

The latest news from the President is favorable, so much so that the members of his cabinet consider him now out of danger and are preparing to leave Washington for their summer vacation.

The President's Condition.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2, 12:30 P. M.—The President is passing the day comfortably with his head and shoulders raised in the same manner as he was yesterday. At the morning dressing of his wounds he was found to be doing admirably. His pulse is now 98; temperature, 99; respiration, 19.

The Assassin Asks for Release on Bail.
NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The Tribune's Washington special says: District Attorney C. K. Hill visited the jail yesterday for the first time in ten days. His visit was in consequence of a notification from Gutreau that he had an important communication to make to him. Upon the entrance of the district attorney into his cell Gutreau rose and produced a folded paper. This was found to be a petition drawn up in the hand of the assassin, and petitioning for his release from jail on bail in the sum of $15,000. Gutreau bases his claim for release on bail upon the fact that the President is now out of danger, and that his physicians concur in stating that there is no probability whatever of another relapse. The construction of the petition shows considerable familiarity with forms and methods of law. The document throughout is drawn up with a conciseness and exactness that indicate anything but inactivity. Gutreau was very anxious that the district attorney should take prompt action upon his prayer for release and intimated that in the event of favorable consideration of the petition he would have no difficulty in securing bondsmen in the sum indicated. A queer feature in this matter is that Gutreau managed to get information as to the favorable condition of the President and the opinions expressed by his physicians. The appearance of the assassin has changed but little since his commitment to jail. His complexion is pale, his hair is thinning and he moves with a lameness that is slightly different from the lameness noticed at the time of his incarceration.

Census returns show the population of the Dominion of Canada to be 4,350,933, an increase of 650,498 for the past ten years. The Kentucky legislature just elected is overwhelmingly Democratic. Beck will probably be elected to the Senate. Jerry Milligan, a negro of bad repute, killed one man and wounded another at Chicago on the 2nd for insulting him. The little steamer Chelona from the upper Columbia was placed on the barge Atlas Friday for transportation to Vancouver from the Cascades. The Emperor of Germany has conferred upon Prof. Wm. Dwight of Whitely, Massachusetts, the order of merit made vacant by the death of Thos. Carlyle. At the Meade v. Brook sale of racing stock on the 1st, 26 head brought $7,445. Dwyer Bros bought from Bowen & Co., Ranney and Blinks, price $10,000. Professor Bell's electric balance defines the position of the bullet that struck President Garfield as being buried in the wall of the abdomen 2 1/2 inches from the surface. On motion of Gladstone that Parcell be suspended from parliament for the rest of the sitting, Parcell arose and said he would save them the face of a vote, and walked out. Some roads are selling tickets in New York to Chicago with rebate, either without. Actual fare in all cases is seven dollars. Freight lately demoralized.

Heavy storm along the Hudson river on the 1st, much damage done by hail in many places; new capital at Albany struck by lightning and several workmen injured. Late on the night of the 2nd at Denver, the Colorado iron works with nearly all their machinery were destroyed by fire; losses about $125,000; insurance $15,000. A man named Robert Cooper, while at work on the steamer Mastick at Port Discovery, fell on the railroad track and broke his shoulder, and was brought to Port Townsend for medical assistance.

The President being wounded suffered from chronic dyspepsia; and physicians say that its effects are now visible and that the immense drain of pain from the system must be replaced by healthy diet. The run of salmon still continues very large in British Columbia, but it is thought it will not extend beyond another three weeks. The canneries are now working to their full capacity, but complain greatly of the lack of labor.

The Whitaker case cannot be decided until the general session Judge Advocate General can report it up to the President. Whitaker in the meantime remains a captive, although it is almost a fact that the court martial verdict is dismissal.

A heavy den was unroofed at Pittsburgh on the 1st, by McClure, a hardware merchant, who had suffered by his work, and the rain opened fire, killing McClure, and wounding one officer and seriously wounding two others. Two hundred people are on the trail of the murderers.

Ed. Shillibary telegraphed Mrs. Garfield that the world's conference of the Y. M. C. A. recalls its deep gratitude to God for preservation of the President's life, and earnestly prays for his complete recovery. Secretary Blain added a reply.

