The office of the EAST OREGONIAN has been moved from its old quarters in the second floor, under the name of Homer H. Haddock. He will be in charge of the paper generally, and will visit when in Portland. He will render them any service in his power.

Several hills are being fenced and improved. It is probable we will see a decided change in the appearance of the hills of Pendleton. The slopes will be transformed into gardens, and beautifully present imposing fronts of Pendleton's enterprise.

All of you have heard of the famous bull that fable tells us got into a China shop.
Well, one came very near having such an experience in Pendleton, only the China shop happened to be a saloon. One of the Hereford bulls that were shipped last evening, got frightened or angry at something while being led to the train, broke loose and ran wildly through the streets, finally going into a saloon, probably to get a drink. Not having any money, he was unceremoniously bounced.

Prof. Hepburn has returned from his trip of exploration throughout the Grand Ronde valley and elsewhere. He intends to make Pendleton his headquarters hereafter, and give musical instructions in it and other towns in Umatilla county.
He says that no section he has visited equals Umatilla county in general advantages—a true opinion.

A telephone line is being put in between the engine room and the pump house. This is a much needed improvement. The engineer at the pump house can now be immediately notified in case of fire to work his engine to its fullest capacity, and fire-plugs can be put to useful service.

G. D. Richardson is nothing if not the custom of the righteous.

A Tragedy in Several Acts.

Jack Robinson had a barber. There is nothing remarkable in this simple statement; it is only a forerunner of what followed. He came to the shop ragged and hungry, and Jack's tender heart was touched with pity. He took him in, fed him, bought him a brand-new suit of clothes and gave him employment. The new barber was a peculiar sort of a cuss, and he naturally believed in doing things in a peculiar way. So he got acquainted with a girl and fell in love on Friday; she, being separated from a former husband, obtained a divorce on Saturday; they went walking on Sunday, and on Tuesday they were made man and wife, and no one attempted to put them asunder.
Well, the new barber, being as we said before a singular individual, believed that drunkenness and marriage went hand-in-hand, and so proceeded to fill up. Under the influence of the ardent, he entered Jack's barber shop and wanted to carry away a portion of the establishment, whereupon he was forcibly and unceremoniously bounced on Wednesday—and Jack is minus a suit of clothes and sundry other articles. It will be perceived that Jack was imposed upon, and also that the hero of this sketch, (the new barber,) was not gifted with an extraordinary amount of that wisdom which is better than shakel-

Struck by a Train.

F. W. Schamier left here Monday with his team for the north fork of the Umatilla river. When he was crossing the railroad track five miles this side of Milkecha his wagon was struck by a freight train, demolishing it, throwing him out and making his team run away. They were afterwards captured and found uninjured. Mr. Schamier, who is in town today, says the train failed to whistle before he hardly knew it. Of course he was frightened badly and is happy that he escaped with his life. He is a poor man and the loss of his wagon falls on him heavily. It is thought the O. R. & N. Co. will reimburse him as soon as they learn the particulars.

Visiting Judiciary.

Hens. W. W. Chayer and J. S. Strahan, of the Supreme Court, accompanied by Mr. L. B. Cox, of Portland, arrived in town this morning. The judges are on a little pleasure jaunt, and expect to be joined here to-morrow by Chief Justice Lord and Mr. Bush, of Salem, when the party will move on to Baker City. Judge Deady is also expected through on the train to-morrow night. He will go to Baker county to inspect a number of ditches and water rights now in litigation in his court, between the Nelson Mining Company, on one side, and a number of farmers, including Hon. L. B. Ison, on the other. Mr. Cox will accompany him, being interested in the suits on behalf of the Ison party.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Everybody Taking an Interest And Great Progress is the Result.

The committee of arrangements of the Fourth of July celebration met last evening at the Tribune office, every member of the committee being present. Mr. R.
Alexander was made chairman of the committee. Considerable preliminary work was done. Much interest was manifested in the celebration. Fred Bier was appointed a committee of one to confer with Hon. John B. Allen, of Walla Walla, and invite him to be the orator of the day, and Messrs. Leon Cohen and W.
F. Matlock were appointed a committee to secure a reader and make other similar arrangements. Louis Kuebler was made a whole committee to secure the presence of the Umatilla Indians here on the fourth and have them take part in the parade.
Messrs. Leon Cohen, Fred Waffle, and Edward Strahon were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the ball in Frazer's Opera House on the evening of the Fourth. The price of the tickets to the ball was placed at $1.50. A platform will be erected in the court house square for the use of dancers throughout the day. It will be free, music being furnished by the Pendleton Brass Band.

