

NEWS NOTES

J. H. Miller returned from Weed, Cal., Thursday to remain a few days with his family.

Carlton Levenworth has now all his machinery on the ground for his quartz mill for the Maybell mine.

Robert Bailey of the S. P. bridge repairers was among the throng of celebrators at Jacksonville the 4th.

Samuel McClelland, Sherman Englewood, and Joseph Hammersly went to Jacksonville Monday on business.

Charles Householder came up from Roseburg where he is employed on a farm, to spend the 4th with his parents.

Fred Miles came over from Igerna Thursday to visit his children who are living with their grandparents on Galls creek.

Charles Meirs who was injured in a mine on Forest creek some time ago by a blast, was in Gold Hill Saturday much improved.

A. E. Kelllogg and wife Charles Dugan, Wat Wolf, and Gus Schwaderer left Monday morning for upper Evans creek where they go to locate homesteads.

A. R. Bass, of Morgantown, Ind., had to get up ten or twelve times in the night and had severe back ache and pains in the kidneys. Was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure.

The Misses Floy McNeil and Edith Duffrey two of Gold Hill's most popular young ladies, who have been visiting in Ashland the past week returned home Sunday evening.

Cut this out and take it to Eddybrook's Drug Store and get a box of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. The best physic. They also correct disorders of the stomach. Price 25 cents at A. P. Estabrook's.

Miss Nellie Blackburn the popular deputy post mistress under J. L. Hammersly, departed for Ashland Thursday morning where she goes to visit with Miss Marie Downing and attend Chautauqua.

The three acre tract of land opposite the slaughter house west of town belonging to E. Roberts was sold Wednesday through Geo. R. Hammersly & Sons to Miss Ella Griffiths, consideration $140.

The agents at Gold Hill received orders Wednesday that the south bound overland train No. 15 would hereafter take water here and that all baggage would be transferred east of the water tank instead of at the depot as formerly, an order which not only makes it very inconvenient for the agents but passengers as well.

A pleasant event took place at the I. O. O. F. Hall Wednesday evening it being the installation of officers of the Rebekah lodge of this place. After the ceremonies were over a number of guests were invited to take part in a social dance. After tripping the light fantastic for a few hours, all present repaired to the lodge room where an elaborate lunch was prepared. After partaking of the good things the ladies had so thoughtfully prepared, all dispersed feeling that they had spent an enjoyable evening.

Summer complaint is usually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writers family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—One of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scriber. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house especially in summer-time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. Sold by A. P. Estabrook.

An Interesting Communication Contributed From Our Correspondent at Bybee Springs.

SPECIAL TO THE GOLD HILL NEWS.—Grand celebration at Bybee Springs. Sunrise salute at 5:30 o'clock, 13 yells by Mr. Jack. The program was as follows: First, Music by the Muls Orchestra, entitled "Hay! Hay! Hay: Miss Bell Cow in her most graceful and charming manner next read the Declaration of Independence. Trio by the three celebrated Guiana sisters entitled Give me three grains of corn. Oration by Miss Polly Parker, subject, Polly wants a cracker. The Swinette band rendered beautifully several buckets of land. Song, Robin quartette, Cherries are ripe. Address by Master of ceremonies, Mr. Thomas Cat, The Midnight Marauders. The morning program was ended by a solo by Madam Call Less water and more milk.

Afternoon sports: First was a four legged race by Mr. Jack and Miss Jennie, the first half Jack was in the lead a length, but on the home stretch Jennie won by four feet. Next came the jumping contest by the frogs won by Warty Toad, followed by high diving by the Turtle family in which Mrs. Mud won by a snap. Then came a close swimming race won by Crab Craw fish by a pinch.

After this was a milking contest by seven puppies won by the Yellow kid by seven laps. The last race was between Mr. Road and Miss Creek. In the first quarter the former felt so rocky and bolted and ran straight up through the canyon where he lost himself in a lonely trail while the latter lost her head and with foaming mouth threw herself upon the bosom of the Rogue river and won the race by a mill. General Maltese Dewey had charge of the sunset gun and fired several salutes of rats, mice, and lizards down his throat to the violent satisfaction of the participants. The fire works consisted of falling meteors, shooting stars, and comets, each member of the planetary tribe adding his own streak of red, white, and blue. While the old man in the moon from his lofty perch threw roman candles sky rockets pinwheels and torpedoes until the maid coming down the path spilled her milk until at last becoming tired he hung his weary head upon a moon-beam and fell asleep. This ended the 4th at Bybee Springs, where we drink and drink again.

When Other Medicines Have Failed.

Take Foley's Kidney Cure. It has cured when everything else has disappointed.

