PORTLAND POINTS.

About a Convict—To Appoint a Matron—The Portland Cable Road—More Smallpox—In the Police Court—Fresh Strawberries—Notes.

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—Yesterday Bruce Creighton, an ex-convict expatriated from two States—California and Oregon—was allowed to leave the county jail before he had completed his ninety days' sentence for vagrancy, on the promise that he would at once leave the State. It is alleged that Creighton has departed for Puget Sound. He was pardoned from the penitentiary at Salem on condition that he leave the State, and it was but a short time thereafter that he broke his parole.

The Christian Union of the Unitarian have appointed a committee, composed of Mrs. Dr. Florence King, Mrs. Mary Thompson and Mrs. Mary Skinner, to confer with the chief of police and the sheriff respecting the appointment of a matron to perform duties both at the county and city jails. This step on the part of the Union is a good one, because frequently innocent women are temporarily detained in a prison under peculiar circumstances and require the attention of one of their own sex.

A meeting of the Portland Cable Railway Company was held on Monday in this city. Everything was arranged for building the road, and all the preliminaries of the contract agreed to. Those interested say there never was a cable railway built that had as brilliant an outlook for prosperity as the Portland cable road. The cable railway has 600 acres of land along its line, which at the very lowest estimate, will be worth $600,000 when the road is in running order. Work on the machinery and the machinery building will begin at once. The laying of the track will be commenced as soon as the weather moderates in the early spring.

Dell Kellogg, aged twelve years, who resides in the house at 34 1/2 Twelfth street, was stricken with smallpox yesterday. He has been quarantined in the house and exposed to the disease for some time past. A Mr. Davis died at the pest house yesterday and was buried on the poor farm. A rumor spread about the streets yesterday that Police Captain Hugh M. Hudson was afflicted with smallpox. The health authorities deny that this is the fact. The rainy weather has been unfavorable for the spread of the epidemic, which evidently reached high-water mark over a week ago and has now commenced to ebb, and will soon reach low tide.

At 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury in the Leo Toy case was discharged, after being out twenty-four hours. At the time of their discharge the jury stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal, having taken twenty-nine ballots. The court set December 11th as the day upon which the second trial shall take place.

Fine fresh strawberries from Mt. Tabor were in the market yesterday.

There were nineteen criminal cases disposed of in the police court yesterday. Mrs. Fisk and her baby died of smallpox at the East Portland car shops last night. Mr. Fisk and daughter cannot live.

Tanner, the new police judge, has quite a variety of cases this morning. Three drunks plead guilty, and were fined $2, $5, and $20, respectively. The new judge seems inclined to play "progression." The last one was fined $20 because he accused a policeman of taking five twenty-dollar pieces from his pocket, which was cut open. An elderly man with an alias was fined $30 for carrying a concealed weapon. "That's the way to give it to 'em," remarked Otto Greenwood, of the Evening Telegram. Mr. Skinner, a blind negro, graced the dock. Chief Parrish stated that the colored gentleman was getting to be an nuisance. That he was in the habit of getting drunk, and lying down on the streets, and always had to be carried to the station. "I've got a notion to say," spoke up the darkey. "I'm a sea-farin' man, an' I'm gwine to get a pension from de government. I was in de employ U. S. navy durin de Mexican wah. I never beg. Such business is disgraceful. I sell pencils, an' always pay my board in advance. Neber gets drunk an' falls down on the street. I has fits, dat's what I has." Judge Tanner remarked that he would have to find him guilty, but would suspend sentence on condition that he go to the poor farm. To this the old fellow seriously objected, but it was so ordered.

Three boys, Willie Brown, George Hanlon, and Charles Garwood were held in $500 bonds for holding up two small boys on the street, and robbing them of $1.40.

A Bank Suspends. NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 22.—The Home Savings Bank suspended to-day.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Another Whitechapel Woman Attacked, but Probably by Another Murderer.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Another Whitechapel murder was attempted in a house on George street this morning. A man and woman spent the night in the latter's room, and at nine this morning the man attacked the woman with a long knife, inflicting a deep gash in her throat. The man became frightened at the woman's cries, and fled, pursued by three men, but he escaped. The woman describes her assailant as thirty years old, tall, fair, light moustache, well dressed, and with an English accent. The police are of the opinion that this attempted murder is unconnected with the previous outrages.

ITALIAN RAILROADERS KILLED.

Employees of the Hereford Railroad Shot Upon Them and Kill Several, to Recover Engines Held by Italians for Wages.

PAQUETTE, Quebec, Nov. 22.—Foreman Van Dyke, and twenty armed men of the Hereford Railway, last night attempted to recover two locomotives from Italian strikers, held by them on account of wages due. The Italians resisted, and the riot act was read, and the railroad men fired. One Italian was killed, and three probably fatally wounded. The engines were recovered. The men had not yet been paid for their September work.

A POPE'S BULL.

Report That He Will Protest Against Preparations for War.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The report comes from Rome that the Pope is about to issue an encyclical letter in which he will urge upon the great powers the necessity of disarmament, in order to preserve the peace of Europe, and to prevent disastrous consequences to the industries and welfare of several countries by drain of elaborate and increasing war measures. There is no direct confirmation of the report.

Bittenger, formerly of the St. Joseph, Mo., Herald, and manager of the Kansas City Journal, will be the manager.

AN ILLINOIS MURDER.