Gladstone debated Trickett in a three mile and wild race with a tortoise, at Brighton, on the 1st. Time 14:50. Gladstone's tortoise was assisted by a double barn, Gardner and Trickett won; Killis and Wire 21. Time 21 minutes.

It is announced that a plot for the assassination of the President has been discovered and traced by the Chicago police. A lady of high family was arrested, but she herself escaped. The Chicago police are now working to their full capacity, but complain greatly of the lack of labor.

Affairs in Perry county, Ark., are reported being in a terrible state, and the story goes that Judge Harris and three citizens were assassinated in the streets on the 2nd. Communication is difficult. Troops have left for the sea of war by a boat, reaching here this afternoon. The city is wild with rumors. More troops have been ordered to Perrydale.

Fire on the corner of Second and Washington streets, Friday night after 12 o'clock at the Dallas, totally destroyed the building occupied by Capt. J. B. Cann as a saloon. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the bursting of a lamp. Loss, $3,000; insurance, $2,000.

SALEM NOTES.

Death of Bishop Haven.

SALEM, Aug. 3, 1881.

At Salem, August 2, 1881, Bishop Erastus Otis Haven, D. D., L. L. D., of San Francisco, aged 64 years.

Bishop Haven was a graduate of Wesleyan University, afterwards filling a professorship in the University of Michigan and later its president. In 1879 he became president of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., and at the general conference of 1880 was elected bishop, to reside on the Pacific Coast. By invitation of the trustees of Willamette University he came to deliver the Baccalaureate sermon, and during the commencement week he once addressed the students, which was the last time he appeared in public, being prostrated soon after with a malarial fever, the germ of which was contracted before coming to this State, and since that time he has been better and worse alternately, although all hope of his recovery was not abandoned until the day of his death. One incident of his life is not generally known—he was first named for this point, then a mission, but Rev. Jason Lee was afterwards sent instead, which was probably the reason of his unusual interest in this place, and by his own request his remains will repose in the Lee Mission cemetery. During his illness he was faithfully cared for at the parsonage by Rev. J. N. Denison and wife, and Mrs. Haven, who arrived about two weeks since.

Bishop Haven was a man of fine attainments and rare scholarship, and the author of several volumes of merit, among them "Pillars of Truth and Rhetoric." He leaves a wife and five children, of whom one son only was able to be with him at the last.

A refined and appreciative audience greeted the B. Stos Quintette Club on its appearance at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, and were more than satisfied with their exquisite renditions of the best composers; each artist was enthusiastically applauded, almost equally so, the clarinet solo by Thomas Ryan.

Enclosed is the prospect of being doubly favored musically—we have had no brass band for years, and now one is fully organized and another is in contemplation.

The summer flittings continue, mostly to Melama on the Santiam, but a large party are bound for the Yaquina Bay.

Lieutenant Schwatka arrived last evening, accompanied by his brother A. C. Schwatka, and will visit their parents a short time. The famous explorer is expected to favor the citizens with a lecture on his travels and adventures in the Arctic regions.

CHEMERATA.

Harned Harned—Runaway.

Our Forest Grove correspondent August sends us the following under date of August 3, 1881:

The barn of the widow Chandler was burned to the ground yesterday evening with all its contents, consisting of four or five tons of hay and various farming implements. How the fire was started no one knows. As the barn was only 25 feet from the wood house, which was joined to the dwelling house it was with the utmost difficulty that the last named houses were saved. No regular firemen ever showed more determined pluck or greater coolness than the men of Forest Grove, who fought back the flames from the imperiled premises.

On Mr. Patton, who was thrown from a wagon last summer and badly injured, had the misfortune to let the same team run away with him again to-day. He and a small boy were thrown out of the buggy and both badly hurt.

