Novelties in the candlestick line are always making their appearance, and just now the Japanese floor lantern is the latest thing. The candle is enclosed in a beautiful deep globe to keep the breeze from the flame, and as the globe is arranged to hold a large candle it will burn a long time.

MORMON HOME IN A CLIFF

Unique Dwelling Place of Family of Mormons in the State of Nevada.

Reno, Nevada.—The state of Utah does not, by any means, contain all of the people who are known as Mormons. As time has flown, since the far-away days when Brigham Young first established the church at Salt Lake City, the Mormons have become more or less scattered. Especially is this the case in the Pacific coast states. Outside of Utah, perhaps Idaho contains more of the Latter Day Saints than any of the extreme western states.

Nevada comes next to Idaho in regard to the numbers of Mormon settlements.

Mormon Patriarch and Wives.

Idaho, and Arizona is, perhaps, the third state in line.

There are several colonies of these people located in the extreme southern part of Nevada. The accompanying illustration shows a Mormon family that is living here. On the extreme left of the group may be seen the patriarchal head of the family; then comes the three wives sandwiched between off-spring. The two younger looking men are older sons.

These people live in a very rude and primitive looking abode—in fact, a sort of rock—cave dwelling in front of which stands a large brush shed supported by stout wooden posts. Yet, with all these rude and semi-squalid environments, this family seems contented and happy with their humble and lowly lot in life.

UNDER A PULLMAN 29 HOURS

Carl Ruhno, Who Started on 50-Mile Journey, Locked in Storage Box by Inspector.

Kansas City.—When the Golden State Limited to Chicago pulled into the Union depot recently, "Hal" Cooper, the Rock Island pilot, heard a knocking proceeding from one of the storage boxes underneath a Pullman car. He opened the box and was astonished to see the body of a boy huddled up inside, with a broken water bottle beside him.

The boy, who appeared to be about 16 years old, told the pilot that he had climbed into the box at El Paso, Tex., and had intended to remain there for a ride of about fifty miles. At the next stop, however, a train inspector shot the bolts, fastening the lid of the box, and the boy remained a prisoner twenty-nine hours, the time the Golden State Limited takes to travel the 938 miles from El Paso to Kansas City.

Storage Box Where Boy Rode.

He had a bottle of water, but no food. The box in which he rode was about six feet square and eighteen inches deep.

"My name is Carl Ruhno," said the boy, after a meal on Union avenue. "I worked in El Paso in the iron works. When I got paid off I determined to get work on a ranch. I thought I could 'bum' my way, so I crawled in that box. I was compelled to lie in the same position all the time, but I slept part of the time."

HER FLAT DAYS ARE ENDED

Hetty Green to Move From Hoboken to New York Hotel in May—To Reside With Son.

New York.—More high life for Hetty Green. The little flat in Hoboken, which was closed on May 1, and Mrs. Green, it is understood, will reside with her son, Col. Edward H. Green, at the Waldorf.

No one will undertake to say how long Mrs. Green will remain at the Waldorf. For there were predictions when she moved into the Plaza a little over a year ago that she had thrown economy to the winds. She had done nothing of the kind. High life palled on her and she went back.

But Colonel Green is a hearty man, who can't be held under a bushel nor in a Hoboken flat, and he insisted on seeing some of the good things of life. Already Mrs. Green has spent several days at the Waldorf with her son and she seemed to like the life there.

ARE WOMEN TO BE PITIED?

Prominent Authoress Says They Have Hard Time, While Men Have the Best of Everything.

"Men have the best of everything," says a prominent authoress who has never before given any evidence of harboring a grudge. "They always have, they always will. They are a foxey crew. You can't get the best of them. They got things started their way. Women are selfish. Why shouldn't women share the sweet uplifting joys of dishwashing and cleaning the gas range? Why bar poor father from these enlivening pursuits? Why may he not make the curtains, dust the brick-work, and keep a stern eye over the icebox and the garbage pail? Answer me that?"

"If she mends his socks, why not let him darn hers? No use in being piggy. She lays out his hope-to-die clothes and never murmurs, but he can't hook a double back action gown without distributing profanity in job lots."

"A woman must see that the paste-board cover is on the cream bottle and the laundry list is made out correctly. Her pictures or books or music are not to be considered. She must see to it that the cook does not give all the chocolate cake to her beau—at least half must remain in the family's possession. If a woman is literary she must not look literary. She can't even have that satisfaction. She must be a womanly woman."

"The men are great jokers. They graciously protect us from voting, but how kindly they let us scrub the kitchen floor, hang up straps in the street car, and push the baby carriage. They do not think it is good for us to go to the theater often because that keeps us up nights, but we can take care of teething twins until the cows come home and wander away again."

"There is one consoling thought in the matter, and that is that men think we are smarter than they are. They must think so, else they wouldn't expect so much of us. A man thinks he does well if he is a good lawyer or a good something else, but bless your blooming soul, a woman has to be mother, nurse, teacher, dressmaker, milliner, advisory board on business matters and run a porthouse steak establishment on a soupbone income."

"When father moseys home mother must be sweet and smiling, never tired or blue. She must be calm, serene, beautifully dressed. In other words, she must have a smile with which to greet his manly grudge."

New England Weather.

From an address by Mark Twain: "There is a sumptuous variety about the New England weather that compels the stranger's admiration—and regret. The weather is always doing something there; always getting up new designs and trying them on the people to see how they will go. But it gets through more business in spring than in any other season. In the spring I have counted 136 kinds of weather inside of four and twenty hours. It was I that made the fame and fortune of that man that had that marvelous collection of weather on exhibition at the Centennial that so astounded the foreigners. He was going to travel all over the world and get specimens from all the climates. I said: 'Don't you do it; you come to New England on a favorable spring day.' I told him what we could do in the way of style, variety and quantity. Well, he came, and he made his collection in four days. As to variety—why, he confessed that he got hundreds of kinds of weather that he had never heard of before. And as to quantity—well, after he had picked out and discarded all that were blemished in any way he not only had weather enough, but weather to spare; weather to hire out; weather to sell; to deposit; weather to invest; weather to give to the poor."

