Grange Department. NATIONAL GRANGE.

Our Eastern exchanges bring us mention of the meeting of the National Grange, and from the Elmore Husbandman we take extracts from the address of Master J. J. Woodman regarding that we have net space for the same entire.

Referring to the rise of the order he said: 'The moment which at first seemed but a ground swell, became a tidal wave, and during the month of December, 1873, and the five following months, more than ten thousand Granges were organized.

Our Declaration of Purpose, adopted by the National Grange, they treated as a compilation of glittering generalities, the intimated real aims of the organization were hidden in its secret mysteries. While these influences had the effect to increase the membership, yet they deepened the suspicions, and aroused the opposition of those engaged in other pursuits.

For this great work of educating and elevating the agricultural classes of this country, and to save them from the impending fate that has befallen the agriculturists of the Old World, was our Order created; and its future prosperity will depend largely upon the legislation of this body.

have a more thorough knowledge of the work and the real purposes we aim to accomplish than ever before, can not be doubted; and consequently are prepared to take an advanced step, and place the Order upon a higher plane.

The aim of our legislation and recommendations should be to encourage and strengthen the Subordinate Granges. Let this object be kept constantly in view, for upon their prosperity depends the very existence of our Order, and the principle hope for an independent and untrammelled agriculture in this country.

Measures should be inaugurated to put a good Grange paper into every family connected with the Order. Where members are not able to subscribe, appropriations to meet the expense should be made from the Grange treasury. The funds can be put to no better use.

To furnish a corps of lecturers, sufficient for so wide a field, at the expense of the National Grange, with its present revenue, is out of the question. This work must be mainly provided for by the State Granges.

The establishment of the agricultural department was a step in the right direction; and the efforts of the present commissioner to remove it from the influence of politics, and make it serve the interests of agriculture, must meet the hearty approval of all good citizens.

Editor Willamette Farmer: The members of the Sinlaw Grange have been debating the question of "free passes" granted by the transportation companies of Oregon, to the members of the Legislature and judiciary.

Have just been completed, by which we are enabled to supply the "Compound Oxygen" for home use to any extent, and to all parts of the country, giving at the same time the right of free consultation by letter during the treatment a patient may be using the Treatment.

Every case submitted to us will be, as we have said, carefully considered. If we see a reasonable ground for anticipating the favorable action of "Compound Oxygen," we will encourage the patient to give it a trial; but if we think the matter at all doubtful, we will frankly say so.

A GOOD HORSE. Scribner's Monthly. "I can't explain what a real good horse is," said one of the best-natured dealers in the street.

The world's treatment of man and beast has the tendency to enlarge and intensify bad qualities, if they predominate. This good natured phrenologist could not refrain from slapping in the face the horse whose character had been so cruelly delineated, while he had been so cruelly delineated, while he had but the gentlest treatment for a sick-limbed sorrel.

"That's an awful good mare," he added. "She's as true as the sun." You can see breath and fullness between the ears and eyes. You can't hit that mare to act mean or hurt anybody. The eye should be full and hazel is a good color.

Feeding Sheep. National Live Stock Journal. Many wool growers have failed to realize the maximum results from their sheep, by reason of inadequate or improper aliment.

The New York Spirit of the Times says to a correspondent, Eleas are troublesome pests to a dog, and on that account we will give you and our readers the best way in which they can be removed.

Holstein Cattle. Live-Stock Journal. This is a dairy breed, larger and coarser than the Ayrshires; and while it is claimed for them that they are superior to the Ayrshires as deep milkers, it is also claimed that they are better adapted to the production of beef.

THE sheep has always been a wealth producer. The latter end of Job "was blessed for he had 14,000 sheep," which would mean to one of us an income of just as many dollars per year, if not twice as many.

Germore's Artificial Ear Drums. PERFECTLY RESTORE THE HEARING. A safe and effective remedy for deafness.

SADDLE HORSES. The American Stockman has some interesting chat about saddle horses, from which we quote as follows. To the man who travels over the face of the earth, migrating from country to country, nothing will appear as more extreme in the manners of the different people he comes in contact with than their various methods of riding horses.

The immense sale and great popularity of Green's August Flower in all towns and villages in the civilized world has caused many imitators to adopt similar names, expecting to reap and harvest for themselves at the expense of the afflicted.

AGENTS AND CANVASSERS. Make from $25 to $50 per week selling goods for R. G. HILBERT & CO., 10 Broadway street, New York.

TO FARMERS AND LAND OWNERS. A NEW RAILWAY LAND OFFICE. A Plan for Settling Oregon Immigrants on Willamette Valley Lands.

The Oregonian Railway Company directors have ordered a land office to be opened in Portland in connection with that company's business. The narrow gauge company do not own any lands in Oregon, and its object in starting a land office is mainly to settle up and develop a greater extent of the unimproved tracts of farming lands lying idle along the proposed line of railway.

An interesting discovery has been made at Sandehver, in Norway, of a Scandinavian war vessel, buried under a hillock, a sailing vessel was found, which is thought to belong to those terrible highwaymen of the ocean, the Vikings, or Norwegian pirates.
