Saturday, Dec. 29, 1900.

Next week the News will be a ten-page four column paper, without trashy ads on the inside as heretofore.

The News Special is progressing nicely and will be magnificently illustrated. It will be out about January 15th, 1901.

At a Paris comedy performance recently a young fellow laughed himself to death. Where is the villain who once said that every hearty laugh adds a year to a man's life?

The Manufacturers' Association has done good work in securing a shoe factory for Portland. Now the proper thing for our merchants to do, is to handle their products in preference to Eastern made goods.

The little baby tornado which swept across the State recently was just a little hint to Californians as to what it would be like to live back in the states where they raise them as regular annual crops.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Financiers figure that the present there are about 12,5000 tons of gold in the world, of which about 7200 tons is monetary gold stock, nearly six times as much gold being in circulation as there was one hundred years ago.

The News has a number of small accounts on its books which have long been due. All parties knowing themselves to be in our debt are requested to make arrangements to settle up as we wish to balance our books and start the new year and century square with the world.

The Oregon Fish and Game Association of Portland has peculiar ideas about the protection of trout. It will recommend, among other suggestions, that the limit for any one day's trout fishing be placed at one hundred and twenty-five. Ordinarily it might as well place the limit at one thousand. That kind of protection would fail to protect.—Ex.

An old criminal was once asked what was the first step that led to his ruin, and he answered: "The first step that led to my downfall was cheating an editor out of a two years' subscription. When I had done that the devil had such a grip on me that I could not shake him off."—Ex.

General Bulger, the veteran Confederate officer who died yesterday at the age of 100 years, tried his best to prevent secession. When it was decided on in spite of him, he fought bravely for the south—but he lived long enough after the truth of his views was proved to do a healthy lot of "I-told you-so" business.—Ex.

A Stockton cigar and notion dealer is startled at the "cheek" of a thief who, in broad daylight and almost under the owner's very eyes, successfully carried off a large showcase and its entire contents. The proprietor has cause to consider himself lucky. A thief like that might just as well have made off with the whole shop.—Bulletin.

It is only a little over eleven years ago that Oklahoma was opened for settlement and that memorable rush took place to reach the promised land in time to file on the choicest quarter sections. Since then we have not heard much about Oklahoma, and most people are surprised to find that the territory has a population of 366,411—more than either of the states of Idaho, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Vermont, Utah or Wyoming. Oklahoma will be given statehood in the near future, probably by this congress.

How to Cure Croup.

R. Gray, who lives near Amenia, Dutchess county, N.Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I ever used. It is a fine remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by E. J. Eastman, Gold Hill, and Ben Haymond, Rock Point.