A ROYAL PASSAGE.—The British bark Countess of Derby, Hanker master, which arrived on Monday from Middleboro, England with rails and railroad material for the narrow gauge was 161 day on the passage. She experienced a constant succession of gales, and a rough weather till past Cape Horn, after which the weather was pleasant. On May 15th, while in south latitude 57 deg. 35 sec, longitude 72 deg. 42 min. west, she encountered a terrific gale from the northwest. At 1:30 P. M. the main stay-sail blew to pieces and a tremendous sea broke over her, mashing the starboard boat to pieces and washing it and its contents overboard and breaking bridge sail and washing overboard stanchions and part of bridge, compass stand and compass, tearing from the deck the steering binnacle and washing away compass lamps etc., breaking one spoke out of wheel, damaging wheel box and wreathing and tearing same from deck, breaking one iron poop rail stanchion and starting rail, starting twelve main bulkhead stanchions and the main rail on the port side. A second huge sea broke over the ship, forcing her main stay-sail to pieces, sweeping on board port board and all belonging to it. The gale continued for several days, on the 22d blowing the topmast stanchion completely away. These are only a portion of the damages suffered by this vessel which now lies at the wharf looking as tall and trim as if she had never been through a storm.

SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION.—Mr. S. Lawson, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, posed his tent yesterday in the Custom House grounds, and last evening was busy making observations. He commenced his work at Jacksonville and has made observations at several points between there and this city, and will also visit Astoria and then proceed to Idaho, and from there to Puget Sound, the last place on his list being Port Townsend. These observations are being made by the government for the purpose of ascertaining the variation of the compass at the different points, and will be continued yearly with the ultimate object of ascertaining the cause of these variations of which at present nothing definite is known. Mr. Lawson informs us that the amount of variation is greater at some points than at others, and that it increases from year to year till a certain point is reached and then diminishes for several years. It is hoped that by carefully noting the different variations and the changes from year to year, some conclusion may be arrived at in regard to the cause which produces them.

IDENTIFIED.—The body found floating in the river on Monday was identified at the inquest yesterday by Mr. Kintons of East Portland as that of James Ford, who had been employed by him for some three years past. He was last seen alive a week ago yesterday. He was a native of Ireland and an old soldier, who has served two enlistment terms in the U. S. Army. There were no marks of violence on the body, and the jury found a verdict of accidental drowning.

MECHANICS' FAIR.—The third annual exhibition of the Portland Mechanics' Fair will be opened to the public on October 13th and will continue till the 29th. A copy of the rules, regulations and premium list has been laid on our table, which we will review more fully in a future issue.

Arrival of Mr. Oakes at Helena.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 1.—Vice President Oakes, of the N. P. R. Co., and party arrived here on Saturday. Mr. Oakes has been examining the different passes through the main range of the Rocky mountains in company with several of his engineers, including General Anderson, engineer in chief, who met him here. Twenty miles of grading has already been completed in Hell Gate canyon on the west side of the range, and the work will be continued till the season closes. Every preparation is being made to push the road at all points. The Oakes party have been examining into the mining and other resources of Montana, and express themselves surprised at its extent. The party leaves here tomorrow for Bozeman and the National Park.

FLORISSING TOWNS.—Independence is fast becoming the principal town in Polk county. It is improving considerably this season. Among the most notable improvements going up is a fine two-story brick store and a very nicely arranged opera house, or public hall, which, when completed, will be the finest public hall in the State outside of Portland. The people have every confidence in the future prosperity of the place. There is no reason why they should not. It is surrounded by one of the richest and best agricultural sections of our state, has the river and railroad for its means of transportation, and all that is needed is a few more manufacturing enterprises to make it one of the best towns in Oregon.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.—A painful accident occurred near Satsop Postoffice, Chehalis county, W. T., July 16th. A Mr. Nethery was upon a platform chopping a huge maple tree, upon which were several huge branches. As the tree was in the act of falling one of the branches became detached from the trunk and struck Mr. Nethery, knocking him from the platform and falling upon him, crushing his nose, fracturing his skull, breaking two ribs and otherwise injuring him, so that for two weeks he was barely alive, during which he was kept constantly under the influence of anæsthetics. At last accounts there was a slight prospect of his recovery.

MATHEMATICAL IN-CURANCE CO.—On Monday the Northwestern Marriage Insurance Company was incorporated in this city with a capital of $100,000, and yesterday elected the following officers: President, Chas. Heagle; vice president, H. Ackerman; treasurer, Jas. Steele; manager and secretary, A. S. Gross; directors, James Steele, J. W. Whitley, H. Ackerman, S. Julius Mayer and Chas. Heagle. It has a splendid object in view and it has our best wishes for success.

