THE RAMBLING HORDE WILL SOON BE HERE

The time cannot now be many days away when the horde of sightseers from all over the nation and the world will move into Oregon. Already the vanguard of that great mass of tourists are to be seen along our every highway.

Nature was kind to Oregon. We have beautiful wooded hills, charming natural lakes, picturesque waterfalls, dazzling subterranean caves, impressive and alluring valleys. Our streams are filled with game fish and our hills with game. Our mountains are covered with giant trees which stretch their branches high into the heavens and our valleys are inhabited with an industrious people and spotted with busy cities and villages.

Aside from these natural advantages we have the added blessing of a wonderful climate. These are the things which the tourists from other portions of the world are going to see. What a relief all these will be to the vacationist from all over the world who is lured to our common wealth for rest and relaxation. Where could he come to find any greater diversity in the gifts of nature?

The people here should be ready to greet the strangers within our gates and extend to them the warm hand of hospitality. They must bury the hammer and preach the gospel of a bigger and better Oregon. They must not lose sight of the fact that, no matter what they think of the place they live there are many places far worse. They must resolve to make our guests most welcome, that they might come again and bring their friends.

The farm relief bill has been passed and the president has signed it. Congress has appropriated the money to put it into effect. Even the debenture clause was accepted. The measure with all the trimmings is now the law of the land and we shall see what the reaction shall be. We will soon be able to know whether the new farm relief measure is a credit to our national statesmen or just another garbled mess of political potage designed to please the palate of the rural citizen. We sincerely hope that this new departure in farm relief will react to the benefit of those for which it is intended.

Since the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce placed a branch office in Los Angeles there have been many inquiries for Oregon lands. In fact, so avidly did the visitors to the Oregon building, greet its advent that now the ever alert Californian real estate men are endeavoring to list lands in this state so that they might reap the harvest.

From all reports the Federal prohibition agents along the Canadian border are getting plenty of target practice and are using live objects to shoot at. They are now being threatened with disarmament. There is one thing sure if they are disarmed it will be a great boon to the thirsty in those parts.

We have not made a guess on the weather for a long time we are going to venture the soliloquy that summer is here.

***

All roads in Southern Oregon will soon lead to Crater Lake. It will be possible for cars to reach the lodge without much difficulty now so—let the tourists come. We have been waiting for them a long time this year.

THE JOKERS CORNER

Referee Wanted

I'll never forget the night you proposed," said the wife. "You acted like a fish out of water."

Then the gong sounded for the first round.

The Reason

The teacher was explaining things to the boys in his class.

"For instance, I want to introduce water into my house. I turn it on. The pipes and taps are in order, but I get no water. Can you tell me why?"

He expected the children to see that it was because he had not made a connection with the main in the street. The boys looked puzzled. They could not see why the water should refuse to run into his premises after such faultless plumbing.

"Can no one tell me what I have neglected?" the teacher repeated, looking at the wondering faces.

"I know," said one boy at last. "You don't pay up."

Silver Lining

Only two passengers had survived the shipwreck, a lady from New York and a gentleman from Aberdeen. By the end of their second week on the desert isle their clothing was in tatters, their provisions were exhausted and the monkeys had even ceased to sling milk filled cocoanuts at them from the trees. The future looked pretty crummy.

"Oh, it just couldn't be any worse, Sandy," moaned the woman.

"Ah, but it could!" the Scot contradicted, a rare grin wrinkling his dour countenance. "I might ha' bought a return ticket."

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "Perfect retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy leg-straps are used.

I guarantee the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself.

One Way Speed

In a certain community there was an old deserted house that was known as the "haunted" house. Many thrilling stories were told by the people of the community about the sights that had been seen and the strange sounds that had been heard in the house. The negroes, of course, accepted all these stories at face value. But a negro man moved into the community who claimed that he was not superstitious, and he laughed at the other negroes for believing in ghosts and "spirits". In order to convince them of the error of their way, he agreed to go over to the dreaded house and sleep there through the night. The appointed day came and after dark he took some bed-clothes over to the cabin to make the demonstration. But next morning he didn't turn up. He was gone. No one knew where he went nor why he went. About a week later a white man of the community met him, evidently on his way back home. "Aren't you the negro," said the white man, "who spent the night in the old haunted house?" "It's the man what went over dar to stay all night but I didn't stay dar long." "Well, that was a week ago, where have you been all this time?" "It's been com'n back from whar I runned to dat night," was the reply.