Mr. McAllister of Eugene an electrician who J. J. Houck has employed to construct his electric plant came up Monday morning and superintended the unloading of the dynamo from the cars and conveyed it to the mill where it will be installed. This dynamo is capable of producing one thousand volts of electricity, which will equal about 300 candle power. Mr. Houck will enlarge the plant as necessity requires.

DIED

Died at his home in Sams Valley July 7, 1902, J. R. P. Roe, aged 57 of general debility contracted in the service of his country while with Sherman on that memorial march that has been famous by songs. Wherever the love of patriotism is known the participants in the march will be held in high esteem. Even those that resisted this successful army are revered by those that love gallant bravery. In this campaign it was the "Survival of the fittest." The conquered were no less brave than the r brothers who vanquished them. No less patriotic viewed from their standpoint of independent Statehood. Comrade Rowe has answered the last roll call, has shed his last guard, received an honorable discharge, and we hope will receive a pension of eternal joy.

Steam from Giant Geyser.

A new giant geyser of Rotomahana, N. Z., is attracting attention. A mass of boiling water half an acre in extent rises in a great dome, from which a column of water and stones rises to 300 feet, while immense columns of steam ascend as far as can be seen.

DUNKIN—To Mr. and Mrs. Monte Dunkin, July 7, 1902, a daughter.

MARRIED

BATLEY-MORRELOON—At Jacksonville, Oregon, July 8, 1902, Fred Batley of Spaldard and Miss Pearl Morrelock of Gold Hill. The groom is a young man of an old and respected family of Jackson county and the bride the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. B. Morrelock who are also pioneer residents of Oregon. The news joins with the young couple's many friends in wishing them a life of matrimonial joy.

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores, cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for the piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.—For sale by A. P. Estabrook

Mrs. Hosmer and daughter Mrs. C. T. Anderson, were in town Wednesday disposing of some fine strawberries which they grew on their Footh Creek farm.

Poisoning The System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system causing headache, dulness and melancholia at first then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Riser prevents this trouble by stimulating the liver and promoting easy healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. A. P. Estabrook.

Wm. Blackett and family of Galls creek were visitors in our city Thursday.

Bronchitis for twenty years.

Mrs. Mirava Smith, of Danville, Ill., writes: "I had bronchitis for twenty years and never got relief until I used Foley's Honey and Tar which is a sure cure." For sale by the Gold Hill Drug Co.

Alex Armstrong taken a vacation from the train service and is visiting his family this week. He expects to move to Ashland soon.

Milton Smith of Etna, Cal., passed through this city en-route to Washington.

Two Bottles Cured Him.

"I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years," writes A. H. Davis, of Mt Sterling, Ia., but two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure effected a permanent cure." Sold by Gold Hill Drug Co.

Arthur Lindsay of Fort Jones accompanied by D. Messner were north bound passengers Thursday for Thunder mountain Idaho.

RUNAWAY CAR OF ROCK

Goes Through Ashland Like Lightning and Just Misses Passenger Train at Medford.

There was danger on the railroad track about 4 o'clock this morning when a heavily loaded car of famous buff colored sandstone from the Wait Cambell quarry four miles south of Ashland went through the yards like a cannon ball.

Train dispatcher B. E. Pengra immediately seized the situation and wired the north bound passenger train No. 12 to be prepared. The crew had just finished turning the switch when through on a side track it passed saving the lives of a train load of sleeping passengers. Wearing itself out the car stopped between Tolo and Gold Hill, at the bottom of valley still on the track.

Conductor Billings' put the car on main line from Ayers' spur while they were engaged switching. Some how or other the brake chain on car broke with above results. The car made terrible time, the 12½ miles between Ashland and Medford being covered in 9 minutes—85 miles per hour. The load was badly shifted and some of the fine stone lies scattered along the track—Valley Record.

The best Liniment For Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for sprains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected." For sale by A. P. Estabrook.

ROCKEFELLER'S HEALTH.

The Standard Oil Magnate Said to Be Suffering from a Most Peculiar Disease.

John D. Rockefeller was in New York city the other day. He took a drive in Central park, and afterward left to return to Lakewood. His secretary said: "He is in perfect health, and has not consulted a physician in some time. He will spend most of his time in Lakewood playing golf." John D. Rockefeller Jr., and William Rockefeller also denied the report that Mr. Rockefeller was sick.

Yet in spite of these repeated denials Mr. Rockefeller is known to be suffering from a disease which has caused the hairs of his head and mustache to drop out, making a complete change in his personal appearance, and he appears to be shunning public notice by making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Strong, who lives some distance out of Lakewood. One New York physician has gone so far as to say that Mr. Rockefeller is slowly starving. His theory is that the sufferer's stomach fails to properly assimilate nourishment. Other physicians say that victims of the same disease under 40 years of age usually recover in the course of a year or two and have a strong growth of hair again. In the case of victims over 45 years of age there is little or no hope of recovering the hair, but the health otherwise may be fairly good.

