

JUST WHAT YOU WANT.

Seventy-five cents in money or stamps will pay for the Semi-Weekly EAST OREGONIAN from now until after the June elections. Two dollars will pay for the Daily EAST OREGONIAN for the same length of time by mail.

A FREE LIBRARY.

Patrons of the Daily or Semi-Weekly EAST OREGONIAN can freely make use of the EAST OREGONIAN library whenever they so desire. The public are cordially invited to visit the office whenever so inclined.

VOL. 1.

PENDLETON, UMATILLA CO., OREGON, THURSDAY, MARCH 8, 1888.

NO. 7.

BAILEY & BALLERAY, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Office—Rooms 1, 2, 3 and 4 Association Block Pendleton, Oregon.

A. FEE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Office—Next Tribune office, on Court street.

FRED PAGE-TUSTIN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Office—In Association building, rooms 16 and 17.

TURNER & CREWS, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Legal business of all kinds attended to with promptness. Collections a specialty. Office on Main street, in the Thompson-Barnhart building, over the post office. Jan 18 1m

GUYER & FITZGERALD, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Room: No. 5 and 6, Association Block, Pendleton, Or.

H. J. BEAN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Office—Main Street, in Thompson-Barnhart Building, over the Post-Office.

COX & MINOR, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

Office—Over First National Bank, Pendleton, Or.

W. F. BUTCHER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Office—Main Street, in Thompson-Barnhart Building, over the Post-Office.

WAGER & SKIPWORTH, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

And Notary Public. Office in "East Oregonian" building, Pendleton, Or.

CARTER & WHITE, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

Pendleton, Oregon. Rooms 8 and 9 Association Block.

J. L. KILLIAN, Justice of the Peace.

And Notary Public. VANSYCLE, OREGON. COLLECTING A SPECIALTY.

CAMBELL & BEATIE, DENTISTS.

Gas administered. Office—Main Street, in Thompson-Flack Building, Pendleton, Oregon.

D. R. J. M. PRUETT, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office—Over Marston & Moorhouse's store corner of Johnson and Court streets, Pendleton, Oregon.

D. R. BREDULL, German Physician & Surgeon.

(Graduated—Prussia, Germany.) The doctor offers his services to the public, and he makes the assurance that he can cure any disease where medical aid can have any effect. Office at residence on Johnson near Court street.

GEO. W. KING, M. D.

Office—Over Moorhouse & Co.'s store. Residence on Webb street near Court street. Residence and office connected by telephone with Villars hotel. Especial attention given to the diseases of women and children.

E. R. BARKER, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Room 11 Association Block, - Main Street.

J. GRISWOLD, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office in Simpson's drug store, Helix Or.

L. ANE & BROWN, House, Carriage and Sign Painters.

Pendleton, OR. Shop on Vincent street, near Court street. Estimates furnished on short notice. Orders from the country will receive prompt attention. Sign painting a specialty. apt 26

JOHNSON & DIACK, House and Sign Painters.

Graining, paper-hanging, glazing and whitening. Store a hop, Court street, opposite Till's Star Bakery.

JOHN STANFIELD, Proprietor of the Opera Saloon.

Court Street, adjoining Opera House, Pendleton, Oregon. Fine wines, liquors and cigars. Dayton beer, acknowledged to be the best, on draught. tri feb 24

GEORGE DARVEAU, Proprietor of the BOARD OF TRADE.

Cor. Main and Webb streets, Pendleton, Or. Fredericksburg Beer on draught. Fine Wines, Liquors and Cigars. n17f

FRANK DUPRAT, Stone and Brick Mason.

Pendleton, Oregon. Tombstones and monument settings a specialty; cementing, plastering, all kinds of stone and brick work executed reasonably. HOLLOW BLOCK FIRE PROOF PARTITIONS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR RENT. A house, with a barn that will stable four horses. Apply to A. D. S., at this office.

ONLY FIVE CENTS. Notices not making more than four lines will be inserted in this column at the rate of five cents an insertion.

JOB PRINTING. Can be had at the EAST OREGONIAN office at prices that will prove them to be cheaper than those of any other printing house in Eastern Oregon.

