

Heavy Train.

This morning a train consisting of twenty-two box cars was taken out of the Western Oregon road to load with grain.

For the Winter.

Mr. A. L. Lovejoy and family, who reside near Oregon City, where they conduct an extensive orchard and fruit business, have removed to this city where they will reside during the coming winter.

Business Like.

Since the new depot and warehouse has been completed below the railroad office for the Western Oregon line quite a business like air has been assumed in that vicinity.

The Surplus.

A surplus of about $650 was left over from the Grant reception fund, and the question as to its disposition arose. Last night the committee met and determined to distribute it among charitable institutions in the city.

Pugot Sound Frodoe.

The P. M. S. Co.'s steamship City of Chester, which sailed from Seattle for San Francisco yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, took the following list of freight from several Sound ports:

Eminently Corroer.

The Pugot Sound Argus remarks: What the country yearns for now is a racy, refreshing recital of the saddest stamper's so-called series of successes, by the Portland pen picture painters who print peculiar papers.

Something Strange.

Capt. Lowe has sent to Capt. A. D. Wass, of Astoria, two of the copper blunt bolts referred to on Sunday in the Astorian as found in the piece of wreck which drifted up on the beach below the lighthouse during the last storm.

Another Rich Strike.

A correspondent writing from Colville Valley under date of Nov. 20th, says: The Kootenia expressman, reports that when he passed the silver mines on the Smilkameen, he found everybody very much excited in reference to the richness of the ore that was being taken out by the company, recently organized by Mr. Smith at Olympia.

A Noble Enterprise.

The question that has for many years been troubling the farming and business interests of Clackamas county is the improvement of the county roads.

Court Martial.

One of the most important court martials ever convened in the Department of the Columbia is now in session at Fort Walla Walla, engaged in untangling a rumpus among the officers of the 2d Infantry.

On Monday next the gay and festive fireman will take his little ballot in his little hand, march up to the polls and vote for Chief and Assistant Engineers.

Refugees Captured.

On Thursday last Deputy Sheriff Johns, of Marion county, went up the road, having in charge two refugees from justice: Jerry Conway, charged with larceny of a pair of mules from Wm. Davis near Marion Station.

The Bribery Case.

The case of the State of Oregon vs John A. Carr, indicted for attempting to bribe a councilman to vote for S. G. Skidmore for Police Commissioner, came to an abrupt close in the State Circuit Court yesterday.

The Lumber Trade.

The Mills of Pugot Sound to Run on Two-thirds Time. By reason of a combination recently formed at San Francisco through the Pine Lumber Association, looking to a reduction of the lumber product, all the mills on the Sound will commence running on two-thirds time on Monday next.

A Grab Game.

Last evening about 6:30 o'clock the crash of glass on the corner of First and Washington street, at Woodward & Connell's broker office, attracted the attention of persons in that vicinity.

Columbia River Export.

Table with columns for destination, quantity, and value. Includes entries for Hongkong, Liverpool, and various local destinations.

Never be too warm in your praises of a lady's lady friends. Friendship should be encouraged, not discouraged.

Tualatin Water Works.

The Intention of the capitalists who have Undertaken to Bring Water into the City. AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

There is nothing more generally used and adds more of vigor and health to the human family than pure fresh water. In large cities the supply is always limited and high rates are charged for water that mountaineers or persons used to spring water would pronounce unfit for use.

The company guarantee to furnish fresh, pure water at one-third or one-half less rates than now charged and will bring a sufficient quantity to supply fire cisterns, etc., and 100,000 people.

A person writing over the signature, "John Chenoweth," published a communication in a morning paper last Wednesday, which we are informed by men of strict integrity is untrue in every particular.

The Upper Columbia.

As everybody is more or less interested in the weather along the Upper Columbia, we will from day to day publish telegraphic reports as received over the O. S. N. Co.'s lines from various points up the river.

Small table with 2 columns: Location and Temperature.

EATON COLLEGE, England, has established a factory, a building of three floors, in which various mechanical appliances are to be erected, where boys may be taught the practical use of tools.

TWO VILLAINS LIES ON EARTH.

