YOU OR I?

If we could know Which of us, darling, would be first
to go:
Who would be first to breast the sweet-ling tide
And step alone upon the other side—
If we could know!

If it were you Should I walk softly, keeping death in view?
Should I my love to you more oft express?
Or should I grieve you, darling, and less—
If it were you?

If it were I Should I improve the moments slipping by?
Should I more closely follow God's great plan,
Be filled with sweeter charity to man—
If it were I?

If we could know!
We cannot, darling, and 'tis better so.
I should forget, just as I do today, And walk along the same old stumbling way—
If I could know.

I would not know
Which of us, darling, will be first to go.
I only wish the space may not be long Between the parting and the greeting song.
But when or where or how we're called
to go—
I would not know.
—Every Saturday.

WOMAN'S FUTURE.

The woman of the future as I see her will devote herself to the part time job for which there is no pecuniary reward. She will marry and fulfill all her home duties toward husband and children. She will have perhaps three or four hours of leisure daily. She will devote this time neither to private work nor private pleasures, but to the interests of the community. She will work for the school board and the health department. She will study the milk supply of her town and investigate the water supply. The civic organizations for the cure of neglected, destitute and delinquent children will naturally fall into her hands.
Just as she first taught housekeeping to the man of the cave she will now teach it to the man of the world. One of the inborn characteristics of women, a characteristic not possessed by men, is the ability to make life livable and therefore happy. This ability may be applied just as successfully to the life of the community as to the life of the individual.—William Hard in "The Women of Tomorrow."

WHEREVER the sons of men are found,
And hearts aspire and deeds are done, There Courage walks on holy ground With joy attained and freedom won.

Announcement

I have sold The Gold Hill News, with all that thereunto ap-pertains, except advertising accounts up to and including June 15th, 1912, to my brother, Ben H. Lampman.

REX H. LAMPMAN.

A Declaration of Principles.

WITH THIS ISSUE the writer assumes control of The News, having purchased the plant and subscription lists from his brother, Rex H. Lampman, who has so ably conducted the destinies of the publication for the last three and a half years.

Not merely to comply with traditional custom, but rather to give sincere voice to his belief in the splendid future of Gold Hill, the present publisher wishes to announce that the primary policy of The News will continue to be the advancement of southern Oregon, of Jackson county and the home town.

We believe in Gold Hill, in the prophetic vision of those who see a new queen city on the Rogue within the not distant future; we believe in the resurrection of faith and the inclination to find no goal too high to aim at, or too satisfactory to invite sloth, and retard further progress once it has been obtained.

There are certain ways to accomplish certain things, and the development of a town is no exception to the general rule.
Methods may vary in detail, but the unanimous and unswerving support of its citizenry, the practical ability to get together, and remain so, the constant evangelism of our undeveloped opportunities, our resources, and the splendid situation of our city as the most charming residential habitat in southern Oregon, are the natural and assuredly most effective means to the end.

To this work, for its state, its city and itself, The News reaffirms its pledge.

In politics, great or small, as in all matters of personal conviction and moral choice, The News shall represent and maintain the freedom of the press and the individual. It will serve the public in the livery of Truth, with a zeal bounded only by the limitations of its field, and a set tenet against chicanery and fraud in public life. Beyond that the province of journalism ceases and becomes the mere bickering of gossips at their tattling.

Furthermore, we wish our readers to feel that The News is their paper—as indeed it is and must be to occupy the field. Its columns are open to and invite the timely discussion of public matters by its readers, as well as assistance in compiling the weekly records of the social activities of the community and yourselves.

The News is here to stay. It is here to do its part in the development of southern Oregon. To lend its strength to the advancement of Gold Hill. To represent that which is right. To demand more real men in public life. To speak the truth without fear or favor.

News of Near Neighbors

Riverside.

Mrs. Campbell of Medford was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Porter, last week.

Miss Vera Jernsta is here from Medford, the guest of Miss Bertha Woolverton.

Mrs. H. B. Nye is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Gregory of Medford.

Misses Elizabeth Wallace and Bertha Woolverton attended church at Rogue River Sunday.

Darleigh Slead hooked a 22-lb salmon last week, being the first one caught so far this year.

Mr. H. B. Nye has been busy thinning his peaches, having removed about 1,000 boxes. He expects a good big crop this year, and they are of a variety par excellence in flavor.

Messrs. Alden, Slead and Woolverton purchased about 100 loads of fertilizer at Tolo and began hauling it this week.
The land will more than repay in productiveness for the trouble of hauling it such a distance.

Mr. Woolverton has turned the stream of water in Miller's Gulch onto his place, and has a fine flow of water for irrigating.
He has about three-fourths of an acre of onions which bid fair to be more than an ordinary crop, and a garden which it would be hard to beat.

About twenty were in attendance at the Rock Point school meeting Monday afternoon. One member resigned from the board, leaving an entire new board of directors to be elected. Mr. I. T. Galli-gar was elected for the three year term, Mr. Isaac Porter for two years, and Miss Harper as clerk. It was also voted to make a few much needed improvements for the school, and as Mrs. Gay, next year's teacher, and the new board stand for progressiveness, we are sure of a progressive year's work.

Galls Creek

By Prospector.

Mrs. Mary Laurence made a business trip to the Hill Saturday.

R. M. Cook made a business trip to Gold Hill Thursday.

Mr. Jannison made a business call on the Hill one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eaton made a business call on Gold Hill Friday.

Fred McChellan of Gold Hill made a business trip up the Creek Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stettman made a business trip to the Hill Wednesday.

Wm. Shoemaker, Wm. Blackett and Dave Eaton made a business trip to Gold Hill Thursday.

Wm. Shoemaker made a business trip to Gold Hill and Rogue River Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Swinden left last Tuesday for Klamath Falls where she intends spending a summer's vacation.

Mrs. W. and Mrs. H. W. Stettman visited Mrs. Ed Shoemaker at The Brad-den Mine on Kaneskrik Friday.

Miss Ella Jannison gave a picnic to her boy and girl friends Tuesday, which they all enjoyed, having a good time.

Joe Shoemaker is back on the Creek to spend a few days with his brother. He was previously employed at the Braden Mine.

Billie Hawkins and Steve Jones made a trip to Gold Hill Saturday evening—Steve going to Grants Pass and Billie returning to the mine.

School election was held here Monday, and H. W. Stettman was elected as director in place of Mr. Blackinton, and R. M. Cook was re-elected clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackinton and Mr. and Mrs. Stettman made a business and pleasure trip to Gold Hill Saturday evening, taking in the show and other amusements around the city.

Debenger Gap

By Norman Gage.

Mrs. Ella Maul and daughter, Blanche, of Medford, came to Beagle last Saturday to visit with Mrs. Maul's sister, Mrs. M.
H. Gordon and family.

James J. Fredenburg of Sams Valley, road supervisor of road district No. 12, is having some work done on the Long Branch hill a few miles below Trail.
Mr. Fredenburg has just completed some work on the road in the New Hope vicinity near Beagle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Thornbrue and family of Beagle were business visitors at Central Point last Friday.

Charley Centers of Upper Sams Valley was a business visitor at Medford last Thursday and Friday.

The dance given at McDwight's place near Beagle was attended and enjoyed by a very large crowd which came from various parts of the country.
