Mrs. Bessie Pearson, of Ashland, was the guest of local friends last Saturday.

W. G. Myers was a business visitor at Medford and Jacksonville on Thursday.

Mrs. John Hammersly and mother, were guests of friends at Grants Pass on Tuesday.

Don't use the old fashioned sad iron. Try a Hot Point Glad iron. See John Kelsey, he has 'em.

Roy Bowman is back from Jacksonville, where he was employed in the quarry for two months.

Miss Bessie Garrett, of Ashland, is assisting with the inventory of the Jarvis drug stock the present week.

Mr. and Mrs. Drs. Carlow, of Medford, were guests of Mrs. Carlow's sister, Mrs. W. L. Collins, and family, last Sunday.

Four Oliver typewriters for sale, practically as good as new. Price, $50.00 each. Inquire of postmaster John Hammersly.

Verne G. Blue, of the high school faculty, went to Ashland on Saturday, remaining over Sunday at the family home in that city.

Judge C. Murphy, of Cavalier, North Dakota, who visited in Gold Hill for a week, departed Wednesday morning upon his return trip east.

Mrs. J. L. Moore came down from Medford, where Mr. Moore is employed upon the Bear creek bridge, and visited with friends on Tuesday.

D. P. Blue departed on Wednesday morning for Marshfield, where he is interested in some large building contracts and will remain for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. G. A. Landis, and P. H. Myers, drove to Evans creek on Sunday last, where they spent the day as guests at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hillis.

Charles Gauld, W. L. Boise, J. G. Gauld, and J. J. Patton, are a party of Portland business men who have been making Gold Hill their rendezvous for the past week, while fishing steelhead trout up and down the river.

M. D. Bowers, of Central Point, is in this city on business the present week. It is generally understood that he contemplates the purchase of the drug business, stock and fixtures of J. Q. Jarvis.

Have good home with large lot and other property in town, all to the value of $3,000, and some cash. Want a small ranch, 40 to 80 acres, improved, and not too far out. If you have the ranch, call and see me.

If you want an electric stove, you want one that will be as convenient as possible. I have one that will broil, toast, fry, or boil, doing any two at once. And three pans go with this Hot Point article.

JOHN KEARSEY, Agent

Do you want ten acres of finest garden land, beautifully situated, all improved, with good six-room house and barn, good live spring, and close to town? This is something fine; for particulars call on

C. S. REDFIELD.

Mrs. Erwin Byle and son, of Colorado who were guests of Mrs. Byle's brother, Gus Goodrich, and family, for several days, departed on Saturday evening last for San Francisco, where they will visit relatives and friends.

Sam Hodges, John Hammersly, and Jack Jarvis returned on Saturday last from camp on upper Evans creek, where they hunted during the week previous. A supply of both jerky and fresh venison accompanied them upon their return, to testify to their success.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beaman on Saturday and Sunday last. The young couple have made their home at Medford during the past year, but were then enroute for Hoquiam, Washington, where they will reside in the future.

Another big cut in prices at the Gold Hill Furniture Store. China, granite, earthen, glass and silverware at one-half price. Tents, wagon covers, wall paper, and one lot small rugs, at 25 percent off. Come and investigate. Big money saving opportunity on every thing in the store.

John Hammersly and Master Dale Hammersly took the horseback route to Willow Flat on Thursday morning. Mr. Hammersly will return in a few days but Dale, whose health has not been of the best of late, will remain for a month or more at the cabin of his uncle, warden Riley Hammersly.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McClellan and little son, George, who have made their home in Vancouver for the past two months, were in Gold Hill for several hours between trains on Sunday visiting at George L. McClellan's. They were enroute to Modesto, Calif., where Mr. McClellan has secured employment and where they will make their future home.

In the M. E. church, tastily decorated with the black and gold colors of the Gold Hill high school, and the red and white of the Epworth League, the latter organization tendered a reception on Friday evening of last week to the school faculty and the high school pupils. An entertaining program prepared by the members of the League was much appreciated by the guests.

Rev. E. C. Richards, of the M. E. church, will be absent from the pulpit on Sunday, being in attendance at the annual conference which is held in Ashland. Both morning and evening service will be observed, however, the Sunday school assuming charge of the former, while the Epworth League will conduct services in the evening. Appropriate programs will be carried out at both.

Not to be outdone by his neighbor and fellow experimenter in gardening, George Holcomb brot in a single peanut plant the first of this week which now retires the Erlwein exhibit, mentioned in last week's News, to the also-ran class. The vine grown by Mr. Holcomb was selected at random from the little patch with which he is experimenting, and bore peanuts enough to fill the average small boy to repletion. Like Mr. Erlwein, he will plant a larger field next year and anticipates excellent results.

John Ritchie, veteran newspaper man and writer, is spending several days in Gold Hill engaged in the completion of certain literary work which he has now in hand. Mr. Ritchie is seventy-two years of age, and for forty years stood his trick at reportorial and editorial desks on most of the large eastern dailies, and altho retired from active engagement in the journalistic profession still retains a deep and engaging interest in public events. Mr. Ritchie, who is now a guest at the Gold Hill Hotel, expects to return to Chicago within a short time to renew his comradeship with the boys of the press club.

