LOCAL MARKETS.

Reviewed and corrected weekly by J. B. Knapp, produce commission dealer 267 First Street, Portland, Oregon. Oats.—Market well supplied and dull at quotations. Potatoes.—Market is bare of old which are wanted for seed, replanting on the Columbia bottoms, sold to-day as high as $1@1.20 per bushel. New by the last steamer sold at 1 1/2 @ 1 3/4 per pound. Onions.—California full supply, 1 1/4@1 1/2. Butter.—Choice dairy butter is scarce hence inferior qualities are more in demand and at a little better price. Wool.—Market perfectly flat, buyers seem to have retired from the field for the time being. Our quotations are such as local buyers are offering.

BERKELEY'S ENGLISH REPORTS.

LONDON, July 4. Floating cargoes.—Quiet. Cargoes on passage.—Quiet. Quotations good cargoes California off coast 45c. Liverpool spot.—Quiet. LONDON, July 5. Floating cargoes.—Firm. Cargoes on passage.—Firm. Mark Lane.—Firm. English country markets.—Firm. French country markets.—Firm. Imports of wheat into the U. K. past week, 955,000 quarters. Imports of flour into the U. K. past week, 150,000 barrels. Weather in England.—Unsettled. Liverpool up to—Quiet but steady. The opinion is becoming quite general among the legal fraternity that none of the star route cases will be given to the jury, but they will be thrown out of court by Judge Wylie and the indictments dismissed. The rulings of Wylie upon the evidence thus far presented justified this conclusion.

California Crops and Markets.

We take the following from the San Francisco Commercial-Herald, of June 29th: Spot grain freights have advanced somewhat from the lowest rates of the current month. Iron ships may now be quoted at 50c as the basis price for Liverpool direct; the lowest rate for June 45c. Ship owners are firm in exacting full rates for their vessels, at the same time exporters show no anxiety respecting the future of the market. The disengaged tonnage in port approximates 40,000 registered tons; the fleet in sight, 266,000 tons; same time in 1881, 352,000 tons, and in 1880, 151,000 tons. We hear of no engagements in futures.

We are now in the last week of the cereal year, and in the midst of another grain harvest. Considerable new barley has been already marketed, the opening price $1.65 per cental, and in ten days time the spot price of same has declined to $1.15; all this the very natural result of rushing new grain to market in expectation of realizing a fancy price for same. No new wheat has yet been harvested, nevertheless shippers seem to be willing to purchase freely for June, July, August, September and October delivery at $1.70@1.75 per cental. Oats are on the down grade. Rye is not wanted at present. Corn is in light stock, with no special inquiry. Hops are in good request at the late advanced prices. Stocks light. Wool arrives freely upon a dull market, with considerable stock accumulations. Dairy products are in liberal supply, and prices keep up astonishingly in view of free receipts. Fruit and vegetables are now pouring in upon us more freely, enabling canners to have their own way in fixing prices and to do a large packing business upon the most favorable terms.

At the San Jose Fruit Packing Factory 115 hands are employed canning cherries, of which nearly 100,000 cans have been put up there during the season. At the Golden Gate Factory nearly 300 hands are employed on the same fruit. Over 60,000 cans of cherries have been put up at the latter place during the year. Cherries also are now being canned there. At both places cherries will give place next week to apricots, and the factories will continue running till October. The crop of cherries this year has been larger than that of last season. Prices at the factories range from four to five and a half cents per pound. Hides.—We quote, as follows: Heavy Salted Steers, 11c @ 12c; Light Salted Hides, cow and steers, 30c @ 45 lb, 9c; Medium (do 45 @ 55 lb, 10c; Sailed Kips, 10c @ 10 1/2c; Sailed Calf, good demand for plump skins, 12c; Hair Goat, sound skins, 6c @ 7c; medium, 5c; small skins and kid, 15c @ 25c each; Deer Skins, good summer skins, 37c; medium, long hair, 30c; poor and winter skins, 20c @ 25c; Sheep Skins, shearings, 25c @ 30c; short wool, 30c @ 50c; medium wool, 50c @ 90c; long wool, $1 @ 1.50; Dry Hides, usual selection, 18c; Dry Kid and Calf, 19c.