ESTRAY ANIMALS. If you have an animal stray, you can recover him by expending $2.00 in advertising in the EAST OREGONIAN. It catches them every time.

LEGAL BLANKS. More than two hundred forms of legal blanks at this office. Lawyers and others needing special forms can be supplied.

LOST—$4 REWARD. Lost one brown setter dog, has no spots on him, answers to the name of "Rex." For his return, or information leading to his recovery, $5 reward will be paid by D. W. BAILEY, or J. J. BALLERAY.

HORSES FOR SALE. Small band of American mares and young horses, all good size, for sale. Apply to W. W. WHITWORTH, Echo, Oregon.

HORSES FOR SALE. A mixed band of stock horses for sale, in small or large lots. All good size American horses. Can be seen at Barnhart station on the O. R. & N. road, six miles below Pendleton. For particulars address, T. R. HOPPER, Pendleton, Oregon.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Bids will be received at the office of the city surveyor until noon on Wednesday, March 9th, for the laying with brick and cement the city reservoir, in accordance with plans and specifications, which can be seen at Rothchild and Bean's store, Pendleton, Oregon. J. B. WILSON, Town Surveyor.

FOR SALE. A splendid stock ranch at bankrupt prices. Good for any kind of stock, especially adapted to raising sheep. Plenty of running water, outside range, located in Yakima county. Sheep winter on three days to two weeks' feed. Terms to suit. Address: J. M. T., Box 50, Roslyn, Washington, D. C.

NOTICE. All persons indebted to the firm of Schulze & Basler are requested to come forward and settle with the undersigned at once, or the accounts will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. I mean business, and must have money. Pendleton, Oregon, February 17, 1888. JOSEPH BASLER.

$5 EACH REWARD. A reward of five dollars a head will be paid for information leading to the recovery of the following described horses: One sorrel mare, bald face, 7 on left shoulder and 0 on left flank. One sorrel two-year-old horse, white legs, 0 on left flank; one bay mare, two years old, branded 0 on left flank; one sorrel filly, two years old, same brand; and one bay filly, branded R (up side down) on right hip. Address: G. W. REYNOLDS, Weston, Oregon.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. George H. M. Johnson holds a note signed by Jethro H. A. Hardwick. This note has been paid, and the public are hereby accordingly notified of that fact. JETHRO H. HARDWICK, E. A. HARDWICK.

NOTICE. To whom it may concern: Take notice that the South British Fire and Marine Insurance Company of New Zealand desires and intends to cease doing business in the State of Oregon, and to withdraw its capital therefrom. THE SOUTH BRITISH FIRE & MARINE INSURANCE CO. OF NEW ZEALAND. By WILLIAMS, ACH & WOOD, Attorneys.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

HORRIBLE HOLOCAUST IN SPRINGFIELD MASS. The President's Reported Interest in Oregon—Washington News—Latest From the Strikers—Coast and State News.

EASTERN STATES. The President Interested in Oregon. WASHINGTON, March 8.—The National Democratic Convention meets in St. Louis on Tuesday, June 5th. The Oregon State election occurs on Monday, June 4th. The President is exceedingly anxious to have the news before the sun goes down on June 4th that Oregon has gone Democratic, which he considers would be an endorsement of his tariff reform message. The President has requested John P. Irish, of San Francisco, editor of the Alta California, to go to Oregon and do what he could toward carrying the State. Irish will go intending to assist in organizing counties which contain cities and large towns, and will speak throughout the State on the issue raised by the message. The President's last words to Irish before he left Washington for California were: "Do not fail to carry Oregon in June." The President's interest in the approaching fight in Oregon gives it a national importance. It is said the President has offered a lawyer in Buffalo, named D. L. Wilcox, the position of receiver of public monies at the Walla Walla land office. The President is seeking by the use of patronage to gain strength in districts in New York where he was signally weak in 1882.

An Oregon Claim Reported. WASHINGTON, March 8.—Senator Manderson has reported favorably from the committee on military affairs the bill authorizing the Secretary of War to credit Oregon with $12,398 for ordinance stores borrowed from the State by the government during the Nez Perce war.

