VOLUME ONE

ROGUE RIVER, OREGON THURSDAY DECEMBER 2, 1926

NUMBER FIVE

Jim Breeding who is manager of the Savage Rapids Creek dance hall has hired the Rogue River Five to play. We hear the dances are very fine now.

Harley Cummings from Keno was a visitor here for about a week. Mr. Thompson is quiet ill at his home.

Local Happenings

Relative from California are visiting Geo. Martins home for a few days.

The North Pole Mine is the progressive place we like to see. Several men are working there every day.

Geo Glass is back doing his assessment work on his mine.

Mrs. M. J. Alpaugh has been to Crescent City to visit a sick son who lives there.

The writer was recently shown a $1000 city Warrant which pays exactly half the towns indebtedness. During his term of office as mayor, Mr. Sparks has exerted every effort to clean up the city of indebtedness and has been very successful.

Mr. R. C. Cummings was called home from Keno, Wednesday morning on account of the sickness of his two children.

Last Monday was election day and A. W. Love was elected Mayor. The three new councilmen are Sam Sandry, Mr. Sparks and Albert Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren, Florence White and Mrs. Love were in Grants Pass shopping Wednesday. The The Sandrys were also down.

The teachers and wives of the school board surprised the board last meeting night. Lunch was served and a pleasant evening was spent.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Wait on Sardine Creek Sunday. Those present were, Mr and Mrs. W. T. Newton of Sacramento Calif., Miss Susan Starns of San Francisco, Mrs. E. M. Newton and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elhart and son Billy of Ashland, Mrs. E. M. Starns, Maude, Ruth and Jesse Starns of Grants Pass, Miss Evagene Starns of Gold Hill, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Miller, Miss Florence Miller and Mrs. R. W. Dusenberry of Sardine Creek. An enjoyable time was had by all.

SCHOOL NOTES

DEBT PAID

Mr. Oliver, Daris Sandry, Walter Wakeman Ruth Schow and Nola Le Moine went to Medford Dec 3, to pay the bill made when Florence White was hurt playing basketball last year. The High School are glad to know that the bill is paid for it is better to have no debts at all.

DOMESTIC ART WORK

Miss Sandry's domestic art class has made some very artistic note book covers to hold their notes taken on serving. The covers are made of manilla folders and decorated by some design made according to the taste of the students.

BASKET BALL

Practicing for basketball has begun and the first game is to be Dec. 17 between Grants Pass and Rogue River boys and girls both.

The boys practice on Monday Wednesday and Friday nights.

The girls practice on Tuesday and Thursday after school.

WINDOW DECORATIONS

The third and fourth grades are decorating their room for Xmas by painting pictures of Saint Nicholas on the windows while the fifth and sixth grades are painting Xmas wreaths and candles.

Mrs. C. W. Frier of Portland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Priest of this place, is stopping here a few days on her way to San Francisco to meet her husband and make their home their.

Alden Galbrith is home from Klamath Falls where he has been working all summer.

Ceo Herriott who lives on Applegate is selling washing machines in this district.

CHRISTMAS PLAY
The lower grades are practicing a Christmas play to be given for the parents on Dec. 23.

INSTITUTE
Mr. Oliver, Miss Martin and Mrs. G. Draith attended the Institute given at Medford Saturday.

Word has been received that Mr. McFarren, formerly a barber here, passed away last week at Tillamook, Oregon.

Rogue River and Grants Pass girls are going to play the seasons first game of basketball here Dec. 17. This has been promised to be an exciting game by everyone concerned.

4-H CLUB WORK SHOULD BE EXPLAINED

More than 565,000 farm boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H club work in the United States. They belong to about 41,000 separate clubs. There are about 11,000,000 young people on farms, all of whom could profit from learning better farm and home practices through club work. "The work should be soon expanded by Dr. Smith, who goes on to the Office of Cooperative Extension Work, in a new circular, "that all rural boys and girls who want to can take part in it and receive its benefits."

The organization, purposes and scope of 4-H club work are explained by Dr. S. Smith, who goes on to say that the outstanding characteristic of the work is that each member conducts a substantial piece of work, designed to show some better practice on the farm or in the home or community; keeps a record of results; explains the work to others; and makes a final report on the work. The individual boy or girl is reached through the national agricultural extension system, in which the United States Department of Agriculture, the land grant colleges, and various local agencies cooperate. Typical lines of club work are: Growing an acre or more of cotton in accordance with directions, raising a sow and litter of pigs according to instructions, growing fruit and vegetables in accordance with the dietary needs of the family, canning the surplus in the most approved ways, and other phases of farm and home work that especially appeal to young people.

The work is carried on with boys and girls 10 to 20 years of age, usually through groups of 10, to 20 members. These members not only come into contact with their local leaders, who know how to do things, but with the work of one another, in which rivalry plays a part, and with the public in field meetings, exhibits at fairs, festivals and demonstrations.

The particular value of club work is that it gets hold of young people while their minds are plastic and gives them guidance when they need it, teaches them some of the inspiring things in agriculture, and gives them visions of its possibilities as a life job. It provides opportunity for them to share home responsibilities in keeping with their ability and gives them a part in solving the problems of rural communities. It influences the farm and home practice of the member's families. It develops rural leadership. In short, the circular summarizes, "4-H club boys and girls are doers. They are taught high ideals and standards. They meet together, work together, play together, cooperate, achieve. They play the game fairly. They demonstrate, work, earn money, and acquire property. They learn and teach the better way on the farm, in the home, and in the community. They build up their bodies and their health through right living. They train their hands to be useful, their minds to think clearly, and their hearts to be kind."

OREGON TO COMPLETE REDWOOD HIGHWAY

The last gap in the Redwood Highway in Oregon was ordered complete by the state highway commission and bids for work will be advertised for at once. Roy Klein, state highway engineer, said. This section involves 10 miles between Hays hill and the Applegate River.