Servants Have a Newspaper.

A new spirit of independence observable of late among Viennese servants, both maids and men, is attributed to a new weekly journal called the Servants' Review. Viennese mistresses express dismay at its appearance. The new journal calls upon all domestics to organize themselves and thus obtain a weapon by which wages can be raised and conditions of work improved. All ill-treated and oppressed servants are invited to pour their woes into the ears of the editor, who offers them the consolation of printing the names and addresses of hard-hearted masters and mistresses. Some of the cases of alleged injustice thus revealed seem barely creditable. Subscribers to the journal are allowed to advertise for situations free of charge, and notes of footmen's balls and concerts for maids of all work are features of the publication.

Why He Tarries.

"Why is your friend staying so long in New York?"

"I don't know—haven't heard which of the two reasons is keeping him."

"Which of the two?"

"Yes; whether he is having too good a time to come away, or has spent all his money and can't get away."

Juvenile Theory.

Sunday School Teacher—What are sins, Harold?

Small Harold—Parents.

Sunday School Teacher—Why, how do you make that out?

Small Harold—Well, the good book says, 'Be sure your sins will find you out,' and that's what parents are always doing.

Cleaning Bagdad Rugs.

It is very difficult to wash a Bagdad couch cover or rug successfully. The colors are almost sure to run when treated in the ordinary way. Before beginning operations separate the strips. Then wash each one in a separate water. Use white soap and lukewarm water to which a little salt has been added after a suds has been raised by brisk stirring. Do not rub the strips on a washboard, but merely dip them into the water and stir them briskly, then quickly rinse them and hang them over a clothes horse in the kitchen away from the sunlight. Be careful when drying that the strips do not overlap. When almost dry press out the wrinkles with a hot iron. If the middle strips have become slightly worn exchange them with those on the outside, when sewing the cover together again.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BLUING.

Talk No. 5.

Avoid liquid bluing. In every city there is an accumulation of junk bottles which are gathered up and filled with a weak solution called bluing. Don't buy water for bluing. Buy RED CROSS BALL BLUE; a 5-cent package equals 20 cents' worth of liquid blue. Makes clothes whiter than snow. AT ALL GOOD GROCERS.

Grandfather at Thirty-five.

V. H. Bryson of Spencer, it is believed, holds the record as the youngest grandfather in the state, his age being only thirty-five years. He was married when fourteen years of age, his wife being only thirteen. His oldest son was married at the age of seventeen and at the age of eighteen presented to the elder Bryson a grandson.—Watkins Chronicle.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Shakespeare Theories.

There have been men crazy enough to try to prove, with ciphers and all manner of mysterious signs and tokens, that Shakespeare was Bacon, that Shakespeare was the son of Elizabeth, that Shakespeare, like Homer, was several people. Nobody has ever been crazy enough to try to prove that Shakespeare was crazy.

Constipation causes and seriously aggravates many diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Peppermint, Tiny sugar-coated granules.

Mankind Analyzed.

The man who lives quite up to the best standards of his age, of his people, of his neighbors, is not a bad man. The one who lives on a scale considerably above that of his age is a good man, no matter how much he may fall below the higher standard of an age more refined, enlightened and civilized.

Game Cock Troughed the Hawk.

Paul E. Gerard went to his farm one recent Sunday afternoon, and while walking over his place he saw a chicken hawk fly to the ground and catch a chicken. One of Mr. Gerard's fine game roosters saw its companion in trouble, and ran to its assistance, fighting the hawk, which later let go the chicken and saved its life.—Bowling Green Messenger.

Goose Did Good Work.

Thanks to a goose, a poultry yard thief was traced at Gutersloh, Germany, the other day. The goose sulked persistently in front of a house where her companions had been hidden, and this led to the thief's arrest.

Homely Illustration.

"Sometimes a virtue can be exaggerated until it becomes a vice," said the earnest adviser. "I see exactly what you're comin' at," replied Taran-tula Tim. "Whereas four acres is a bleasin' and greatly to be admired, five of 'em kin create untold dis-sension."

When Women Rule.

"That lady judge has decided against us." "That's all right," said the feminine attorney. "I know her. By tomorrow she'll change her mind."—Kansas City Journal.

SAUERKRAUT LONGEVITY AID

Rev. Flynn of California Makes Some Peppery Remarks on Diet and Fat—Two Meals Enough.

Cincinnati.—"Any man who is so fat that he cannot see his feet while walking, ought to be arrested," said the Rev. Earl Flynn of Berkeley, Cal., to a Y. M. C. A. audience the other day. "Two meals a day are enough for the average person to eat and remain in a healthy condition. The person who eats three meals a day needs 12 hours sleep to refresh himself."

Mr. Flynn, who is 75 years old, continued:

"The food which collects the longevity germ is sauerkraut. The man or woman who keeps on a diet of this kind, ought to live a century or more. Sauerkraut is very nutritious and should be on the table of everybody." Continuing his health talk, Mr. Flynn wound up with saying: "To be healthy every minister must sweat twice a week. A good many ministers only sweat once a month, when they draw their salaries."

"By Jove," chortled the Alleged Humorist, as he gazed at a check for ten dollars received from a confiding editor in exchange for a joke a thousand years old, "who says now that plums do not grow on chestnut trees?" And he bled him forth into the night and blew himself to a thistle cocktail made of grape juice.—Harper's Weekly.
