It is stated with much positiveness that Teller's nomination as Secretary of the Interior, and Chandler as Secretary of the Navy, will be made to-day. Chandler called at the White House this morning by invitation.

Friends of the veto bill admit that there is no chance to pass the bill over the President's veto in the Senate, and will endeavor to have Miller's bill referred to the foreign relations committee, with a view of having another bill agreed and reported as soon as possible.

Over 30 Bloomington, Ill., people left that place on the 7th for Oregon and California. A large number from McLean county expect to come here this Summer. Most all intend coming to Oregon and Washington.

From the dispatches it appears that Chas. Francis Adams has been a victim to the tune of $17,000, by the sharp practice of some bunko chaps in Boston. A man 75 years old ought to know better.

Destroyed by Fire. CINCINNATI, April 7.—Everything combaible in front of St. Xavier church in this city was burned this morning, and nothing left but the empty tower and roofless walls. It is doubtful whether the wall will be fit for use in rebuilding. Loss, $150,000 to $200,000; insurance, $20,000. Services were held in the church last night, and it is supposed the fire started from candles left burning after service.

Passage of the Army Bill. The President's army bill, with a rider referring officers at 62 years of age, will, during five years coming, retire Sherman, McDowell, Hancock, three inspector generals, one judge advocate, seven quartermasters, three commissaries of subsistence, sixteen medical officers, eleven paymasters, twelve engineer officers, two ordnance officers, eleven colonels, seven lieutenant colonels, three majors and nine captains of infantry, four colonels, two lieutenant colonels of cavalry, and five colonels, five lieutenant colonels, one major and three captains of artillery.

The Presidential Count. The Presidential count bill which passed the Senate without amendment, provides that Presidential electors in each State shall meet and give their votes the second Monday next following their appointment, at such places as the Legislature may state, and that each State, pursuant to its laws existing, on the day fixed by appointment of electors, may determine prior to meeting of electors any controversy concerning appointment of all or any of them, and that such determination shall be conclusive evidence of their lawful title, and shall govern in the count by Congress; that no electoral vote or votes from a State from which but one return has been received shall be rejected, except by affirmative votes of the two houses, and that if more than one return is received from a State, the votes of those electors appointed by lawful tribunal of States shall be counted, and in event of a question as to which of two or more States tribunals is the lawful tribunal, the electors appointed by that tribunal which the two houses acting separately shall decide to be the authorized one, shall be counted that in case of an undetermined case between two or more sets of electors of a State, those States shall be counted which the two houses acting separately shall decide to be lawful electoral votes. The bill also provides that if counting of votes shall not be completed before the fifth calendar day next after the first joint meeting of the two houses, no recess shall be after-ward taken by either house until counting is finished.

Effect of the Veto. SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The effect of the veto continues the principal topic for consideration in political circles. Democrats expect to capture many votes among Republicans of the dissatisfied class, but their leaders propose to take no chances of a walk over on that account, and are making every effort to effect a solid organization. The first feeling of despondency among Republicans is giving place to a belief that the disposition shows by Democrats in Congress to obstruct further consideration of the Chinese question will react against them. It is reported that active steps are being taken in this city to organize anti-coolie clubs having in view local action against the Chinese, and some indiscreet persons are reviving talk of violent measures and hinting at armed organizations. It is questionable how much backing there may be in such talk.

San Francisco Notes. Herman T. Singer, an employe of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson, wholesale store dealer, corner Market and Beale streets, was killed this afternoon by a piece of machinery falling upon him.

Charles J. Kohler, employed in Baueroff's printing house on Market street, this morning fell through the elevator hatch on the fifth floor and was almost instantly killed.

John Clark, mate of the schooner H. L. Tiernan, which, after missing stays, struck on Mile rock and was subsequently run ashore at Line point, was washed off Mile rock on which he jumped at the time the vessel struck and was drowned. A sailor named B. Sheehan was also washed overboard a few minutes later and drowned. Neither of the bodies have been recovered. The only things saved from the wreck have been sails, rigging, etc. The vessel is estimated to be worth $8,000.

Joseph Oswald, recently employed at the California market, committed suicide at his lodgings, 436 Commercial street, to-day by taking arsenic. He lost his situation from dissipation.

On the 5th in New York, O. R. & N. Co.'s stock was quoted at 145; Oregon Transcontinental 70; Oregon Improvement bonds, 90.

Hasell Hall, brother of the Congressman of Boise, Idaho, Me., on the 7th, attempted to drown his wife, owing to a quarrel about the control of her property. He failed and died. If he returns he will probably be lynched.

BAR TOWAGE.—The Portland Tug-Boat Company, recently incorporated in this city, says the Commercial Reporter, is paving the way toward removal of the embargo from which Oregon's commerce has suffered for many years. It is highly probable the company will purchase three instead of two boats. One will be a monster craft, sufficiently powerful to take vessels out and in regardless of wind or storm, or in case of emergency put to sea and relieve distressed craft by bringing them safely into port. In ordinary weather the boat will take two laden vessels through Columbia's gateway without trouble or delay, and for these services but reasonable charges will be made. Two smaller tugs may be ordered with sufficient power to take vessels through the gateway at any time except during a tempest, when the large boat will be called into extra service. When the boats are placed on the bar the little tow-boats now employed in bleaching ship owners will be compelled to come further up the river and go into the log-boom industry, for which they are better adapted.

