with rage at this answer, "we are men of honor-we are officers of the guard."

"Oh, yes! fine excuses, truly-officers of the guard, indeed !"

he turned round, and in a

"What is this all about f" But at a sign from Duroc, he remained Our best men are not marrying. Be- his pocket a gold watch encircled with > "My friend, you have acted nobly; keep this watch till I return to recom pense you.

> "Sir," replied the waiter, "I have no wish to take it: I feel convinced that > "Good, my friend," said the grand marshal, "you shall never repent your

He then rejoined the Emperer.

On their way to the palace, Duroc recounted the particulars of the adventure the poor waiter, who had become security for them without knowing who they were.

On their way to the palace they came to the Passage des Panoramas, which was then one of the most elegant passages or covered ways in Paris. There a shop attracted the attention of Napoleon. It contained a fine collection of porcelain vases. Two superb vases were exposed to view, and appearing to the Em-peror very tasteful, he entered the shop and demanded the price.

The mistress of the shop, with a sneer on her countenance, coolly asked him if he wanted to purchase them.

"Why, madame, I should not have asked the price unless I had thought of purchasing them I' exclaimed Napoleon, irritated at the cold impudence of the "Four thousand francs-not a farthing less, monsieur.

"Four thousand francs! That is horribly dear, madame-much too dear for

And touching his hat, he was about to leave the shop, when the woman with for yourself. But tell your wife if she their clothes. Soft wool needs no starch, her hands in her pockets, added surens does not attend to her domestic affairs, has not stiffened it and prepared it to than starve. There are fine doings now-take on innumerable creases.

adays! Always war-all the world Good day."

complains! Business is at a standstill now, and the shopkeepers are ruined; but we do not pay less taxes. During this address Napoleon's counenance became highly expressive-his eyes flashed, and his cheeks were flushed with rage. At length he interrupted her by saying-

"Madame, have you a husband Where is he ? Can I see him?"

"Eh! la! la! do not be angry, mon sier! I have a husband, thank heaven, but he is gone to seek money. But what can you want with him when I am here ?

"Enough, madame, eaough! I wished to tell your husband that—perhaps I should send for those nice vases.

He then left the shop, disgusted with the woman whose coolness and politics had so much exasperated him.

"Faith!" said he, when he had re-joined Duroc, "I have had a sound lecture from a foolish woman, who seems to attend more to politics than her business. Oh! I will have her husband's head shaved; it is his fault."

The Emperor and the grand marshal now returned to the Tuilleries, having both met with adventures, the one with a shopkeeper and the other with a waiter.

About six weeks after these occurences, Napoleon said one evening to Doroc,-

"I have nothing to do now; suppose we go and see how the shops look. the by, how did you settle the affair at the Chinese Baths ?"

"Indeed, sire, I am glad you have nentioned the subject, for I had quite forgotten all about it.

"That is wrong, Duroc, very wrong. may be allowed to forget such trifles, but you-"Sire, I will immediately make the mend honorable. "Yes, do, and let it be done in a way which will please me; you understand. At the same time let the female politician be ordered to send her husband here with the two yases which I looked at when I paid her a visit. I am somewhat in her debt. Ah! ah! 'tis my turn now, and we shall see !"

Duroe having given precise directions to one of the imperial footmen, dispatched him to the Bains Chinois, when he thus addressed the mistress of the cafe-

"Madame, did not two gentlemen breakfast here about six weeks since, without settling their bill i "Yes, monsieur," replied the lady, very much troubled, seeing that the inquirer wore the livery of the palace. "Well, madame, those gentlemen were the emperor and the grand mar-shal of the palace. Can I see the waiter who became security for them ?"

"Yes-certainly-sir." The mistress rang the bell and feit very uneasy; she thought of nothing less than going to the palace to implore the forgiveness of the emperor. When the waiter appeared the footman gave him a roll of fifty napoleons and said to him,-"In addition to this, the grand marshal of the palace has charged me to say that if you have any favor to ask for yourself or friends he will be most happy to grant it." The name of the waiter was Dargens; he hastened to accept the kind offer of who was standing near, cornered At these words, men of honor and ofsoon gained the confidence of the Em. a large animal and seemed to be press Josephine and became her special fairly upon the little fellow who attendant. After her divorce he accom- sistance reached and rescued him panied her to Malmaison and-singular his terrible position. How he os destiny of men of this time-eventually being crushed to death is quite a r entered the service of Wellington in ry, saying nothing of the surprising

> After the visit of the Bains Chinois, the imperial footman reached the Passage des Panoramas, when he entered the shop of the voluble woman.