The barbecue is in good hands and it will be a great feature of the celebration and a great success.

Prizes will be offered to participants in the sack races, bicycle races, chasing a greased pig and climbing a greased pole.
A purse will be hung to encourage a game of base ball to be played in Pendleton on the Fourth. The Centerville nine will doubtless be invited to play the game with the Stars of Pendleton.

The celebration promises to be a success, the work of getting it up being thorough in every way. Mose Baruh and Louis Kuebler, two of the best rustlers in town, spent yesterday, and are at work to-day, collecting money for the celebration, and are meeting with grand success.
The list complete, when the total amount is collected and in bank, will be published, with the names of the subscribers, in this paper. This will give everyone an opportunity to see who is interested in a celebration and who is not. So far everyone approached by Messrs. Kuebler and Baruh have subscribed liberally and willingly. Everybody is asked to give a little and no one is required to give much, or more than their means justifies.

A Good Thing Coming.

The "Soap Bubble" will be produced at Frazer's Opera House next Monday evening. The New York Graphic speaks of the play when produced in that city as follows:

People of an apoplectic tendency, or people given to convulsions, would be wise in keeping away from the Third Avenue Theatre this week. Mr. T. J. Far-ron's "three-act comedy," as the bill of the play unblushingly announces it, is no comedy at all. It is a roaring farce, sprinkled with clever hits and imitations.
The second act, which is devoted to the mysteries and methods of a barber's shop, would make Bartholdi's statue of Liberty laugh, could she only be called down to see it. Mr. Farron, who is credited with the "Soap Bubble," is full of fun and mischief, and has gathered around him a very congenial company.
Their Irish brogue is atrocious, and their "Henglish Haccet" worse. But they are full of fun, spirit and go, and everything is forgotten and forgiven in that Mr. Connelly is a true comedian and must have made a profound study of the art known as "tonorial." There was a good audience in the pretty little theater, and the "Soap Bubble" will easily float itself to pleased eyes there during the week.

The Bright Side.

There is a little bit of grumbling going the rounds in Pendleton over the dull condition of things generally, and the tightness of the money market. But, however, it is an old saying that "misery loves company," and if that be true, Pendleton people should feel almost happy, instead of miserable, by comparing their condition with that of surrounding towns.
If the ordinary of common-sense traveling men can be taken as a criterion, Pendleton is a paradise of liveliness compared with other towns they have visited. E.
H. Clarke, the noted wool man from San Francisco, says that our city is the best and liveliest town to-day from a business standpoint than any other in the Inland Empire, and he has visited them all.
So say a great many drummers, who of all men ought to know what they are talking about.

An Interesting Specimen.

A group of men were seen to-day in front of Leazer & Kuebler's drug store, admiring and commenting upon the fine collection of curiosities displayed in the show window. One gazed reflectively at the huge bone of some ancient animal, found on Cold Spring, and freely remarked that we had no such noble specimens in our day. This gave an opportunity for a wag to remark that he was mistaken—that Centerville's only Sam Mansfield, (who was present) as a peculiar and interesting representative of the animal kingdom was never rivalled in any age.

A Change of Front.

The edict has gone forth that every building on the South side of Court street from Wheeler's to the City Brewery, must be moved back to a line with the court house fence, making an eighty-foot street.
It is probably a very "good move," but it will entail considerable expense on property owners. No grumbling has been heard, but no doubt considerable has been indulged in by people on whom the expense of moving falls. However, grumbling is a glorious privilege of the American citizen, and one of which he will avail himself under all circumstances.
It is probable that the change will be effected without much serious difficulty, and that citizens whom it effects will console themselves with the unselfish thought that his own individual loss is for the good of the whole city.

Kissing in Public.

From the New York World.
Albert Miller, an "engaged" young man of Harrisburg, has learned officially that there is a right and a wrong place for giving to his sweetheart a token of his affection.
His pre-honeymoon ardor so overcame him that he kissed his betrothed on the street. Arraigned before the court for this impropriety, the too-fond swain pleaded that he had often kissed his girl in the parlor without protest—in fact, to her evident enjoyment—and he did not suppose she would object to a snatched salute on the street.

The stern Judge, long out of practice in Cupid's court, gave the young man two months in jail to "learn the difference between kissing a young lady in her own parlor and committing the act of oscula-tion in a public place." The right thing at the wrong time is often an offense.

Rather a Novel Idea.

From the New York World.
That genial philosopher Col. Ingersoll, when asked how he could improve upon the order of the world, said: "I would make good health catching rather than disease." Good example is sometimes contagious, and ought therefore to be made prominent and duly commended.