Regret is general that Mrs. M. R. Rice, station agent at Gold Hill for the past six years, has resigned her position here to accept a position as first trick operator at Woodburn. Mrs. Rice expects to leave Gold Hill within the next fortnight, but before assuming her new duties plans to spend a month's vacation on a trip east and a visit with friends in New York city. Just who will receive the agency at this station is not yet known, but the position will be awarded to the eldest applicant—in point of service—who makes a bid for the job. Mrs. Rice has served at the key for twenty-three years, and in consideration of her excellent services to the company is favored with an annual pass over the entire system—a courtesy that is envied of many employees but extended to few.

Loot of a captured Confederate bank in the closing years of the Civil war, several $5.00 notes of the Confederate states were presented to local friends by C. S. Howell, of Sams Valley, one day this week. Mr. Howell "was with Grant," his regiment being the 14th Illinois infantry. As the boys stormed into a sleepy little Virginia town one morning in '64, the local bank officials departed by the back door, and thousands of dollars of the practically worthless Confederate currency was appropriated by the men of the 14th. The notes given Gold Hill friends were part of the spoils of that extraordinary bank robbery forty-eight years ago. Mr. Howell saw much service, and participated in many of the notable battles of the war, including Shiloh and the sieges of Vicksburg and Corinth. At the close of his first enlistment in '64, he re-enlisted in the 6th U. S. Veteran volunteers and served for another year. He has been a resident of Jackson county since 1893, coming from Kansas at that time, has prospered materially on his Sams Valley ranch and carries his seventy-two years with a vigor that might well make him eligible for his country's service even now.

AMERICAN TROOPS HOLD 6 PRISONERS

Advisers and Principal Leaders of General Pascual Orozco Are Taken.

El Paso, Tex.—Six prisoners are held by United States troops at Presidio, Tex., opposite Ojinaga, Mex., where General Tracy Aubert arrived with 1500 federal troops.

Among the prisoners are all the advisers and principal leaders of General Pascual Orozco, Jr., the rebel commander-in-chief. It is suspected that the person giving his name as Colonel Pablo G. Orozco, a distant relative of the rebel leader, is the rebel leader himself.

Among the prisoners positively identified, according to reports to General Steever, are Colonel Pascual Orozco, father of the rebel general; Colonel Jose Cordova, General Orozco's private secretary and chief adviser, and Colonel Christobal Caballero, an adviser to the rebel chief.

Federals Retake El Tigre

Douglas, Ariz.—El Tigre, one of the richest mining camps in northern Mexico, was retaken by federals after having been in the hands of the rebel band commanded by Inez Salazar for two days.

The rebels are reported to have taken with them $20,000 worth of gold and silver bullion. Although Salazar made a demand for $100,000 on threats of destroying the plant of the El Tigre company, valued at $2,000,000 and of taking Superintendent Budrow with them as a prisoner, they did not molest any of the company officials.

Threats of the rebels to murder Americans were not fulfilled. So far as known it is believed the only Americans remaining in the section of Sonora infested by the rebel bands of Rojas, Salazar and Campa are those in the well protected towns.

In anticipation of an attack on Nacozari, the Phelps Dodge Copper mining town, about 80 miles south of here, all the women and children remaining in the camp were brought to Douglas. A special train brought them about 60 miles, where automobiles from Douglas met them. About 60 refugees arrived.

Mount Angel college opened its doors to begin its 26th scholastic year. Last year's teaching staff has been considerably strengthened by the addition of several recognized professors and men of learning. Rev. J. J. O'Riordan, formerly editor of the Catholic Sentinel, has been added to the faculty.

Repudiating the petition sent to Governor West directed at Mayor Dale and others of Harrisburg, in which Dale was charged with being "the brains of the blind pig interests," and in which it was claimed he patronized and assisted those interests, a counter petition has been forwarded to the executive, signed by many of the citizens of Harrisburg.

A report from the Lakeview land office gives the following as the total amount of land, in acres, entered and relinquished in Lakeview land district for the month of August, 1912: Lake county, land entered, 11,177.32; land relinquished, 2679.68; Klamath county, land entered, 1762.84; land relinquished, 603.47; Crook county, land entered, 1994.31; land relinquished, 1101.56.

ROSENTHAL KILLERS FOUND IN BROOKLYN

New York.—"Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie," the missing gunmen indicted as two of the actual slayers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, were found by the police living with their wives in a flat in Brooklyn. They were arrested by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and a squad of detectives and locked up.

The two men had been occupying the flat since August 15 and were alone until Tuesday, when they were joined by their wives, through whom clues to their whereabouts were obtained by the police.

With the arrest of "Gyp" and "Lefty," whose real names are Harry Horowitz and Louis Rosensweig, the seven men accused of killing Rosenthal, of which Police Lieutenant Becker is the alleged instigator, are now in custody.

The capture was the fruit of an unbroken surveillance of the wives and relatives of the two men. This surveillance was maintained by 60 detectives working in relays, who kept Deputy Commissioner Dougherty in touch with what they did and where they were sent.
