Professor and Mrs. Burt A. Adams, accompanied by Miss Edna Proctor, drove to J'ville on Wednesday forenoon, returning that evening. Miss Proctor remained to take the teachers' examination now in progress at the county seat.

A force of carpenters are now engaged at the Nellie Wright mine in the construction of a mill building. The splendid showing made by this property in free milling ore fully justifies the installing of a modern plant, in the estimation of local mining men.

The Bon Ton has a new dispenser of sodas, sundaes, and cigars. Ray Barris, of Medford, for the past year employed in a well known confectioner's establishment of that city, arrived on Sunday last and has accepted a permanent position as the Bon Ton's sales force.

B. E. Haney, proprietor of the Holland billiard parlors at Medford, was an interested visitor to this city Thursday. He was accompanied by Harry Messler, who announced his intention of "keeping an eye" on Gold Hill, and declared his faith in the city's future.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Myer and family, accompanied by Mrs. S. T. Hodges, autoed to this city from Ashland Sunday and spent the day at the Hodges' home. Mrs. Hodges, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Myer, for the past fortnight, returned with the party to remain for another week.

Benton Bowers, of Ashland, accompanied by his wife and little son, Raymond, autoed through Gold Hill Tuesday afternoon, stopping for a brief visit with his son, M. D. Bowers. The party were enroute to the Willamette valley, where Mr. Bowers will remain several weeks attending to ranching interests.

A conference of Attorneys Neff and Reames, representing the litigants in the city charter case, early this week, resulted in the announcement that the case will be set for hearing before the supreme court early in July. Under this arrangement, which advances the case upon the court calendar, a decision will probably be handed down by the last of next month.

Carl Darling arrived on Friday last from Oakland, Calif., where the strike of the electrical workers union, of which he is a member, permitted him an opportunity to visit home again. Mr. Darling stated that the strike affected two-thirds of the state, and concerned nearly 3,500 operatives. In the opinion of the electricians and the companies concerned, the matter will be settled within the coming month, when it is Mr. Darling's intention to return to Oakland.

On Tuesday evening next Mrs. Gard and Mrs. Carter, of Ashland, who conducted a lecture on Spiritualism in this city a fortnight ago, will appear at the Wego theatre, where Mrs. Gard will again lecture and Mrs. Carter give tests. The recent visit of these ladies to Gold Hill produced much interest and they have been urged to return. Mrs. Carter will again give private readings at Mrs. Blackburn's home on that date, arriving on the morning train and remaining the entire day.

Wm. M. Smith returned on Thursday afternoon from Centralia, Washington, after a visit of several weeks with relatives in that city. It was Mr. Smith's intention to have remained a much longer period, but the low altitude seriously affected his health and necessitated his immediate return to southern Oregon and health. During the greater part of his absence, in fact, he was confined to the hospital receiving treatment for asthma. "Dad's" return to Gold Hill makes things seem natural again, and is a source of much satisfaction to his friends.