The Umpqua Station. WASHINGTON, March 8.—The committee has recommended in favor of the establishing of a life saving station on Shoal-water bay, and at the mouth of the Umpqua.

Postmaster at Foster. WASHINGTON, March 8.—H. L. Marston has been appointed postmaster at Foster, Umatilla county, Oregon. Sanford H. Smith has been appointed postmaster at Palouse City, W. T.

Another Swindle. NEW YORK, March 7.—It has been ascertained that a great deal has been engineered by the Standard Oil Company and the produce union. Intense excitement prevails.

The Strike Spreading. CHICAGO, March 7.—Chief Arthur says there is serious danger that the strike of engineers and firemen will spread largely, and extend to many other roads.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 7.—All Brotherhood engineers and firemen on the Burlington & Northern left their engines at ten o'clock this morning.

Dismal Fire at Springfield. SPRINGFIELD, MASS., March 7.—The Daily Union office is burned. Six or eight people have been burned to death. Mrs. Farley, Society editor of the Union, was instantly killed by jumping from a window. The inmates of the composing room were shut off from any means of escape. Dozens of men, when they saw that egress by the usual means was impossible, rushed to the windows and hung suspended by their hands until their strength gave out, and then dropped and were either killed or fatally injured by the frightful fall. Forty persons were in the Editorial room, and twenty of them are missing. It is hoped they escaped, but some of them may have perished.

The Fatal Fire. SPRINGFIELD, MASS., March 8.—Later developments show that six people were killed and six severely injured in the fire yesterday in the Union building.

Latest About the Strikers. CHICAGO, March 8.—The Chicago papers of this morning have the following head lines, which indicate the situation of the strike: "The brotherhood will sustain all members sustaining the C. B. & Q. strike. Talk of settlement." Other lines are more anxious for peace than the Burlington. Extension of the strike to other lines is apparently inevitable.

FOREIGN NEWS. The Emperor Dying. BERLIN, March 7.—The Emperor of Germany is dying.

Growing Better. SAN RENO, March 7.—There is yet a marked improvement in the condition of the Crown Prince.

COAST NEWS. An Earthquake. PASADENA, CAL., March 7.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here this morning at 8 o'clock. No damage was done.

The Merlotin Murderer. PORTLAND, March 7.—The party who claimed he could produce the person who murdered Emma Merlotin, the French courtesan, has been interviewed by the police. He says when the sum of fifteen hundred dollars is deposited he will bring the guilty party in. He claims it will take a month to do this. It is said the money will be forthcoming.

Page and Harding. PORTLAND, March 7.—C. M. Harding, with Pearl Page robbed Mr. Dickinson, is the son of the late Samuel C. Harding, of San Francisco. The case is before the Grand Jury to-day. It is a clear case against Page and Harding, and they will doubtless go to the penitentiary. It is reported that Harding's relatives in San Francisco will make strong efforts to save him from the penitentiary.

Miscellaneous. PORTLAND, March 7.—Walter Young a colored man, is on trial to-day for unlawfully living with a white woman named Mary Anderson.

Boy Killed by Cars. SACRAMENTO, CAL., March 8.—A boy named Hooker was run over here by cars this morning and killed.

Eastern Oregon Wool. SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Scourers have taken a lot of Eastern Oregon wool at 13 @ 18 cents, but the total transactions are small.

Man Killed by Cars. DEER LODGE, MONTANA, March 8.—A man named John Ganley was run over near here last night, by a freight train, and instantly killed.

Wheat Weaker. PORTLAND OR., March 8th.—Wheat is a trifle weaker to-day. The demand is not so great.

WASHINGTON NOTES. Of More or Less Interest to the People of the Northwest. The President has nominated Edwin Eells, of Washington Territory, to be agent for the Indians of the Puyallup Agency (consolidated) in Washington Territory.

