A PROTEST

Dear Mr. Editor:—
Yesterday I had the occasion to drive thru Gold Hill, and for the first time saw the big display sign, "Entrance to Mound Excavations." I wanted to change it to read "Entrance to Grave Desecrations" for that is precisely what it means to many of us.

What right have men to desecrate the graves of any dead of the past? Is it not one of the best understood, and most generally accepted laws of all civilized people that the resting places of the dead are to be protected? What would be the results if some others would dare to treat the graves of our loved ones and friends as these men are treating these graves. It does not change the act in the least to call them "mounds." Those bodies were put there in just as solemn and sacred a manner by their surviving friends as we put away our dead. That they did not belong to our race, nor understand our religion has nothing to do with the case. In the matter of principals involved there is no difference.

The most sacred plot of ground to any person should be the burying place of loved ones and friends. The fact that they are all gone does not mitigate the act of grave robbing. To most people grave robbing is most contemptible.

Once a herd is free from infectious abortion utmost care is needed to keep it so, finds the experiment station. One Oregon herd was entirely free when a heifer got away and was not found for more than a month. At the next regular test after she was returned this heifer and stall mates on either side were found to react to the abortion test.

HOT WEATHER BREAKFAST

Everyone appreciates an attractive looking breakfast table, and nearly everyone occasionally feels utterly tired of the usual breakfast.

The ordinary household's breakfast dishes must not take many minutes preparation in the morning or even ask for much effort the day before. But often we can have delicious things for breakfast with very little trouble beforehand.

For one thing there is fruit. Be sure that the fruit you serve is fresh and clean as to skin and cool. Most of the summer fruits are very little trouble to serve. Whole peaches, plums or pears, halved musk melons and summer berries are all both easy and tempting.
