TIED MOTHERS.

A little elbow leans upon your knee. Your tired knee that has so much to bear; A child's dear eyes are looking lovingly...

ONLY A WOMAN.

ONLY A WOMAN, shriveled and old; The play of the winds and the prey of the cold! Checks that are shrunken, Eyes that are sunken...

CHOICE RECIPES.

Old-Fashioned Lost Cake.—Take three quarts of sifted (and well-heaped) flour, a pint of soft butter, one quart of sugar, five galls of new milk...

is enough to flavor a medium-sized gravy boat full of gravy. A good squash pie is easily made if one will take care to observe this rule: Do not attempt to make a squash pie unless you have at least three eggs to spare for each pie.

Excellent tomato sauce, to serve with roast or fried meats, is made by stewing, say, three large tomatoes in a little beefsteak; add a little pepper sauce, a pinch of mace, and a small onion, chopped fine, salt, and a very little sugar.

It is said that the following lotions will remove freckles, and are safe for use in domestic medicine. 1. Moisten the finger with water, dip it into finely powdered niter and apply it to the freckles.

SELF CONTROL.

Another only knows the deep tender love that desires for her children the best things of life. Too often the fond mother imagines that indulgence will give happiness. It was the remarks of such a mother that caused us to consider what would constitute the real happiness and good of a child, and the course of education that would lead to the best results.

Flowers and Vines in the House.

The 'Morning Glory' can be propagated in parlor windows, where there is some sun, to perfection during the winter; its flowers with its natural colors, and the delicate little vine can be made to run over the window.

Home Adornment.

With the abundance of material now to be had at reasonable prices, we can soon make a selection, and contrive many very pretty and useful articles in our homes. And it is wonderful how these seeming nothings brighten up the plainest surroundings, if there is any taste displayed.

Many make the mistake of overloading their rooms with fancy articles, and in this way inharmonious things get together that spoil the whole effect. A few selected with good taste will give much better satisfaction.

Use up the very smallest scraps of cashmere and silk, a soft pillow can be made in this way: For the foundation knitting use black Germantown wool; set up forty stitches on coarse needles, knit the first row across in plain garter knitting; in the next row after knitting the first stitch place a small strip of cashmere or silk between the stitches, and knit again; do this along the whole row; knit the next row plain, and the following one the same as the second. The silk will be all like tufts on one side; when it is finished it can be sheared a little close and made to look like plush.

OUR LETTER BOX.

There are not many letters on hand, yet we have faith that when these are gone there will be more coming. It is a good thing to have faith; it keeps up good heart at all times and under all circumstances.

For The Children.

SCHOOL'S BROKEN UP.

The boys have come back to their schools, Ah, me! To violate grammar and rules, So free! The lawless joke and the stealthy grin, The clinging wax and the crooked pin, The capazink ink and the whispered din, Ah, me!

FARMER'S DAUGHTER.

SCIO, Or., Nov. 27, 1882.

Editor Home Circle:

I was sorry to see in last week's paper but two letters. Katie S must write again, for I am sure we all like to read her letters. It has been raining, but I think it is almost cold enough to snow to-night.

BENTON COUNTY, Nov. 25, 1882.

Editor Home Circle:

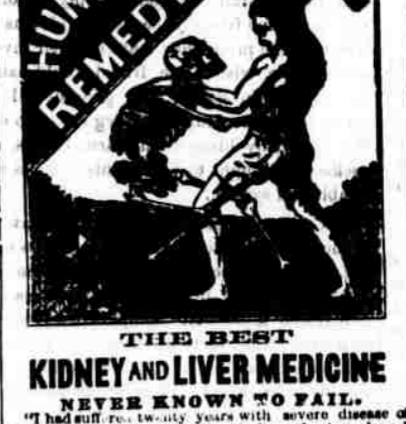

As I have not written for some time, I will send a few lines. I miss the letters and Aunt Hetty's talk. I hope Aunt Hetty had a pleasant trip to California.
