SWEET POTATOES.

The other day we made a practical test of the sweet potato raised by our friend M. Wilkins, of Lane county, and found that when cooked it was fully equal to the best imported. It was quite large, and every way desirable. If we can raise as good sweet potatoes as that in Oregon, there should be no time lost in doing it.

NORTHWESTERN HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Portland, Oct. 18, 1879. The society met at the council chamber, President S. Luelling in the chair and S. A. Clarke Secretary pro tem. The minutes were approved as published.

MANAGEMENT OF THE STATE FAIR.

CRESWELL, Or., Oct. 3, 1879. Editor Willamette Farmer: In the last issue of your paper I notice an article headed "Slenderous," in which you quote a paragraph from an editorial in the Christian Advocate.

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The recent fair, and several of its predecessors have been held under the most discouraging circumstances. Four years out of the past five rains have occurred at fair time, and it is a matter of surprise that the society has maintained itself against these adverse conditions as well as it has.

Spasmodic Colic in Horses.

Your article about colic in horses reminds me of a prescription that I have used for about 40 years for spasmodic colic in horses, and the human subject also, and have never known it to fail of an almost instant cure.

BEAVERTON GRANGE FAIR.

BEAVERTON, Ogn., Oct. 18, 1879. Editor Willamette Farmer: The second annual exhibition of the Beaverton Grange Fair was attended with a fair measure of success and excellence in the several departments represented.

THE SILVER PRUNE.

The identity of the Silver Prune and the Coe's Golden Drop seems established beyond question by the judgment of the State Horticultural Society; but their judgment was so rendered as to decide that while certain fruit has been propagated in Oregon as the Coe's Golden Drop, which was not the true variety, the so-called Silver Prune is the true and veritably superior fruit.

From Lebanon.

Editor Willamette Farmer: Farmers are badly struck with rust up here, and a great many are broke up, and nearly everyone is hard up, all the fruits of going in debt, and farming too much land.

Lane County Pomona Grange.

IRVING, October 20, 1879. This Grange will hold a special meeting at Eugene City on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 10 o'clock A. M., and a general attendance is desired.

Uncut Grain.

Mr. J. M. Conlee, of West Chealem, informs us that on his way down he saw considerable grain standing in the fields uncut at Wapato lake and between here and Chealem on the Taylor bridge road.

The Womack Settlement.

Speaking of this settlement the Mountaineer says: Mr. Bosley informs us that the farmers living in the settlement have raised large crops of grain and vegetables this season—some fields averaging over forty bushels of wheat to the acre.

Walla Walla Grangers.

Resolved, That Pomona Grange, No. 1, of Walla Walla county, is in favor of a fence law, and that the enactment of a law to the contrary in the opinion of this Grange will undoubtedly operate disadvantageously to the farming interests of this valley.

Walla Walla County.

As an evidence of enterprise among Washington Territory dairymen, the fact that Mr. A. T. Davis, of Dungeness, has sent for and obtained a set of large vats, stands prominent.
