TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS. THE NATIONAL CONVENTION. Proceedings of the Democrats at St. Louis. The Platform. 10:17 A. M.—Mr. Watterson said this morning that everything is agreed upon except the Preamble. Watterson wishes to endorse the President's message, and Gorman the platform of 1884.

It is probable that the meteorites reaching the earth average several per day, states Dr. Hans Reusch, though most of them escape observation, and not more than four or five falls are recorded yearly. These bodies, which this author regards with Prof. Newton as bits of comets, are of two principal groups, stony-meteorites and iron-meteorites.

11:25 A. M.—There is much applause and cheering at the entrance of the Cleveland Club, of Buffalo, with a band playing "Dixie." The cheering continued for several minutes. They Haven't Heard from Oregon Yet. St. Louis, 11:30 A. M.—Showalter, of Missouri, presented a long resolution on the tariff, demanding that we taxes in it cease, and denouncing the present tariff.

11:25 P. M.—A resolution offered by Mr. Gorman was adopted, ordering a call of the roll for the purpose of naming the committee, and the roll is being called. A Silver Gavel. 11:29 P. M.—Mr. Patterson of Colorado, presented a gavel of Colorado silver to the chairman. Cheers for Cleveland. 12:56 P. M.—There was renewed cheering at the mention of the President's name, and the New York delegation rose and led in three cheers for him.

11:24 P. M.—Kentucky named Henry Watterson as a member of the committee on resolutions, at which there was long and continued cheering. Applause for Noted Men. 1:42 P. M.—The names of Arthur Gorman of Maryland, Leon Abbott of New Jersey, and Edward Cropper of New York, members of the committee on resolutions, were greeted with applause.

A CHANCE FOR THE O. R. & N. From the Walla Walla Journal. The O. R. & N., having abandoned the Eureka Flat enterprise, have decided yet by any means, on the contrary, its chances for expansion are far more propitious to-day than they were five years ago. It is our candid opinion that the O. R. & N. company sees the opening, and will not shun it over the magnificent chance in plain view.

FALLACY OF PROTECTION. An Object Lesson. A and B are two farmers. A's farm will produce 100 bushels of corn or 15 bushels of wheat per acre. B's farm brings 30 bushels of wheat, or 50 bushels of corn per acre. So A raises corn and B produces wheat, and thus does each exert his productive power to the greatest advantage.