HOME AGAIN.—Lieut. Fred Schwatka whose arctic explorations have gained him a world-wide fame, arrived on the Columbia on Monday night and put up at the Clarendon. He spent yesterday in this city and left on the train last evening for Salem where his parents reside. He will remain in this State about two months visiting his relations and numerous friends. It is to be hoped that he may be induced to favor the citizens of Portland with one or more lectures during his stay in the State.

FIRST STEP.—The first step that ever entered Nest-eton bay, Tillamook county, crossed the bar safely on the 20th of July. The people in that section, says the Statesman, were overjoyed at its appearance. Pilot's Bride is the name of the vessel. She will load with produce, furs, hides, etc., at that place. The captain assured the inhabitants that he would make a trip whenever they would raise enough freight to load his boat.

LARGE YIELD.—Four grains of wheat of the white velvet variety planted on the farm of Rev. J. L. Parish near Salem, yielded 4,508 grains. The wheat has been added to the collection being formed by D. D. Pratt, man.

SHIPS COMING.—The British ship Sarengapatam, 1,128 tons, and the Linders Atlantic 503 tons, are on their way to this port, the former from Cape Town, the latter from Port Adelaide.

DR. H. CARPENTER, one of the best known medical practitioners of our State, and a distinguished surgeon, who resided for many years in Salem, is now located in this city for practice of his profession. Dr. Carpenter is Medical Advisor in connection with the construction of the new State Insane Asylum at Salem, and his opinion relative to sanitary arrangements are carried out in construction of that great institution, which shows the reputation in which his professional skill is held by the State authorities. His office is now located up-stairs in the northwest corner of Second and Yamhill streets.

Salem Flouring Mills Co. has effected a re-organization under the new management, and we are informed by the agent in this city that the present company proposes to continue the same course that made it so popular under the control of the Kinneys. Wm. Reid sold out his interest, it seems, to Ladd & Bush, the latter of whom is now the President of the company.

Sibson & Church, wheat buyers and exporters, are in the market to buy old or new wheat, see their card elsewhere. Mr. Sibson informs us that his firm has already chartered four vessels for parties up the Willamette Valley, and they are ready to transport any business in the line of buying and shipping grain.

Red Braggan Antichokes.—A. L. Bridgeman, of Tangent, who whose he can procure these roots for sale. If we remember aright they can be had of A. D. Gardner, Fox Valley; P. F. Bradford, Portland, and H. W. Shipley, Oswego.

TWO OR MORE SURGEONS.—From the Pacific Surgical Institute, 205 Kearney street, San Francisco, are on their tour through Oregon and Washington Territory, fully prepared to treat all cases of Spinal Disease, Kne and Hip Disease, Club Foot, Crooked Limbs, Paralysis, and all Chronic and Surgical Diseases. As this Institution is unequalled in facilities for the treatment of these affections, all who are interested should not fail to see these surgeons. Their appointments are as follows: Walla Walla, August 15th, 6th and 6th; The Dalles, August 20th, 5th and 10th; Olympia, August 25th and 15th; Seattle, August 30th, 17th and 19th; and Port Townsend, August 30th, 21st and 23rd. On their return they will be at the St. Charles Hotel, Portland, August 31st, where they will remain five days. 7-15-6w

Letter from Sheridan, Yamhill Co.

Editor Willamette Farmer:
My neighbors say I misrepresented the crop prospects around Sheridan; they say the crops will be much better than I represented. Now I think if they will take into consideration all the Fall and Spring wheat that has been cut for hay my estimate will be about correct. I am willing to acknowledge that there is some as fine grain as I ever saw. I have Summer fallow that will make 40 to 50 bushels to the acre, and I have wheat sown on stubble that will not make more than 10 bushels; I still claim that I am near correct in my estimate. The rains of last week damaged hay that was out in the fields and there was hundreds of tons out. Hay sells at $4 to $5 in the field, per ton. I have been 33 years in the State and never saw as heavy rain at the time of the year as fell last week. The weather is fine now; the self-binders are pronounced almost a failure.

