THE INJUNCTION SUIT. Judge Ison has rendered his decision in the cases of Sargent, Matlock and others against the county, in favor of the defendant the county. THE PAYMASTER. The Harrison-Rogers troop presented the Paymaster at the opera house last evening in a very creditable manner. The acting was good and held the attention of the audience from first to last.

AND NEW TOPEKA, Kan., has lost its 2,000 Republican majority and gone Democratic. The more we read about food adulteration the more respect we have for our old bovine friend Nebuchadnezzar. John Ruskin now imagines himself an elephant and stands for hours swaying his body and tossing an imaginary trunk.

NEWS ITEMS. C. F. Schurz is in Germany. Minister Pendleton is better. The German Emperor is dying. John Gates, mayor of Portland, is very ill. Dexter, the famous broker, is dead. Elaine is in Rome, looking pale and careworn. Anthony Comstock has been arrested for conspiracy. A Buffalo, N. Y., young woman slept 33 days, taking no food. Prominent Mexicans are undertaking to abolish bull-baiting in that country. Saturday was spent by the House in consideration of the River and Harbor bill. Bishop, the mind reader, is a hopeless fanatic, and is confined in a San Francisco asylum. L. D. Barin, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, has appointed J. T. Gregg, of Salem, as his secretary. In Portland, Me., a strange man shot and killed a woman, also a stranger, and then fatally wounded himself, on the street. It is now believed that Mrs. Stoker, the East Portland woman who was burned last week, died from the effects of an overdose of morphine, instead of from the fire. The East Portland doctors are quarreling about it. Seven children in less than two years is the record of Mrs. Phoebe Lynch, of Seymour, Ind., who, eighteen months ago gave birth to five, and who today is the mother of two boys and two girls. All seven, with their mother, are alive and well. Conventions for the selection of delegates to the Chicago convention were held Thursday in every congressional district in Indiana. With but one exception, all the delegates are in respect for Gen. Harrison, and in that case the delegation were personally pledged to his support. Pino, a Mexican and Joseph Silva, a Portuguese, quarreled on a sheep ranch near Los Ocosingo, N. M., over the right of possession of some land, when Silva drew a pistol and shot Pino through the jaw. The latter returned the fire, and shot Silva through the brain, killing him instantly. Pino will probably recover. Olin Stevens, a farmer, living near the village of Lisbon, N. H., while sitting in his dining-room, reading his paper, in company with his family, was killed by an unknown assassin, who literally blew the top of his head off. A load of buckshot was fired through the window, four feet away. No one is assigned for the crime. The entire country is hunting the murderer. At the recent annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon & California Railroad Company, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Leased Stanford, C. P. Huntington, Timothy Houskins, H. E. Huntington, Charles C. Cooke, Richard Keeble, Donald Macleay, John McCraen, E. P. Earhart, W. W. B. Betherton and George H. Andrews. As soon as the directors qualify they will meet and elect officers. The statement is published that C. P. Huntington and Charles Cooke, during their recent visit to the Puget Sound coast, secured several undeveloped but promising mining properties, which, it is said, will give the Southern Pacific an excellent supply of coal. The new acquisitions are said to be on both sides of the border line of British Columbia, the property being near Departure bay. It is also stated that the Southern Pacific is having plans prepared for the construction of three first-class steel-coilers, which are to exceed in size anything now on the coast. No estimate of the cost has been made, but it is thought it will be over a half million for each steamer.

Another Transcontinental. From news that comes from Denver it would seem that a very important scheme is being developed in the leaves of the Denver Short Line P. R. & Ore. Co. This project is the construction of a new standard gauge road to run from the Colorado & California Short Line, followed by a Leavenworth connection has recently been incorporated in Denver. The company proposes to make a cut very from the Colorado State line on the east to the Colorado and Utah line. The survey of the Denver Short Line has been completed from Kansas City to the Colorado line. At that point the Colorado & California Company will take it up, continue it through Denver through the mountains and to the Utah line. Then it will be taken up by similar connection to be organized in Salt Lake City, and carried on through Utah and Nevada to the California line. Then a California company will complete it to San Francisco.

Mr. Gearin's Appointments. John M. Gearin, Democratic nominee for Congress, will speak in Umatilla county at the places and on the dates following: Pendleton, Tuesday, May 1, at 8 p. m. Centerville, Wednesday, May 2, at 2 p. m. Milton, Wednesday, May 2, at 8 p. m.

John Ruskin now imagines himself an elephant and stands for hours swaying his body and tossing an imaginary trunk.

Foreign immigration is rapidly increasing. The "pauper labor" of Europe is rushing in at 88 per cent, and no tariff protects American workmen against it.

NEW TO-DAY. MORGAN. Hambletonian Stallion. For sale or Trade for Horse. State Prize Winner in Salem—1884. Is only third direct from Vermont Black Hawk. Will be at Guilds & Estes' stable for two days.