Senator Mitchell has proposed an amendment which he will offer to the bill for the land grant of the Northern Pacific railroad along the uncompleted portion of the line. The amendment reserves to the city of Portland the right of way heretofore granted to the Northern Pacific for the city to carry water from Bull Run to Portland.

The Indian office has passed upon the claim of Austin Rice, of Douglas county, Oregon, allowing the amount claimed, $470.30, for loss sustained by Rogue river and Cow creek Indians in 1855. The claim of Barney P. Simmons, of Douglas county, Oregon, for loss by the same Indians in 1855, was not allowed, the evidence being insufficient. The claim of Wm. Hutson, of Douglas county, Oregon, of $284.50, was allowed. This loss was inflicted by Umpqua Indians in 1855.

A post office has been established at St. Louis, Douglas county, with D. D. Hoff postmaster. George Pitts has been appointed postmaster at Pitsburg, Columbia county, in place of Peter Grouse resigned.

Pensions have been granted to James S. Horn, Rock Point, Or., and Samuel Hamilton, Deep Creek Falls, W. T.

The postmaster general, who recently declined to increase the mail service between Fossil and Antelope, has now allowed the same.

Hermann presented to the department numerous signed petitions asking for the establishment of "range lights" at the entrance to Tillamook bay and harbor, and urged favorable consideration, in view of the growing commerce there, and particularly because of the shifting of buoys, which sometimes renders navigation on the bar uncertain to strangers. This application is concurred in by pilots of the Columbia river.

Mr. Hermann also submitted to Congress a memorial from numerous ex-Union soldiers of Albina, Oregon, asking for the passage of the per diem rate service pension bill now pending, which is based on the principle of the payment of one cent for each actual day's service.

The Internal Revenue Bill. The Democratic majority of the ways and means committee has submitted to the full committee an internal revenue bill. Section 1 of the bill provides for the repeal of all taxes on manufactured chewing tobacco, smoking tobacco and snuff, special taxes upon manufacturers of and dealers in leaf tobacco to take effect July 1, 1888. Rebate for the full amount of tax on unbroken packages of smoking and chewing tobacco in the hands of manufacturers and dealers on July 1 will be allowed if a claim is presented before September 1.

Section 2 provides that manufacturers of cigars shall each pay annually a special tax of $3, and dealers in tobacco $1. Manufacturers of cigars, cheroots or cigarettes will not be required to pay special tax as dealer, when the products are sold at the place of manufacture. The act to take effect July 1.

The total reduction in the revenue made by the bill is about $25,000,000, of which $20,000,000 is on tobacco and $5,000,000 on various special taxes removed.

By a party vote the bill was added to the Mills tariff bill, making one bill of both.

David Dudley Field has rendered his country a valuable service by getting Congress to attach euphonious and meaning Indian names to the proposed new States.

In his firm speech against the Blair bill, Senator Hawley uttered an average of 225 words per minute. He also voted as he spoke, but not so many times per minute; more's the pity.

The shortage of Judge Barney, receiver of the Spokane land office, is over $4000. Of this amount $2,441.40 is money taken from lieu land claimants, and for which no receipts could be given under the rulings of the department. It is a question upon which the legal mind is divided, as to whether the bondsman can be held responsible for this money, which the courts will doubtless be called upon to determine.

NEW YORK LETTER.

An Interesting Letter From Our Own Richard. New York, March 27, 1888.

It dawned on my thinker without a moment's warning that a few words from your New York special correspondent might be apropos, and also to prove that I'm still out of jail. I am playing in better luck than Burg, as you see.

The few choice remarks which follow I desire to have appear among your regular reading matter, (no matter whether they are readable or not.) Though to give them strength you might stick a patent medicine ad on each side as braces. These remarks are not delirious, and probably could stand by themselves, but it will be safer to give them the support of a lamp post or otherwise.

I had some idea of giving you a detailed description of New York, but considering the number of volumes it would take, and being aware that I haven't probably more than thirty or forty years of life before me, I have, with much regret, given up the idea.