B. B. BRANSON.
NOTE.—We add a word in connection with Mr. Branson's crop reports; to suggest that his field of summer fallow that will yield 40 to 50 bushels to the acre is a fairer test of the soil and climate and the producing capacity of his land, than the stubble land, which, no doubt, full with weeds and what wheat there is choked with wild oats. One shows proper cultivation and the other does not. Many correspondents notice this same difference, and quite a number charge it to the right cause.—Editor.

Indian School.

A Forest Grove correspondent writes: Last week we had the pleasure of visiting the Indian school of this place. By the courtesy of Mr. Bonney, chief clerk we were shown the various industrial departments of the school rooms. Those in all their respective places were quite busy. The teachers, Mrs. Walker and Miss Flora Leabo, who is temporarily teaching in Miss Lyman's place, are well qualified for arduous work. Teachers may form an idea of their work when seven children, from five to sixteen, fresh from nature's wilds, totally ignorant of every word of the English language and untaught by any form of civilization, are put under their care and order and intelligence is to be drawn out of minds as dark as chaos. But these teachers, with patience that would put Job out countenance, well and faithfully perform their duties. The boys and girls who have been there longer show much improvement. I saw well made shoes, bedsteads, furniture, etc. Many of the girls were sewing both by hand and with machines, others were learning the culinary art. Some of the boys are working on a farm learning husbandry. Those in school were studying arithmetic, Fourth reader, geography and writing, with as much zeal as white children. They are free from the vices of tobacco chewing, smoking, drinking, swearing, and other acts of hooliganism.

Vacant Land in Linn County.

FOX VALLEY, Linn Co., July 30, 1881.
Editor Willamette Farmer:
For the benefit of those who desire to settle on government land that is in township 10 south, range 2 east, situated in Linn county, Oregon, that there are but two claims taken in this township and that the survey reports two thirds of said township good farming land, mostly timber, well watered by springs and branches; beautiful situations for fish ponds. Also the township east of this is now being surveyed; this also contains a great deal of good land. Any person wanting homesteads would do well to come and see this before locating elsewhere. Still Better.

To the credit of the O. R. & N. Co. be it said that it has made a further deduction in down freights. Wheat from Blue Mountains and Milton station was formerly 45 and 43 cents per cwt, respectively to Portland. These have been reduced to a uniform rate of 40 cents per cwt; thus making a saving of 3 cents per bushel from Blue Mountain to Portland. Freight on wheat from Simons' or Cold Spring Landing, has been reduced to 20 cents per 100 lbs. Our farmers will hail with delight this reduction, which is virtually a saving of so much. Such voluntary acts on the part of the company make us feel like lessening our dread of the monopoly, for they need not do so unless they like. However we will greet every good move approvingly, and growl at everything of a contrary kind.

Columbia Commercial College.
Another commercial school is opened in this city, with the above name, upstairs, over the S. E. corner of First and Washington streets, with W. S. James as principal, assisted by a gentleman who is an excellent teacher of mathematics. Mr. James was connected with a similar institution in this city years ago and has been ever since in the same line, lately at Dallas, Polk county. He has fitted up very ample and pleasant accommodations for his school at the place named and is preparing to give a thorough business course to pupils of both sexes, and will teach penmanship in all branches. The College Journal is sent to all applicants. See advertisement elsewhere.

Popular Operas
The Lambe Lester English Opera Company, under management of Mr. Sebastian, will leave Portland on Friday for The Dalles, remain there two days, then proceed to Walla Walla and remain there one week, producing at each some of the most popular English operas of the day, including the famous comic opera of Pirates of Penzance, Clines of Normandy, Daughter of the Regiment, and others. There is first rate musical talent connected with the troupe, and Miss Lester ranks among the best singers of our time. The public taste is always educated and improved by musical performances of such a high character.

We learn that a colony is organizing to settle in North River Valley, Chehalis county, W. T., by R. D. Pitt, New Market block, Portland, and quite a large number of persons have signed articles of agreement to form such a colony. A map and description of the country, with prospectuses of the enterprise, can be seen at the office.
