They will remain for at least two weeks, before striking camp for the return to town.

Public clamor for the continuance of a pleasant Saturday evening feature has led to the announcement by the band boys of another open air concert at the band-stand this evening. Following the concert a social dance will be tendered in the opera house, admittance being gained by the nominal contribution of four-bits to the treasury of the band organization.

J. J. Houck, at the helm of the "original automobile", left on Thursday morning for his home at Corvallis, after having been for some weeks the guest of old friends and neighbors in this city. He was accompanied by Horton Beaman, who will be met at Corvallis by his sister, Mrs. George Lane, motoring thence to Aumsville where he will visit until the opening of the term of school.

Drilling operations have been commenced upon a third hole at the Beaver-Portland Cement company's property west of this city, preparatory to the location of the permanent quarry. In every essential particular the lime rock is said to be maintaining its original standard, and no limit to the depth of the ledge has been encountered in more than one hundred feet of drilling.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jennings, who encamped at Willow Flat on upper Evans Creek for the opening of the hunting season, and remained for a fortnight, returned to the city on Sunday afternoon last. While they report hunters to have been far more plentiful than deer in that delightful vicinity, the party contrived to remain supplied with camp meat during their stay, and occasionally supplemented the larder by a catch of the sprightly little mountain trout for which the district is famed.

M. S. Johnson, of this city, and Frank Harkins, of Rogue River, copartners in the operation of placer mining claims on Jump-off-Joe Creek, disposed of their interests during the past week to Seattle parties for a consideration of $15,000. The claims involved are considered to be foremost of the various placer groups of the district, and yielded a substantial clean-up for the previous season's work.

Saturday night—tonight—the fifty cent band dance and the customary good time at the opera house; next Saturday night, the 23d inst., a more carefully planned program of enjoyable dances with special music, also under the auspices of the Gold Hill Concert Band. Lovers of the dance can not afford to neglect either occasion to enjoy a splendid evening of happy entertainment. Two Saturday nights in succession, at the earnest solicitation of the public, which recognizes the merit of the band boys as dance promoters who always exceed their promises.

Why Go To Colestin Sunday?

Because you will enjoy the ride over the Siskiyou, the view of Pilot Rock and Mt. Shasta, the Mineral Water at Colestin Springs, the cool, bracing mountain air, the ample shade, the dance in the pavilion, the box ball alley, shooting gallery, the swings and band music. You will also enjoy the ride in the wide, roomy steel coaches and behind the oil burning engine, no soot, or cinders. The fare for the round trip from Gold Hill is only $1.55 and the train will leave that night at 7:35 a. m., arriving back at 7:45 p. m.

A Statement of Fact

I moved to Kandiyohi county, Minnesota in the year 1867, at that time it was the frontier and a wilderness. That year flour was $18.00 a barrel, cash. I took a homestead 5 miles from Burbank, here I first met my wife, who was 12 years old at the time. She was very honest in her way and in later years very religious. Fish and game, including deer and elk, were in plenty, and the first big game I killed was with Hannah's father, Mr. B. Cruver. There were nine children in my wife's family.

We were married at Albany, July 21st, at the Court House, and then came to our little home at Gold Hill, with about $2,500 between us. My wife had a fear that I could not support her children, although under the new pension law I draw $16.50, a month, so the departure. She was subjected to hysterics, which I did not know before my marriage and had one bad spell while here. I helped pack her baggage before going, and gave her $200 to go on. Our honey-moon cost us another $100. She left some things here for me to sell for her if I can.

I still love my wife and she will still be my wife by marriage. I have hopes that we will be reconciled to each other.

To the School Children of Gold Hill:

In compliance with Section 311 Oregon School Law many of your text books have been changed. This means that you must provide yourself with these new books for the coming school year. Hence if you will follow these instructions, I think you will be saved both trouble and money. In the first place do not purchase any school books till after the opening of school and then only at Bowers' Drug Store. Then do not fail to gather up all the old texts you have been using and bring them to school the first morning when your teachers will give you further instructions. These displaced texts are worth money to you as they can be exchanged for about 50 per cent of their original value.

Also be sure to bring your promotion cards the first morning.