I am stopping at a centrally located pie foundry, recommended to me by a cousin, a real estate broker, and one of the boys. He is only a second cousin. If he was a near and dear first cousin I should have felt no hesitancy in killing and burying him long ago. But only being a second cousin I have refrained from being too intimate towards him. He has also festooned my boudoir with a job lot of photographs of scantily clad actresses, and, as a crowning achievement, threw in his own picture with the lot.

The last was the unkindest cut of all, and I immediately interviewed him to the effect that he'd have to draw the line at New York toughs or grim-visaged war would be declared. Of course like every well bred and patriotic Westerner I brag on our section of the Union on all occasions. The tracts issued by railroad companies are flat in comparison to my unlettered descriptions, and I often wonder if the tenderest can realize the real lies I occasionally work in.

New York's population now amounts to about two millions, though it looks as if the entire earth were located here, and the average New Yorker thinks it is. It would be a good scheme to ship about a million of the inhabitants, and the remaining natives would have a better chance all around. The appalling extremes of poverty and wealth cannot be imagined by us of the West, and in fact is hardly realized by the wealthy class here. The rich landlord of course has his property attended to by an agent who is expected to keep collections up without fail, and turn over the regular income of thousands to an employer, who, in most instances, spends the bulk in excesses. I should not blame their agents from becoming the rankest of anarchists, seeing daily the great social evils in all their hideousness, and where, unless a great reform is forthcoming, will shake the nations to their centers, and cause a Babylonian crash.

That the moneyed class have little conception of the misery surrounding them is very well shown in the following little story told me by one of these agents, a Mr. S. "My client, a large real estate owner, with an income of $15,000, but continually in need of money, was urging me about the collections of a few rents that had been slightly in arrears, and suggesting that such tenants be immediately put out. Many a tenant I have put out when it went harshly against the grain; but I was determined to let this landlord and gay man of the world see the hard side of the picture. So, asking him to accompany me to one of his most backward tenants, we started out. I took him to the sixth floor of a tenement house, and standing before a small door was about to enter when he grasped my arm, and pointing to a little piece of craze on the door knob said: "Don't go in there, somebody's dead." Without replying I roughly pushed open the door, and the sight was certainly impressive. No need to go into a description of the miserable and cheerless surroundings of that room. A woman was seated in a chair sobbing in anguish, while two small children playing on the floor, not understanding their great loss, formed a contrast strikingly sad. Covered by a sheet in one corner lay the mangled remains of the father. He had been a railroad man, and met his death by being caught between two cars. Approaching the woman I told her in hard tones that her rent must be paid, and that I had also brought the landlord along to see about it. I could see that the landlord was shocked at my cold attitude, but before he could interfere the poor creature addressed me by saying that her husband had just been killed, and that under the circumstances she prayed I would give her a little more time; that she expected the Knights of Labor to send her twenty-five dollars to bury her husband, and that in a few days she would try to get work and settle the rent. I immediately began to kick, and was saying that the money must be forthcoming when the landlord shut me up with: "You're a cannibal S—, and my good woman you can have three months' rent free, and if the Knights don't send you that twenty-five dollars I'll stand the funeral expenses myself." Diving into his vest pocket he fished up a ten dollar bill, and thrusting it into the woman's hand rushed out of the room as if a vigilance committee were pursuing him.

"That's one landlord I did up in great shape," said S— in conclusion, "and if landlords would give me the opportunity I could almost daily show them exhibitions of equal misery."

In view of such scenes does not this foreign missionary work seem a satire? Charity begins at our door. Stop robbing our poor unfortunates by shipping money to Africa and China to buy red flannel shirts for the niggers, or putting tracts in the hands of the Mongolian! Why, four of your converted celestials were arrested here a few days ago for gambling and got 30 days each. They were all righteous Sunday school Chinamen and pampered and made much of by the very respectable church people who were advancing them so rapidly on the heavenly way. What a shock it must have been to the Scribes and Pharisees to see their Asiatic prodigies take such a tumble! I think I hear a reverend brother remark: "What would we have been but for foreign missionary work?" Dear brother, we as original Celts or Teutons, would be far happier and better off than thousands in our overcrowded cities at the present day.