"Sir," said he, addressing the master, you are requested to go to the palace this instant with the two vases which the emperor inquired the price of about six weeks since in your shop. His Imperial Majesty is now waiting for you." "Heaven!" he cried; "I shall shot !" Then addressing his wife, who was terribly frightened and unable to speak, he said:

"I have no doubt that you, madame, have been talking politics to the emperor, speaking ill of the government, as you always do; and this to the emperor himself! When will you learn to cease your cursed babbling? Ah! I am a lost man! I shall be shot !"

Here fright nearly overpowered the poor man, who seemed shocked that his wife should have taken the emperor for a police spy. However, he mustered all his courage and arrived with the vases at the Tuilleries, where he was immediately ushered into the presence of Napoleon, who thus addressed him:

"So, sir, I have found you at last-I am glad to see you here.

Then taking from a drawer in his desk eight bank notes for a thousand francs each, he presented them to the dealer, who was trembling with fear, and with difficulty advanced to receive them. And then, with that peculiar sarcastic brevity with which he invariably spoke when he wished to repreach, he added:

"I went the other day to your shop. I bargained for two vases; your wife asked four thousand francs, telling me that they cost her five thousand. Well, although that was a falsehood, I now give you eight thousand; take them, There are four for the vases and four

Probably Fatai Acciden

Oregon Lady While Practice Throwing the Lasso Thrown fro Mustang and Probably Fatali jured.

In the San Francisco Chroni Sunday last we find the follo Mrs. Mary Moran, a middle aged lady, on a visit from her Oregon to her relatives in Alameda and (Costa counties, met with a terrib cident yesterday morning at w known as the "Kanaka Davis R some twelve miles east of San and about the same distance no Oakland. She was taking less throwing the lasso, when the me she was riding became unmana and dashed through the chaparre along a precipitous trail at the his speed. Her friends follow fast as possible, and after sea for an hour and a half, foun woman lying on the ground in a of insensibility, her form entangle the lariat, and her body drawn t against a thick growth of chap where it had been dragged by the mustang. She was speedily re from her dangerous predicament ar ried to the cabin of a Portuguese herder named Silva, where she w stored to corsciousness and a phy sent for. Her left arm was for have sustained two fractures an was badly injured internally. clothing was torn into shreds ar flesh terribly lacerated. It is th scarcely possible for her to recove Mechanics' Fair Postponed.

running in every direction, Po will contain more people than assembled at one time or place of the North Pacific Const, and it w one continued festival of excit

The opening of the Mechanics has been postponed until Me October 20th, in order to secur presence of Gen. Grant at the opening. With this eminent n attendance, and special trains and parture. We hope to see the event occur. Report of the Clark of the Board of Land Commissioners.

from the time he arrives until I

Mr. McCornack, clerk of the I makes a report of the money reand disbursed in his office, from Oc 1878 to Sept. 1, 1879, as follows:

Sapitol Building Fund ... The several amounts have been t ver to the State Treasurer, as

A Narrow Escape. Clarence, the younger son of Mr. Watt, narrowly escaped a shocking a few days ago, under circums about as follows: Mr. Watt had mare that got snagged while ru about, from the effects of which she In her death struggle she got the that he did not receive a fracture location. He was badly bruised by Went Ashere.

permanently injured.—Yambill I

The tug Katie Cook, 39 tons by Henry H. Fields, master, in cre Alsea bar, struck, disarranging rudder which, coming in contact the propeller, broke off two flukes same, rendering the vessel unmana In this condition, she went on the sand spits. By letter from the Ca three days after the disaster, he sa chances of getting her off with trifling injury are good. The Ca was unacquainted with the place; is but little was known of the Alsea Mr. Habersham's survey was There is no doubt but that the Coo out of the channel, which at the da hour that she crossed must have h least eighteen feet of water on th and the Captain, undoubtedly, took he considered to be the best rout the best water. The vessel is unin and quite new. Estimate of Expenditures. Yesterday the County Court w session and among other business acted the following estimate of expures for the fiscal year ending Ju 1880, was made:

Paupers. Roads and bridges Jauitor.... Furniture Furniture (ias and water,
Justice Courts (State cases) forz.

Justice Courts (State cases) witnesses and lurors.

County Court.
Police Court (state cases).

Salaries of county officers. Military______ and collection of revenues.

Having made the above estimate of extres, the court proceeded to make the b

lares, the capenses of Stale
For current expenses of Stale
Fryment of outstanding State warrants
Common schools
Current expenses of County