Victor L. Berger, socialist member of congress, publisher is dead. His death was caused from an accident in which he was injured several weeks ago. Burger was a powerful man and a martyr to the cause which to him was dear. He had the courage to back his convictions and even a twenty year jail sentence would not swerve him from the cause which he championed. He was six times elected as a socialist member to the U. S. House of Representatives but served only four, he being denied the right to hold office due to an indictment being held over his head.

The matter of weeds is always a live issue in any town and we would like to again call the attention of the people who live in and near the city to the conditions of their highway frontage. Of course everyone who lives along the highways do not allow the weeds to grow rank in fact they are few but there are many vacant lots in front of which the weeds are allowed to grow and as a result give a ragged appearance to our city when visitors come. It requires but very little effort to keep the weeds along our streets and especially the main thoroughfares, down and it surely adds considerable to the attractiveness of the town. In cases where property owners are not present to look after their property or will not take the time or trouble to do so, the city should see that the work is done and the expenses of the operation charged to the property holder. To the average citizen there need be no warning or request to clean up for his civic pride will cause him to dress up his property but in every town or city there are a few careless ones who must be prompted to attend to these small items.

This week the German Graf Zeppelin made its second successful trip across the Atlantic ocean and has already started back to its native land. It has proven that it is possible to safely navigate the Atlantic Ocean with that type of conveyance. The German Zeps were the dread of England during the world war and at that time it was considered a real feat to cover the short distance from Germany to England but now we have the huge air liner safely crossing the Atlantic both directions without a mishap. The big bag will now attempt to circumnavigate the globe, a trip of approximately 22,000 and will return to this county from the far east on its next trip. Twenty-two people placed their safety into the hands of the pilot of the Zeppelin on its return across the Atlantic.

In several parts of the northwest there are huge fires burning in the timber tracts. Thousands of men are fighting to stop the destruction which was caused, no doubt, by either the carelessness or cussedness of one man and besides that thousands of dollars of the states' natural resources were destroyed. Protection for the water sheds have gone and many other regrettable results will follow. Often we hear the lament of the hunter because the underbrush is thick making hunting difficult. The brush and forest fires are even looked upon as a benefit by this class of people but the same parties will stress the fact that there are few springs in the mountains now like their formerly were. The hills can be no other way than dry and barren when the vegetation is removed and their slopes exposed to the direct rays of the summer sun. Nature provided a protection for the hills and if man destroys that which nature provided then he must suffer the inconveniences which accompany the act.

Almost Impossible

The man I'm going with now has both money and brains, Gladys proclaimed.

That makes it tough.

Oh, he skal gave me gude hug and gude kiss.

An what did you do?

Oh ma'am I do no spaek much English so I jüst say tank you.

Best She Could Do

Mrs. DeSmythe had hired a new maid and on the day after her arrival she took her aside and said—Tillie, there's something I forgot to tell you yesterday. It's about my chauffeur. He's the kind of a man for a girl to keep away from.

Oh, exclaimed Tillie, ay skal know him alretty.

Mersey! What has he done?

The Blush of Youth

Saddie Saddles: Don't you think I am keeping that school girl complexion?

Sugar Daddy: "Yes, but for cripes' sake keep it off my coat collar—my wife raised heck when I blew in last night."

Ozark Justice

Officer—Your honor, the bull pup has gone and chewed up the bible.

Judge—Well, have the prisoner kiss the bull pup—we can't wait around here a week for another bible.

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Paul King and family have returned to this city and have rented the house of Mrs. Matilda Parker, for a residence. The King family resided here last year during the fruit season while Mr. King looked after the packing of the fruit at the Van Hoevenberg orchards near this city.

According to word received by this office, Wednesday from our former townsman, John Hammersly he is again a resident of Oregon. The climate of Alaska did not agree with John so he has returned to Oregon and is at present making his seat of operation at Reedsport at the mouth of the Umpqua river.

Frank Bailey, Newspaper man of Manchester, Oklahoma, and Herb Snyder, merchant of the same city were in the city several days the past week as guests of their uncles, Fitch and Ogden Snyder. The two young men were much impressed with the country and stated they would be back next year to stay a month. They left for California points where they will visit with other relatives before returning to their home.