Wool.—Overland shipments Eastward in May amount to 4,848,620 lbs. The ship S. mole, for New York, has completed her loading, carrying a considerable quantity. The Oregon, from Portland, brought 1,057 bales, and the State of California, 974 bales. The spot market remains lifeless, with a steady stock accumulation, owing to the absence of Eastern buyers. The scourers and manufacturers have the pick of the market. Actual quotations are hard to give. We quote California and foothill, 23c @ 24c; Sonoma and Mendocino 25c @ 26c; Northern Sacramento Valley, 23c @ 25c; San Joaquin, free, 18c @ 20c; do, defective, 15c @ 17c; Bright Coast, free, 20c @ 22c; do, slightly burry, 16c @ 18c; do, heavy and dark, 14c @ 16c; Eastern Oregon, 22c @ 26c @ lb. Hops.—W. H. & H. Le May, hop factors, Longton, report as follows, concerning the condition of the British hop market, under date of June 30: "The advance in the price is well established all round, inferior qualities being again a few shillings lower; in fact, it is difficult to find any English hops under five guineas. Continental hops are more in request now. The American markets are working in unison with our own, and is quoted 2c @ 2 1/2 lb better. The reports from the plantations continue unfavorable, the fly is following the vines up the poles, and the young tender leaves are covered with lice and fly in almost every district. The imports of foreign hops into England last week were 737 bales; for the corresponding week last year, 163 bales." The Tacoma Ledger says: "The hop growers of this valley are taking steps to form what shall be known as the 'Payallup Hop Growers' Association.' Saturday, the 24th of this month, at 1 P. M., at Payallup, is the time and place chosen to effect the organization. One object of this organization is to raise funds that they may have the associated press hop dispatches for the months of August and September. This will cost $50 per month. By these dispatches the growers can know the status of the hops and hop market from day to day at a trifling cost to each, at much less expense than the speculator, who receives his dispatches from England daily. The hop growers hope to realize well this year, as high as 15c @ 15 1/2c having been offered for the coming crop. Philip Wolf, of San Francisco, has his agent here, who, last week, bought 10,000 pounds from J. F. Kincaid, and the same amount from A. Gardella, for 15c per pound.

NEW EVERY WEEK. Oregon Kidney Tea. From the multitude of certificates received from well known citizens who have been benefited by the use of this remedy, the proprietors, Messrs. Hodge, Davis & Co., have contracted to publish two new ones each week for the year ending April 1, 1883, that all our readers may see the great benefits it has conferred on the afflicted. PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 12, 1880. Having suffered with my kidneys, I was induced to try the Oregon Kidney Tea, which relieved me in a short time. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe remedy for kidney difficulties. GEORGE W. BAILEY, County Judge of Umatilla. SALEM, Or., Jan. 20, 1880. Some time ago I bought a package of Oregon Kidney Tea, and after using it felt better than I had for years, and bought two boxes more, being unwilling to be without so valuable a medicine. My wife pronounces it the best kidney preparation in use. SALEM, Or., Jan. 18, 1880. I bought a can of the Oregon Kidney Tea and have used only a part of it, but my back ache is entirely cured. It has a splendid effect upon the urinary organs. J. F. HOBSON, Good Newspaper Business for Sale. Any person who wishes to locate in the Upper Country, in the newspaper and job printing business, can hear of an excellent location where a business that is now well established can be bought on reasonable terms, and the proprietor is engaged in other matters that engross his time. Under these circumstances he will sell out. Inquiries addressed to the editor of the FARMER will receive attention.

A Marion County Strawberry Farm.

