TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

A $150,000 FIRE AT ARLINGTON, OR.

The Strike Breaking Up—Arthur's Advice—Republican Delegates Elected—Collision—Flood—Storms—A Theater Burned—Murdered by Indians, Etc.

EASTERN STATES.

The Strike Breaking Up.

ST. LOUIS, March 21.—Superintendent Dickinson, of the Missouri Pacific, and General Manager Hayes, of the Wabash railroads, have issued orders to their subordinates to receive and handle all freight given them by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. The order goes into effect immediately.

Arthur's Weighty Advice.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 21.—It transpires that a general tie-up throughout the Northwestern roads has been prevented by Chief Arthur's counsels. A committee of engineers went to Chicago yesterday to consult with Arthur. On the result of this visit will it depend whether or not there is a general tie-up.

A Tough Gang.

COLUMBUS, Mo., March 21.—The coroner's jury, which has been examining into the murder of Constable Gordon here Friday night, have completed their work, and returned a verdict of willful murder against William and Jonathan Bladock. The Gulf depot had been broken open, and a quantity of goods stolen, and Gordon was watching the house where the plunder was supposed to be secreted, when the murder was committed. The next day one of the Bladocks confessed that he and his brother did the killing. On being arrested they made a full confession. They said they had for years been connected with a gang of horse-thieves and robbers. The crimes of the gang included robbing mails, blowing up safes, sand-bagging and murder.

Republican Delegates Elected.

DES MOINES, IOWA, March 21.—The Republican State Convention elected delegates to-day to the National Republican Convention for eleven Congressional districts. Among the delegates chosen are Gov. Irwin and Col. Hepburn.

Every Day It Occurs.

WYOMING, ORE., March 21.—An emigrant train going west on the Grand Trunk road collided with a petroleum train going east, near here to-day. The engineer and brakeman of the emigrant train were badly injured, and eight or ten passengers have broken limbs or are otherwise seriously hurt.

An Upper Missouri Flood.

POPLAR RIVER, MONT., March 21.—The ice in the Missouri river broke up here yesterday, and piled up in great heaps, forming dams and causing the river to overflow. The river bottom is inundated for a distance of over one hundred miles. There will be great loss of cattle. Setters have fled to the hills.

Storm at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 21.—A terrific storm of wind and rain passed over this region this morning, doing much damage.

An Alaska Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The House committee on territories have decided to report favorably on the bill for the organization of Alaska territory.

A Destructive Southern Cyclone.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 22.—A terrible cyclone and thunder storm swept through portions of Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia yesterday and last night, causing great loss of life and property.

Lightning Struck The Capitol.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—During a thunder storm to-day lightning struck the Senate wing of the Capitol, but no damage was done, except to the wires.

What Will we Do With It?

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Dolph's bill granting to the State of Oregon five townships, including the famous Crater lake, for a public park, has passed the Senate.

Columbia River Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The House bill authorizing the Secretary of War to condemn lands for the purpose of making necessary improvements along the Columbia river, has passed the Senate, and a conference committee has been ordered.

COAST NEWS.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

CALISTOGA, CAL., March 21.—Mrs. Leo Bizzini went to her house to get her clothes intending to leave her husband, with whom she had quarreled, and who she was afraid would kill her. As she entered the house Bizzini shot her dead, and then blew out his own brains. The woman was an American, aged 18; Bizzini was a Swiss laborer, aged 30.

Murdered by Indians.

SPOKANE FALLS, W. T., March 22.—Judge Hogan received this morning the following telegram from Sand Point, Idaho: "I learn from Indians and other parties that Pelky, Pendleton, and Pippins have been murdered by Indians at Priest Lake." Signed by W. P. Light.

Fire at Arlington.

ARLINGTON, ORE., March 21.—About 3 o'clock this afternoon, it was discovered that Ralston's building, in which a small stock of drugs was kept, was on fire. Before anything could be done to check it, the flames were beyond control. The fire soon spread to D. S. Sprinkle & Co.'s store building, and burned the whole block in which it was situated, including the Arlington Times office, a building belonging to M. C. Harris, J. E. Haskins' blacksmith shop, and the county jail.

The flames then spread to the opposite side of the street and burned Kirby's hall, J. B. Wood's furniture and provision store, a building owned by M. V. Harrison, and Condon & Cormish's bank. Here the flames were stopped by Harrison's brick. For a time it looked as though the whole town was doomed, and the flames were kept in the limits above mentioned only by the most desperate exertion on the part of everyone able to render assistance, including a large number of persons from the country who were in town to attend the Democratic county convention. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at 150,000, D. L. Sprinkle being the heaviest loser.