Justice Reed had two traffic cases in his court this week and will have another one tomorrow. All three charges were for overloading on the Crater Lake highway. F. J. Gordon was fined $12 and A. F. Black $15 and costs for their offense and L. F. Lamberson will answer in the court tomorrow. The judge heard nine cases last week, all but one of which came under the state traffic laws.

swer in the court tomorrow. The judge heard nine cases last week, all but one of which came under the state traffic laws.

Bud Snyder, nationally known vaudeville actor of New York and Hollywood is among the fishermen who are patronizing the Rogue river fishing this season. Mr. Snyder is stopping with J. E. Kelley during his sojourn in this city. He carries a complete truck and has it full of equipment for all kinds of fishing. Mr. Snyder is a lover of fishing as a recreation and he is receiving much sport from fishing in the Rogue near this place.

The Methodist Sunday school will have its annual picnic on the lawn of the City Hall, Friday, August 9th. All the children of the community are invited to unite with the Sunday school. It is particularly desired that the fathers and mothers will attend and help make the occasion a gala one.

The children will assemble at 5:00 p. m. and supper will be about 6:30. Games and pastimes for the children will be under competent management and everyone is assured of a very pleasant evening.

Henry Drolette has taken charge of the Nugget Service station. He purchased the interests of Riley Comer last week and took immediate possession. Mr. Drolette is very well known in southern Oregon and has been in the service station business and garage business in Grants Pass and at California points prior to his locating here. Mr. Drolette is a very affable fellow and will no doubt take well with the people who have any use for the merchandise or service which he dispenses. Mr. Comer and Mr. Ramsey who have been conducting the station since it was erected have gone to Pocatello, Idaho where they will make their home in the future.

Mrs. Susie Coy and R. A. Robinson became the owners of the service station near the Rogue river bridge in the eastern end of the city, commonly known as Vernon's Station. The station has been under the management of J. A. Gould for the past six months. The new proprietors took possession, Wednesday morning. The dining room service which has been closed for the past year or more will be opened under the new management as will also the soda fountain which was added to the station by Mr. Vernon. Mrs. Goy is an experienced caterer and has been doing business in Gold Hill for many years and her patronage in her new location will no doubt grow considerably. Logan Gardner is assisting with the work at the station at the present time.

Mrs. Geo. Meisinger, Jewel Quakenbush and Lucille Hittle acted as hostesses at a prettily appointed shower and party for Miss Ruth Cameron, charming Gold Hill girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cameron, who expects to become the bride of Pete Smith of Grants Pass this week end. The afternoon was spent in making tea towels for the guest of honor, fifteen being made and presented to her. A green and white wheelbarrow loaded with many useful and beautiful gifts from the friends present was brought in and presented to Miss Cameron. The Meisinger home was neatly arranged and decorated for the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served and a splendid time enjoyed. Those invited were Lucille Hittle, Jewel and Eugenia Quakenbush, Jean and Janet Chisholm, Beatrice Palmer, Ruth Green, Dorothy and Beatrice Connor, Letha Robbins, Ruth Byerly, Alice Smith, Ethel Smith, Zella Smith, Marguerite Biles, Mildred Wyatt, Nora Dusenberry, Dovey Biles, Mrs. Meisinger, Ruth Cameron, Leona Wheatley, May Childers, Rowena Chisholm, Beth Boomsliiter, Josephine Robbins, Elsie Mardon, Wilma Poe of this city and Audrey Garmen of Central Point and Elinor Boyd of Medford.

Don't Forget

That in increasing an agricultural industry the market facilities and the market itself is the keystone of business.

Without the keystone a masonry arch will crumble when the scaffold is removed.

And no matter how big you build the poultry industry unless you build market facilities right along with it you can not succeed.

During the past year the Farmer's Exchange Cooperative has established connections with the best marketing facilities and can market your eggs or Turkeys in New York, Cash, F. O. B. Medford. Having done this we are entitled to your support and we want your eggs and poultry.