A Giant Miner Kills a Man and Hides in a Coal Mine.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 22.—John Armstrong, a coal mine engineer, six and one half feet in height, and of corresponding Herculean build, shot and killed Jos. H. Glasgow last night for interfering while he was about to beat his wife. Armstrong is hiding in the mine, and no one has so far ventured down to capture him.

The African Slave Trade.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—In the house of Lords last night Salisbury stated that negotiations were progressing with France in reference to the blockade of east African ports. Concessions made by France would practically enable the government to stop the slave trade. Minister Goblet had promised to send a warship for surveillance of vessels flying the French flag.

Harrington Heavily Fined.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Parnell Commission to-day fined Edward Harrington £500 for an article in his paper, the Kerry Sentinel, reflecting on the judges of the Commission. Justice Hannen in sentencing Harrington said the authority of the court must be maintained.

A San Francisco Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The Lock Spring Mattress Company, D. Wickham President, has assigned. The liabilities are said to be $35,000; the assets are unknown. The assignment is due to the pressure for money by the creditors.

Charles Knight, a brakeman on the O. & C. railroad, was killed by an extra freight near Oregon City Monday night.

A LONG-WINDED ORATOR.

Mr. De Cosmos, of British Columbia, Speaks for Twenty-six Hours.

Long speeches are common. In the Georgia Legislature, when the question of expelling the negro members was up, Aaron Alperia Bradley spoke for four days. The Tichborne trial brought Dr. Kenealey to the front with a speech running through 140 days. But these speakers did not talk continuously. Adjournments for dinner and over night and for Sunday made their work easy.

The longest speech on record, says the Chicago Times, is probably the one made by Mr. De Cosmos, a member of the legislature of British Columbia, some time ago. A bill was pending, which, if passed, would deprive many settlers of their lands, and the temper of the majority made it certain that it would pass. The legislature was within a day and a half of the hour of its final adjournment, and the vote was about to be taken.

At this juncture De Cosmos rose to address the body. It was 10 o'clock in the morning, and the members thought he would finish in an hour or two. The clock struck 11, 12 and 1, but the speaker kept right on.

How long would he speak? The members in a spirit of fun omitted to adjourn for dinner, but De Cosmos spoke right on without a break. At 6 o'clock he was still on the floor. He was forced by the speaker to stick to the question, and was not allowed to pause except to take a drink of water.

The majority decided to continue the session through the night, slipping out in small parties to eat and sleep. Still, without faltering, the orator poured forth his torrent of words. This was the situation at midnight, and also when the morning sun flooded the hall with the light of day.

As the hour hand of the clock pointed to 12, the limit prescribed by law for the session had arrived, and the Legislature stood adjourned sine die. At the last stroke of 12 the brave DeCosmos stopped in the middle of a sentence, and fell fainting in his seat.

He had spoken, standing on his feet, twenty-six hours. His eyes were bleared and red and his parched lips were cracked and running blood. He was nearly dead, but he prevented the bill from becoming a law, and had saved the settlers their homes.

AN ARMY DEMORALIZED.

A Big Russian Goes Through the Salvation Barracks at Helena.

A dispatch to the Helena Oregonian from Helena, dated the 20th, says that a pugilistic ruffian, with the suggestive name of Sullivan, created a great uproar at the Salvation Army barracks last night, and came near exterminating the entire outfit. The soldiers of the Lord were holding a watch meeting, and this big Philistine swooped down upon them and smote them hip and thigh. The meeting was just over, and the audience was filing out when Sullivan commenced yelling at the top of his voice. Many a man and groans went up from the soldiers, who thought that Sullivan had been smitten by their power. They crowded around to offer consolation, when Sullivan commenced striking out from his shoulder, just like John L., and within a few moments he had the floor knee-deep in salvation and was wading through.

The army fought like brave men and women, long and well, but they didn't conquer, and Sullivan escaped, but was afterwards arrested, fined and released. Miss Capt. Sharp and Miss Cadet Nelson received a number of vicious blows, and Maj. Kee-e's left optic is in mourning, and several other majors, captains and sergeants are under hospital treatment.

Polk County Paragraph.

The Polk county Itemizer publishes the following news, which did not appear in the dispatches: Don't put off hauling wood until the roads get muddy. We need it this winter, not next spring.

Twenty years ago the children of Henry Pickle were our pupils at Green-ton, Lafayette county, Mo. The other day we very unexpectedly met his brother, grandpa Abner Pickle, at Buena Vista.

Two fascinating young ladies were seen the other day trying to console another who had had miserable luck in catching and retaining beaux. They do their millinery shopping with Mrs. Farrar and she don't.

In Klickitat county, W. T. Joe Downer that used to live on Salt Creek, goes to the legislature: W. R. Dunbar, our Goldendale correspondent, has been reelected probate judge and Jacob Richardson, a brother-in-law of the editor, has again been chosen county surveyor.

When you are hunting for a justice of the peace to tie the matrimonial knot, remember that Squire Frink lives in Dallas, Squire Dan. Stuffer at Ballston, Squire McFarlane at Bridgeport, and Squire Tom Graves at McCoy.

Guilty of Great Crime.

From the Salem Capital Journal.

The Portland daily newspapers have committed a grievous crime in suppressing the fact that smallpox existed in Portland. For the sake of having a good attendance at the Mechanics' Fair they thus endanger the lives of hundreds—yes, thousands—of innocent and unsuspecting people. That a great fair might score a still greater success, these newspapers scatter the seeds of pestilence throughout the whole coast. For this they deserve the severest censure that an outraged people can place upon them.

It is said that Robert Garrett is fast falling and cannot live much longer.