Yankee Democrats.

MCMINNVILLE, ORE., March 22.—The Democratic County Convention, which met here yesterday, elected delegates to the State Convention, endorsed the administration of President Cleveland and Governor Pennoyer, and instructed the delegates to present the name of Hon. W. D. Fenton as a delegate to the National Democratic Convention at St. Louis.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A Theater Horror.

OPORTO, SPAIN, March 21.—While a performance was in progress this evening at the Banquet theater, an explosion of gas occurred, and the theater took fire and was destroyed. Ten bodies have so far been recovered from the ruins.

CONGRESS.

Congressional Proceedings and Capital Notes of Interest to Northwestern Readers.

Blair introduced a bill giving preference for civil service appointments among men who had been disloyal during the war to those who had served in the Confederate army, and who were suffering from wounds or disabilities, and asked Platt, (who had objected to the second reading of the bill) to withdraw his objection. The bill was condemned as unnecessary and unwise by many senators, including most of those from the South, but was finally permitted to go to a second reading and was referred.

The Senate took up the calendar and passed eight bills, including the following:

For relief of Mission Indians in California and providing for the allotment of lands to them in severity.

To provide for warehousing fruit brandy, Bills for the relief of the iron-clad builders—the Perines and McKays.

The House, after debate, set aside four days for the consideration of business reported by the committee on labor. They are March 20th and 21st, April 18th and May 16th.

The floor was then accorded the committee on labor, and bills passed for the protection in the wages of mechanics, laborers and servants in the District of Columbia and territories, and extending the provisions of the eight-hour law to letter-carriers. The bill referring to the court of claims for adjustment of accounts of laborers, workmen and mechanics, arising under the eight hour law, was taken up and briefly discussed.

Secretary Vilas sent to the Senate to-day a letter from the commissioner of the land office asking an immediate appropriation of $4100 for the re-survey of certain lands involved in suits brought against the Sierra Lumber Company of California, and the Montana Improvement Company of Montana territory. Since the urgency bill passed the Senate the House has amended it by the addition of this appropriation, and Vilas wants the Senate to concur in the House amendment. In the case of the Sierra Lumber Company, it is estimated that a survey can be made in sixty days, at a cost of $100. About $2,000,000 is involved in the suit against the Sierra Company, and treasury officers have decided that a re-survey of the land in question cannot be made out of the appropriations for deprivations on public timber.

Patents were granted to Wm. A. Campbell, Portland, for a shingle sawing machine; John J. Meston and Nate S. Dryden, Portland, binding books.

A pension has been granted to Jackson Knotts, Mulino. An increase of pension has been granted to Wm. H. Moeller, Baker City.

There was reported from the committee on pensions to-day Hermann's bill increasing the pension of Frederick Beno, East Portland, to $73 a month. The committee recommended that the bill pass.

Several amendments were made by the ways and means committee in the Mills tariff bill before its completion in the committee. In the iron schedule the entire clause relating to steel ingots, and fixing the duty on that class of manufactures which was classified to some extent at 57 per cent ad valorem, present indications are that the bill will be reported to the House in the early part of next week, although the committee has not yet formally directed a report to be made.

The House committee on labor to-day agreed to report favorably the bill prohibiting aliens from holding any government office. A single class of officials is excepted from the operation of the bill, those who, from expediency or necessity, have been appointed to positions in the diplomatic and consular services.

Chairman Clardy has been directed by the House commerce committee to report favorably to the House the Senate bill to incorporate the Nicaragua Canal Company.

At the door of the United States Senate is hung a tablet on which is a list of those privileged to go upon the floor of that body. The only unofficial citizen that is named is George Bancroft, the historian. It is a peculiar honor paid to a great man who has told his country's history.

SCIENCE OF CORRESPONDENCES.

The Science of Sciences, and Only Key to the Word.

Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your soul.—Jer. 6, 16.

Awhile ago I listened to a protestant clergyman preach from the above text, and I found in it an argument for the mother church, simply because it was time honored; and he had a lot of performing boys, all uniformed in night-gowns, singing songs, and he thought it was religion. Yes, the poor man actually believed that singing was the business of a never-ending eternity, and that singing and gesticulations and dogmatisms were the religion of time; and what is the result? Ingerson is a scoffer and his father was a clergyman. "Ye encompass land and sea," said Jesus, "to make one convert, and when ye have made him, ye make him two fold more the child of the devil than ye are yourselves." That is to say, they teach the heathen that he may plot and plan robbery and murder, and when the poor wretch is no longer fit for earth, with a guilt in the language of Lady Macbeth, "That would the multitudinous seas incarnadine, making the green one red," he may climb the shining steppes of glory, and what is the result? What is the result of such a conception of infinite justice?