A dispatch has been received over the O. R. & S. N. Co.'s lines from the Dalles, having been sent from Yakima City by mail, giving the following account of the execution of the murderers of the Perkins family:

Saloskin and Kiup, two of the Indian murderers of the Perkins family, were hanged here to-day at the hour of 12 M., by the sheriff, Mr. Schney, in the presence of a large audience of people. Prior to the execution, and by request of the Indians, the attendance of Rev. J. H. Wilbur, the agent, and Rev. Mr. Schafer, was procured in the morning to advise with the murderers respecting their future welfare in the world to come, and after singing and prayers by the ministers and a plain brief statement of the consequences of the violation of God and of man, and an earnest admonition to make their "peace, calling and election" sure, the Indians were then told that they could make any statements and after pausing for a while Kiup stated as follows:

Saloskin was then allowed to speak and said that he would corroborate the statement just made by Kiup respecting the conduct of Moostanic, and that he had but little else to say. After being asked if there was anything unrevealed heretofore respecting the Perkins murder, he said no.

After an eloquent prayer by Father Wilbur, the black caps and robes were adjusted and the trap fell. After they were pronounced by the attending physicians to be dead, their bodies were surrendered by the Sheriff to their friends, who took them away for interring according to their own customs.

Of the dead letters opened during the last fiscal year 13,775 contained drafts, checks, etc., representing a value of $1,100,000; about 64,000 letters contained money or stamps, aggregating a value of $34,000.

JAY GOULD has offered to take up one fourth of the stock necessary to put up a blast furnace and regular iron and steel rolling mill at Deaver.

Carrying Passengers by the Million.

In the month of October last, the elevated railroads of this city carried 4,958,853 passengers—nearly 5,000,000! This is an average of about 160,000 a day, counting seven days in the week. These are large figures. One hundred and sixty thousand is more than three times the whole population of Hartford.

The great benefit of the elevated roads is to the laboring classes—poor men can ride in their carriages—poor men must take the cars or go on foot. What difference does it make to a poor man, especially in the winter days, if he can save half an hour in the morning in going to his work, and half an hour in the evening in returning—one hour a day!

Exports of Live Animals.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the value of the exports of all kinds increased from $5,844,603 during the year ended June 30, 1878, to $11,487,754 during the year ended June 30, 1879.

The value of the exports of cattle increased from $3,890,818 during the year ended June 30, 1878, to $8,379,200 during the year ended June 30, 1879.

Under the present facilities for direct shipments on through bills of lading from the northwestern States of Europe, the persons placed in charge of the cattle at the interior point of shipment, in many instances, accompany them throughout the entire journey to Liverpool, thus securing greater efficiency in the care of the animals.

Governor Fenner, absenting himself from church on fast day, was told by Dr. Wayland that he did not obey his own proclamation. "Yes I do," he replied. "I tell the people to meet at their usual places of worship. Mine is at home."

A thoroughbred horse is the flower of the stable.

A Royal Foundling.

One night in 1801 a little girl, about one year old, was deposited in the drawer of the founding hospital at Brest. She was dressed with much finery, and a note, attached to her skirts, told that her name was Solange, and that she would be reclaimed by her father.

According to French custom she was buried in an open basket, and, as it was winter and the soil was frozen, she was laid into the grave, only covered with a thin layer of sand. During the night she awoke, and, pushing the sand away she crept out of this grave.

Meanwhile, investigations were made concerning the girl left in 1801 in the Foundling Hospital at Brest, and as those investigations were made by the Swedish Ambassador, and in a somewhat official manner, they attracted some attention.

Work and Worry.

"Studying too hard," "overworked," are charged with, many deaths, but not wisely. Trouble kills. It is a very rare thing for a man to think himself to death, unless connected with something more or less distressing. Study is a bliss to the student—he had rather study than eat; the sound of the dinner-bell is always unwelcome.

It is haste, rather than study, continuous labor of body and mind, which hurries multitudes to their graves scores of years before their time. With all haste there is impatience, solicitude, worry. The fastest trains, the fleetest steamers, the first trotters, everywhere command premiums. To save time "night boats" are patronized, breakfast is bolted, the morning paper read on the cars, and everything is done under high pressure.

Judah P. Benjamin, who was leading counsel in a case recently tried in London, began an argument with the adjuration: "In the name of Heaven!" The master of the roll instantly stopped him, saying very quietly: "I do not see that Heaven has much to do in this case, Mr. Benjamin; the proper appeal is to the appellate court."