NATURE STUDY

(By Maxine Holfield, 6th grade)

I saw the green leaves on the tree I heard the humming of the bees. On every bush, on every tree

Nature has something to show to me.

I wonder how she can be so wise. She must have six or seven eyes. She knows their names, she knows the ways.

And still being planning for millions of days. Of how each leaf, petal flower Must be in their places in hill, dale or bower.

But hardly she misses, makes no mistakes, I don't see how Mother Nature can keep things straight.