But let us take a brighter side of New York. The theaters, whose name is legion, are all running at full tide. Ermine, the most successful light opera yet produced, has just completed its seven hundredth night at the Casino. The English tragedian, Henry Irving, is playing to crowded houses, and in fact there is such a multiplicity of good attractions that it is hard to take your choice. Union Square theater, one of the most prominent here, burned down the other day. I was an eye witness of the conflagration and saw two firemen carried away by the ambulance badly injured. Robson and Crane, the leading American comedians, were running their great play, "The Henrietta," at this theater and will be out at least $15,000 by the misfortune.

These Easterners think because a fellow hails from Oregon that he must be a ruthless cow boy and able to ride anything from a donkey up. I went out riding with some of them the other day, and they palmed off on me the most disreputable animal in the bunch. He was a perfect renegade and ran away with me three times. When he wasn't running away he would put in his time wobbling along the road sideways, creating blockades of carriages. He thought he owned the entire highway, but not sharing his convictions I felt correspondingly uncomfortable. However, with my usual modest grace and still humility, I endured it until we returned to the stable. Once there, I asked his owner what he would charge to assassinate the brute. His price being $125 I concluded that my feelings were not hurt that bad. My feelings are now in such an improved condition that I can take my meals in the usual way.

The dog-catcher is around as large as life. Yesterday a poodle was coming down the avenue with a dude attached to the other end of the chain. The dog was not dressed in as proper form as his companion, not having his license on. The dog-catcher made one fell swoop, unhooked the poodle end of the chain and swiped the pup in his wagon in a twinkling. The dude gesticulated wildly and made several incoherent remarks, but it wouldn't work and the procession moved on with the dude closed in on the rear excepting to redeem his relative at the pound for a little $3.

I am now going to shut up. Don't mention whether it was Shakespeare or Bacon that wrote this. It is my "fust" offense on this trip, and if you give me away I will prove an alibi.

Yours, Dick.

The Next Vice-President.

The next vice-President of the United States may possibly be something more than a figurehead a mere presiding officer. There is a possibility of his vote determining whether that body shall have a Democratic or Republican majority. Senators whose terms expire with this Congress are, with two exceptions, from States which are strongly Democratic or Republican. The exceptions are New Jersey and California. The last election for Senators in those States gave two Democrats to the Senate, viz: Messrs. Hearst and Blodgett. They will now be pivotal States in the coming campaign. Should two Democrats be elected to succeed Messrs. Stanford (R) and McPherson (D.), the Democrats would have a bare majority in the Senate. If two Republicans were elected, then the Republicans would have a bare majority. If a Republican should succeed Stanford and a Democrat McPherson, that would equally divide the Senate, and give the vice-President a casting vote. On such contingency, likewise, depends the organization of the Senate, and all the patronage of that body. This possibility will give to the State campaign in New Jersey and California additional importance, and increase the zeal of each party to win in the Presidential campaign.

Word Passed for the Blessing.

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Eastern United States senator tells this about his little girl: He says that when his family had gathered for dinner little Elsie was too busy with her playthings so suspend and her mother called her to come.

"Yes in a minute," was the response.

"But you are all waiting," said my wife, "and your papa is waiting to ask the blessing."

"She came in, climbed up into her chair, folded her little hands demurely, bowed her head and said in a low voice; 'Let her go, Gallagher!'"

"I am afraid," said the senator, laughing, "that the blessing I invoked at my table that day was slightly incoherent."

The Republican party seems in the same fix for a Presidential candidate that the ancient lady was when she prayed for a husband and cried aloud for "anything, Lord, anything, so it's in the shape of a man."

NEW STORE!

JUST OPENED,

Main St., Pendleton, (Next to Masonic Building)

A COMPLETE LINE OF Gent's Furnishing Goods,

C. W. Brownfield Pendleton Meat Market.

MAIN ST., NEAR VILLARD.

JONES & IHRIG, Props

Having reopened the above Market, (Sambert's old stand), we shall be prepared at all times to supply the people of Pendleton with the very best Beef, Mutton, Pork, Veal, Etc., That the market can afford, and at prices all can reach.