TURNER, Or., June 23, 1882. Editor Willamette Farmer: The little article, "The First Berries of the season," reminds me of a time when Mr. H. Prettyman carried his berries across the river to Portland in his hands. The business of berry culture has grown some since then, but it is yet in its infancy here in Oregon. It is now beginning to assume business proportions. I visited, yesterday, the berry farm of Mr. R. D. Sandford, of this place, and found that industrious gentleman in his glory. It being the flush of the strawberry season, business was rushing. Under the packing shed were crates upon crates of berries ready for shipment, while the long table was nearly covered with boxes of the luscious beauties ready to be crated, and Mr. Sandford, the presiding genius of that department, was initiating the much apostrophized bee. Outside, in the "patch," the pickers were busy gathering the shining rubies, and coming or going with their filled or empty picking-stands to the shed. The crop on the vines is a sight to behold. The bright green leaves contrasting finely with the blushing scarlet berries which, in the greatest profusion, are sweetening in their own fatness, would make the mouth of the best filled epicure of the land water. Think of five hundred gallons of strawberries (requiring two barrels of sugar and the cream from two hundred cows to eat with them) being picked and shipped daily from a little place like Turner. The time is fast approaching when fruits and berries will be put on the market in quantities and at prices corresponding with their actual food value, not only being a luxury for rich and poor alike, but as a part of the regular food supply of the family, making not only healthier and happier families, but becoming an element in the reliefment of the people which they could never attain on a "hog-and-hominy" or "bran-bread-and-skin-milk" diet. Mr. Sandford appears to understand the situation, and will be around. His success is due in a great measure to fortunate selection of soil and locality, coupled with industry and judgment in management. Berry growers, like poets or chemists, are born, not made; experience, study, etc., help much, but your true fruit culturist must not lack certain essential elements of adaptability, conceived in his mother's womb, or he might just as well keep out of the business. Fruit growing is one of the fine arts, and when "the master hand touches it cunningly" is a success. No bunglers need attempt it. Mr. Sandford has a little over two acres in strawberries, and he has some raspberries and blackberries to take out the season with. He has associated with him Mr. G. M. Nelson, and together they have put out five acres of the famous Wilson's Albany strawberry, on as choice land as the Willamette Valley affords, and whether these gentlemen make any money or not, they will be heard of in the next season's berry market, and somebody will be benefited by their labors. The way to settle the meat question is to supplement meat and pork with milk, eggs, and above all, fruit. B. O. HEMAN.

FOR THE PURPOSE of informing our readers what farmers in other sections think of Spring Foothill Hardware we publish a letter to Messrs. Batchelor and Wylie, written by Dr. H. J. Glenn, "the largest farmer in the world," who having sown about fifty-three thousand acres of wheat this past season: JACINTO CONTRA Co., Cal., Oct. 20 '81. Messrs. Batchelor, Van Meter & Co., Sacramento, Cal.: GENTLEMEN—I am convinced that your Spring Foothill Hardware and Cultivators are the most practical, the most efficient and the best I have ever tried, and I use either as a Cultivator of a Harrow, for wintering, for working summer fallow, or land that has become compact by sun or rain, or for covering seed. I have tested them carefully under all circumstances, and now have 15 of the largest size at work on my ranch, and I think them indispensable. Very respectfully yours, H. J. GLENN.

How to FIT UP FEET: The per foot rule is to lay the foot on the table, then add down the heel and ball, and turn in the back and roll it up, commencing at the ball end, tying it in two strings to keep the roll in place and then to run a string across the ends. This is sufficient. A 2 1/2" thus fits a light, and easily handles an even foot. June 16-18

FARMERS' MECHANICS' STORE ONE PRICE TO ALL. ONE PRICE TO ALL.

184 First Street, bet. Yamhill and Taylor. A Remarkable Business. IT IS GENERALLY CONCEDED THAT THE true foundation of a successful business firm is the study of the interests of their customers as well as their own. For a proper appreciation of the customers interest insures success for the producer. The remarkable success of the Farmer & Mechanics' Store in the past two years is a valid and indisputable illustration of the study of these principles will accomplish. We occupy the Three Story Brick Building at 184 First Street, between Yamhill and Taylor, where people at all hours of the day are passing in and out, seeing things common and uncommon, and many finally taking away in big and little parcels, the goods gathered together here under one roof from every point of the old and new world. Order and Quiet Prevail: And if those who buy do not come in hoists they are served quickly and without mistake. Some have said, it is a system that made our business grow—but it is not rather because the goods are a little better and prices lower than other people's? Perhaps the growth is a verdict. Another Fact. We welcome strangers, and are always glad to show what we have to those who come to see us, as well as those who come to purchase. We employ a staff of salesmen who cater diligently and attentively to the requirements of our customers, therefore insuring a fulfillment of the cardinal principles which govern our firm. No misrepresentation of goods. Small profits! One Price To All. And courteous treatment of our patrons, the principle which has carried with a most one bound, the Farmers' and Mechanics' Store to the highest pinnacle of success. We therefore, with the greatest feeling of confidence, call your attention to our extensive and latest Summer Line of Dress Goods. Of the very latest shades and fabric. We carry a full line of Domestic, Canton, Sea-Side buttoning in Great Variety, Silks, batins, and a full line of Trimmings. Our Clothing Department.