The Same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by A. P. Estabrook.

SHIRTWAIST SILKS.

Pretty Materials That Are Now in High Favor for Warm Weather Wear.

The newest challies are fit to rank with the lousine prints and are extremely decorative in all ways. They are more subdued in tone than the lousines and not always so flowery, though in certain grades of challies it is hard to tell challie from the empire stuff, even to the little wreath which has found its way into these goods, says the Brooklyn Eagle.

It is very interesting to note the silks that come for shirt waists. They are called fancy silks and by that simple name many of the most elegant of the season's goods are found.

The uncertain figure with a gros grain background is the favorite. The wide weaved ottoman silk also makes up well and all the corded silks. Moire and miroir effects are more than charming, and all of these wear better than taffeta; of much better that one loses one's liking for the taffeta, which sits so easily.

Yet whole taffeta dresses are being made up for warm weather wear. A leather colored taffeta, in a dark shade, which made up in very fashionable design, with a basque with a little full around the waist, and with a skirt with three ruffles around the foot, one above the other, each a little narrower than the one below it.

The skirt was very long and the wearer somehow had a quaint style, as though the gown were borrowed from an old trunk stored away to grow rusty and dusty in the days when teal brown and brown silks of all hues were worn.

Outdoor Weddings in May and June. It is a growing custom to celebrate country weddings, in May and June, out-of-doors. One of the prettiest of weddings took place last May in an orchard in full blossom, when nature seemed to have decked herself for a bridal. Garlands of foliage suspended from tree to tree marked off the aisle—those of white flowers indicating the place where the bride party was to stand. For a country wedding the invitations should give full information about trains, and carriages or carryalls be sent to convey the guests to and from the station.

After an hour given to their friends the bride pair retired to dress for their journey, and the formal guests withdrew. The bridegroom awaits the bride at the foot of the staircase with the family and intimate friends. At her appearance she holds aloft her bridal bouquet and then throws it among the bridesmaids. The one to catch it will be the next bride—so say the Fates!—Ladies' Home Journal.

AILMENTS IN O.D. CORNERS.

Strange Affections That Are Peculiar to Various Parts of the World.

There are two remarkable diseases, either or both of which may attack you if you elect to reside within the Congo basin; but you need have no dread of them if you live in any other part of the world. One is the sleeping sickness, a terrible, mysterious and invariably fatal malady. The patient is at first only drowsy, but ends by sleeping almost continually, waking only for meals or when forcibly roused; finally the torpor becomes complete; he cannot be roused even to take food, and dies of starvation. The other disease alluded to is even more curious, although fortunately not nearly so deadly, and is known to specialists in tropical diseases as anhim, from a negro word meaning a sudden very apt name for the typical feature of the ailment consists in the slow amputation of one or more of the victim's toes by means of a serrated bony ligature which grows around the joint of the affected member just where it joins the foot. As soon as the ligature is completely formed it begins to contract, and off comes the toe as effectually, if not quite so quickly, as if it had been severed by the surgeon's knife, says Chambers' Journal.

When, in 1874, numbers of English navies and engineers consented to go out to Cerro de Pasco, in Peru, to help in building the Trans-Andean railway, they little dreamed that many of them were consigning themselves to a lingering death from a strange malady, of which even the name was at that time practically unknown in Europe. The ailment in question is termed verrugas (Spanish, a wart), and it occurs only in certain deep valleys in the highlands of that province. There, however, it is endemic and frightfully fatal, especially to the unacclimatized white man. The whole surface of the body, in bad cases, becomes entirely covered with spongy, wartlike excrescences, varying from the size of a raspberry to that of a pigeon's egg, and from every one of these the patient's life blood oozes out continually until he perishes of inanition.

Lombardy is the one place where pellagra is always prevalent—that mysterious modern ailment due to eating damaged maize, which since 1833, when it was first noticed, is computed to have been responsible for the death of more than 500,000 peasants. Mandarins ringworn against Burma; but even the most ignorant Burmese is aware that it cannot be contracted outside the ancient capital. Similarly "Rock" fever is confined to Gibraltar, although it is probable that the ailment known as Maltese fever, which can be contracted only in Malta, and there only in the spring and autumn, is closely allied to it. Aleppo evil, too, is unknown in any of the other cities of Asia Minor, just as the Delhi boil, so dreaded of our soldiery, is confined to Delhi.
