The Fish Wheel at the Cascades.

A gentleman who spent some time watching the operations of the fish wheel at the Cascades yesterday, furnishes a very interesting account of its workings. The fish were plentiful while he was there and it was a fine sight to see the large salmon three or four at a time lifted out of the water in the large wire scoops of the wheel and after falling to the center, slide down a chute into a large bin, where they kicked and floundered till dead.