WRECKAGE.—A board bearing the name "Vesuvius," in six-inch letters neatly carved on its surface, and a five-point star sunk on either end of the name came ashore at this place, says the Coos Bay News, a short time since. The letters forming the name are gold gilt, while the general surface seems to have been sanded on blue ground. Fine large copper screws with which the board had been fastened to the pilot house of the vessel were found still in it. There came ashore also about the same time, part of the side of a Clunker built ship's boat; also the fragments of a cheap wash stand which had been painted white over the initials given at the factory. It seems probable that vessel—most likely a steamer, from the name Vesuvius—has been lost at sea not a year ago, but we have seen no account of one of that name being missing. The same boat had been made with copper nails, and seems to have been a neat craft.

NEW EXPRESS OFFICE.—Eugene Shelby, route agent for Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, accompanied by their agent, G. I. Fuller of this place, says the Roseburg Paildealer, proceeded to Myrtle Creek last week and established an express office at that place with F. M. Gilbert as agent. The people of Myrtle Creek have long felt the need of such an office, and we presume they are happy now. With the advent of the railroad they will become quite proud and assume metropolitan airs. Mr. Shelby, during his trip, was so severely poisoned by poison oak that he was compelled to lay over in Roseburg for some days. His face was severely swollen and resembled somewhat a piece of raw beef. We are, however, glad to say that he has now almost entirely recovered from this serious inconvenience.

CROSS-ED THE SANDY.—Work is progressing rapidly on the line of the O. R. & N. Co.'s road to the Cascades, a very large number of camps of Chinese being scattered along the grade between here and the Sandy. The first camp was moved across the Sandy last Wednesday, and others will soon follow. The Chinese firm of Chung Lung & Co., of this city, have 14 camps on the line. The Company are moving their offices, depots, etc., from the Washington Territory side of the Columbia at the Cascade to a new site of a town on the Oregon side, to be called Bonneville, and before long the Cascade portage and Dalles boats will be things of the past.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—A few days since a little son of Mr. Wm. Churchill, of Linn county, while playing in a field near his father's house, was kicked in the face by a horse and received a fearful gash in the cheek. Mr. Churchill immediately started for a doctor, and on his way met a runaway team whirling along with a Mr. Stenberg and his family and Miss Clara Rosenberg of Albany. Mr. Churchill gave chase to the flying team and finally succeeded in stopping them, but not before Miss Rosenberg had thrown herself from the barouche and broken her collar bone. He then proceeded in his search for a doctor and attended to the injuries of both parties.

NOT A DOCTOR OF IT.—"A number of immigrants direct from Germany arrived in this city yesterday, says the Walla Walla Union. They are all well supplied with money, most of it being in the shape of marks, a German gold coin worth about five dollars. These immigrants intend settling in Gardfield county, near Columbia Center, where there are already several families of their country. Such immigrants as these make first class citizens and are heartily welcome." Immigrants or any one else "well supplied with money," no matter in what shape, are "heartily welcome" anywhere.

KILLED IN COLORADO.—News was received here a few days since, says the Indicator, that George Walsh, a one-armed man who loafed around this city for some time and claimed to be a correspondent for some eastern journal, was killed at Gunnison, Colorado, on March 31st, by the proprietor of a dance hall where he was tending bar. The affair grew out of a difficulty in the saloon over some of the women who were dancing, and the shot he received proved instantly fatal. His murderer's name is M. Yari, a man well known as a desperate character in the neighborhood where he resided.

SINGULAR SPECTACLE.—Travelers on the Columbia say that the lower river presents a grand sight about 2 o'clock in the morning, as at that hour the tired fishermen make their coffee. For this purpose they have a sheet iron stove similar to those used by tinners, which they place in the stern of their boats. The fire is started and flames leap out lighting up the scene in a weird, unnatural manner. From a distance, the lines dancing upon the waters present a picture too strange and fantastic for pen to describe or brush to portray.

REGULARY.—Mr. J. B. Cherry, of Springwater, Clackamas county, informed Chief Lappala yesterday that his house had been entered on April 1st, during his absence, and the sum of $600 and a silver watch taken from a trunk. The money had been drawn from the First National Bank a short time before to be loaned. It was received by him as arrears of pension money, and was about all he had in the world.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.—Some time ago, says the Baker City Revue, Mr. Carnahan published a challenge to the owner of Red Boy to run in July over either the Baker City, Union or Walla Walla race track for the sum of $2,500. We have seen a letter written by Mr. Early in which he says that he accepts the challenge, and will choose one of the above named tracks in July. As the Baker City race track is universally acknowledged to be the best on the coast it is probable that it will be chosen.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 6th says: This afternoon the schooner H. L. Tiernan left this port for the Choumagu Islands on a fishing cruise. Just inside the North Heads she met her stay and went ashore below Lima Point and became a total loss. It is reported that a boy was lost, but the rest of the crew got safely ashore.