Intelligence is the synonym of infidelity. Does a pastor commit the slight indiscretion of debauching a brother's wife, why there is gush and singing, and the sisters weep and the brethren pray, and they unanimously resolve that the man is innocent, actually whiter than an angel's robe and purer than St. John, and so self respect must stop at home, and this is called religion.

"It is as though the dead could feel the icy worm around them steal and shudder, as the reptiles creep; to revel o'er their rotting sleep without the power to scare away the cold consumers of their clay,"—Byron's Giaour.

Nevertheless, the Lord said: "When I come again shall I find faith on earth?"

The wisdom that was with God when clothed in flesh, seemed at times to ponder upon this question. Parasitism will never do. Prostration, paralyzation, prostitution of the endless energies and activities of the human mind will never do.

That creed, that sect, that organization, that combination that would crush the soul—with the loves, and the sympathies and the aspirations of our divine life, hold it captive in chains—is more guilty in the sight of High Omnipotence, than the criminality that would send the body back to the dust and gloom of earth. The gospel that I preach unto you to-day is older than the Roman church. It antedates that great criminal Constantine, who organized the pagan masses and buried them en masse into the Christian church; it is older than the Apostolic church; it is older than Rome itself. Well has one beautiful poet said: "O, backward-looking son of time, the new is old, the old is new, the cycle of a change suddenly still sweeping through."

"Take heart! The waster builds. Again a charmed life old goodness hath, but the tares may perish, but the grain is not dead."

Bear with me for a moment. Of the antiquity of the knowledge of correspondences I refer you to Sam. V. VI. It is there recorded that the ark, in which were the tablets of stone, on which the decalogue was written, was captured by the Philistines and placed in the temple of Dagon, at Ashdod, and that Dagon fell to the ground before it, and afterwards his head and the palms of his hands severed from his body lay upon the threshold of the temple; and that on account of the ark, the men of Ashdod and Ekron were smitten by thousands with emerods, and their land laid waste by mice. The Philistines therefore called together the princes and divines, and in order to prevent their destruction they determined to make five emerods and five mice out of gold, also a new cart, and upon this to place the ark, and near it the emerods and mice of gold; and by two cows which lowed in the way before the cart, to send back the ark to the sons of Israel, by whom the cows and the cart were offered in sacrifice, and so the God of Israel was propitiated. That all these things studied out by the divines of the Philistines were correspondences, is evident from their signification, which is as follows: The Philistines themselves signified those who are in faith separate from charity; Dagon represented that religious system; the emerods with which they were smitten signified natural loves, which separate from spiritual love are uncleane; and the mice signified the devastation of the church by falsifications of the truth; the new cart signified natural doctrine of the church (for doctrine from spiritual truths is signified in the Word by Charlot); the cows signified good natural affections; the emerods of gold signified natural loves made purified and made good; the mice of gold signified the vastation of the church removed by gold, (for gold in the Word signifies good); the lowing of the cows in the way signified the difficult conversion of the natural man's lusts of evil into good affections; the offering of the cows together with the cart for a whole burnt offering signified that thus the God of Israel was propitiated, as thus the affections of the heart were hallowed. All these things which the Philistines did by the persuasion of their divines, were correspondences, from which it is manifest that a knowledge of them was long preserved among the Gentiles. That the knowledge of correspondences remained with many of the people of the East, is also evident from the wise men of the world.

There is meant the Gentiles, because they had the Word, in which is spiritual riches. By the purple and fine linen, with which he was clothed, are signified the good and the truth of the Word; by the purple its good, and by the fine linen its truth. By faring sumptuously every day, is signified their delight in having the Word, and in hearing from it many things in the synagogues. By the poor man Lazarus is meant the Gentiles, because they had not the Word. That they were despised and rejected by the Jews is meant by his being laid at the rich man's gate. By being full of sores is meant that the Gentiles, through ignorance of the truth, were in many falsities. The Gentiles are meant by Lazarus, because the Gentiles were loved by the Lord; as the Lazarus who was raised from the dead was loved by the Lord, and is called His friend and sat at the table with the Lord. From these passages it is manifest that the truths and goods of the sense of the Word are as vessels, and as garners for the naked truth and good which lie concealed in the spiritual sense of
