"NEZ PERCE JOSEPH."

General Howard's New Book—An Indian Hannibal. General O. O. Howard tells his story of the campaign against the Nez Perce Indians...

He describes with much dramatic force the causes of the outbreak under Chief Joseph, and the pursuit of the rebellious tribe on the Lolo trail for 1,321 miles.

American Flour Abroad.

The millers of France have become alarmed at the increase in the importation into that country of flour from the United States...

According to Vienna papers the increased import of American flour caused the business of the celebrated Hungarian milling industry to generally decline.

THE WHEAT CASE.—The case of Bank of British Columbia vs J. W. McGrew came up for trial Saturday before Judge Deady.

A TRAGIC STORY.

FROM A ROYAL COURT TO THE SAN FRANCISCO MORGUE.

Rescuing a Noble Lover From Prison—Shipwrecked Among Cannibals and Dying in Poverty.

Josephine Oriz in 1848 was young, beautiful and fascinating, a central figure in the brilliant society of Pesth, the Hungarian capital in which her father's (Count Oriz) rank and wealth placed her...

MAIDEN LOVE.

Among her suitors was Count Karly, a dashing patriot, whose outspoken opposition to the Austrians had anything but favored his suit in the eyes of Josephine's parents.

REIGNING CONTRAST.

Josephine and Count Karly reached Paris in safety, were married, and lived happily together until his death, in 1850.

HER TRIUMPH IN NEW YORK.

In 1852 Josephine joined the famous Mario-Grisi opera troupe, which was under engagement to Wax Maretzek for an American tour...

APPEARANCE IN THIS CITY.

She came here from Costa Rica, Central America, with a baritone named Fallini, and applied to Sigior Bianchi, then San Francisco's chief impresario, for an engagement.

ous apartments of a wealthy bachelor a Chronicle reporter yesterday learned some particulars of Josephine's history since her first appearance in this city.

REMINISCENCES OF A ROUE.

"I remember her as she looked in '63, big bright dark eyes, plenty of color in her face, and a perfect form. It was unfortunate that she had already acquired the vice that brought her to that place you speak of—the Morgue.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

"She married the late George Evans, the musical director, but they did not live happily and were divorced after a while. She got into a way of drinking odious stuffs, gin and such things, and did not seem to get herself quite as exclusive as formerly.

A TERRIBLE FINALE.

The three-story tenement house on the corner of Montgomery avenue and Chestnut street is occupied by half a dozen poor families, the female heads of which were glad to talk to the reporter about "the poor creature" whom the coroner had taken away from there the day before.

THE DEAD WOMAN.

Half an hour afterwards Bower woke up one of the women in the house and said his "wife" was very sick. He was advised to do what he could for her, but soon went again to the woman's door and asked her to come and see his wife.

GRAND CHAPTER, R. A. M.—The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the State of Oregon held its annual session in the Masonic Temple in this city Friday.

Bell, Grand Chaplain; J. W. Pratt, G. P. S.; J. K. Weatherford, G. R. A. C.; H. E. Harris, G. M. 31 V.; Albert Wilson, G. M. 21 V.; Thomas Alston, G. M. 1st V.; A. J. Woodworth, Grand Guard.

CLEARED.—The German ship Argo, Gotje, master, cleared at the custom house on Saturday for Queenstown with 32,500 cents of wheat, value $50,400, shipped by Nilson, Church & Co. She will go down river to-day or to-morrow.

The Use of Lemons.

The following concise account of the properties and uses of the lemon is taken from an exchange. The facts contained are well worthy of being borne in mind, for few persons are acquainted with all the various ways in which this most useful fruit may be employed with benefit.

The lemon is a native of Asia, although it is cultivated in Italy, Portugal, and in the South of France. In Europe, however, it seldom exceeds the dimensions of the smallest tree, while in its native state it grows to over ninety feet in height. Every part of this tree is valuable in medicine, though we rarely employ any of it but its fruit, that is, the lemon itself. And every one knows how to employ this, as in lemonade. To squeeze the juice into cold water, this is the shortest way, or to cut it into slices and let it soak in cold water; or to cut it into slices and then boil it. Either way is good. Lemonade is one of the best and safest drinks for any person, whether in health or not. It is suitable to all stomach diseases, is excellent in sickness—in cases of jaundies, gravel, liver complaint, inflammation of the bowels and fevers. It is a specific against worms and skin complaints. The pippins crushed may also be mixed with water and sugar and be used as a drink. Lemon juice is the best anti-acid remedy known. It not only cures the disease, but prevents it. Sailors make a daily use of it for this purpose. A physician suggests rubbing of the gums daily with lemon juice to keep them in health. The hands and nails are also kept clean, white, soft, and supple by the daily use of lemon instead of soap. It also prevents chilblains. Lemon is used in intermittent fevers mixed with strong hot black tea or coffee, without sugar. Neuralgia may be cured by rubbing the part affected with a lemon. It is valuable also to cure warts, and to destroy the hair with it. In fact its uses are manifold, and the more we employ it externally the better we shall find ourselves. Natural remedies are the best, and nature is our best doctor, if we would only listen to it. Decidually rub your hands, head and gums with it, and drink lemonade in preference to all other liquida. Another use to which they may be put is the flavoring of strawberries. We are in the habit of eating strawberries with cream, juice of an orange, etc. Now the way to make them harmless is to cover them with a very large allowance of powdered sugar, and then squeeze over them one, two or three lemons according to the quantity. The lemon juice brings out the strawberry flavor more than anything else, and its acidity is counteracted by the large quantity of sugar. The lemon juice should be in the same proportion as the cream would be in place of which it is used.
