Judge Deady heard the matter at 2 o'clock this afternoon and refused to entertain the motion, saying yesterday, was read any second and corea, present the same and corea and core he had done all that could be expected of him, and ordered the petition stricken from the files. This ends the matter, and the big Holladay estate, worth at the low-est figure a million dollars, belongs to Messrs. Larabee, Bennett brothers, and H. Y. A "bouncing baby boy" was found at the head of the stairs of a lodging house at the corner of First and Salmon streets, at 6 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Tregas-kis, the landlady, says she heard a baby crying about 4 o'clock in the morning, but believing it to be the child of a lady who lives in the house she paid no atten-tion to the cry. When found the waif was wrapped up in plain, hand-sewed clothing, and about it was folded a white clothing, and about it was folded a white merino shawl. Among the folds of the shawl was found a scrap of note paper on which was written the following words: "Be good to my baby, O God! Be good to my baby is the prayer of a heart-broken mother." The infant is perfectly healthy and very bright looking. The landlady of the house where the babe was found says she cannot take care of it, and wants some one who can to take it. Who wants to bid? Start it up at something. Start it up at something. The bail of Frank Foster, who was in

The House amendments to the bill to increase the pensions of those who have lost both hands was reported back favorably and concurred in. DISCUSSING THE SAMOAN QUESTION.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the consular and diplomatic ap-propriation bill, the pending question being the amendment referring to Samoa. Reagan offered an amendment to in-sert the words "and for protection of the rights of American citizens residing on said islands, and to preserve the neutrality and independence thereof."

Hale objected to the last clause. The Senate should not declare its intention to preserve the neutrality or maintain the independence of any nation. That was for the Executive. Sherman agreed with Hale, saying that the words proposed to be inserted weak-ened rather than strengthened the statement of the matter. It was "Fourth of July" language. No American had been hurt so far. After a long and exciting detate, in which Senators Five and Reagan took a strong ground in favor of protecting the independence of Samoa and securing a harnor there for American ships, and in which it was intimated by them, and by Hale, that the debate would come up again soon in another and more serious form (perhaps involving the relations of the United States and Germany.) Reagan's proposed modification was with-drawn and the amendments as reported from the committee of foreign relations were agreed to.
