

EMORY L. DAVIS

Emory L. Davis passed away at the Veteran's hospital in Portland, Saturday evening, February 16th at the age of 34 years following a lingering illness of several months. Emory was the son of Mrs. Lula Davis of this city and was born in the Willow Springs section near this city and spent almost his entire life in and around Gold Hill. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lula Davis and one sister, Mrs. Wm. Ferguson and a brother, Eber all of this city.

Funeral services were conducted at the Odd Fellows hall in this city with the Rev. Carman E. Mell, pastor of the First Christian church of Medford officiating. The remains were interred in the Rock Point cemetery. The pall bearers were ex-service men and friends of the deceased and the firing squad and buglar of the American Legion of Medford conducted the military salute and the chaplain read the veteran's ritual.

Emory Davis was a veteran of the world war, serving his country on the front. He was also well known throughout southern Oregon as a baseball pitcher and received the cheers of many on the baseball diamond. He had a very strong following in this part of the country and that partially accounted for the very large attendance at his funeral, the hall being filled almost to capacity with his and his family's friends who came to mourn for the departed and sympathize with the bereaved.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind and courteous treatment during our recent bereavement occasioned by the death of our beloved son and brother, Emory L. Davis. We are especially thankful for the many beautiful floral offerings and for the cooperation of the American Legion at this time of sorrow.

Corn Aid to Civilization

When nomadic peoples first began to grow their food and store it, instead of going out to hunt each day's rations or pick them in the convenient forests, they had to settle down near their fields and devote their spare time to some of the finer arts of life. Thus civilization advanced hand in hand with the cultivation of corn.

There is a book belonging to the family of prince de Ligne of France that is neither written nor printed. The letters of the text are cut out of each folio upon the finest vellum, and being interleaved with blue paper, it is as easy to read as print.

A Dollar Dinner For Four

WITH the above account on view, who can deny that by the aid of careful shopping and taking advantage of food sales a delicious meal can be prepared for four adults for one dollar?

The can of vegetable soup needs only to have water added and to be heated before serving, and the can of spinach may be sautéed and seasoned with celery salt and onion salt and served.

To prepare the sausages, sauté two sliced onions in two tablespoons bacon fat until golden brown. Add one number 2 1/2 can of tomatoes and bring to boiling; add salt and pepper to taste. Add one-fourth cup rice and cook gently until rice is tender. Add contents of a 3 ounce can of Vienna sausages and heat through.

For the peach surprise eight peach halves from a can are needed. Chop two tablespoons figs and two tablespoons pecans and mix, using enough evaporated milk to bind together. The seven cents left from your dollar will cover the cost of these. Place the peach halves together, filling the holes with the fig and pecan mixture. Place in sherbet glasses and top with whipped, evaporated milk. To whip the milk, put the can into water, heat to the boiling point then chill rapidly, then whip. Serve immediately.
