Another Lesson in Health.

BACKACHE—lumbago—rheumatism—tired out feeling—all indicate disorder in the kidneys. No hope of good health while your kidneys are wrong. They are the strainers of the blood and must be kept right if you're to have health.

Foley's Kidney Cure is guaranteed to make the kidneys right—put them in perfect health. You can see that. It's guaranteed. Buy a bottle today if you're not feeling better.

W. L. YANCY, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians of southern Kentucky treated me without success. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave me immediate relief and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy."

STREET WORK BEGUN.

Chairman Switzer inaugurates the plan for improvement of the city.

Chairman Switzer has inaugurated the very extensive plan for street improvement which was announced at the beginning of the year.

As the head of the committee on streets and public improvements, Mr. Switzer has had the city team turned over to him for use on the streets and the team will probably be kept during this year to do the work of grading the cross squares.

Work that would cost the city about $1000 of this character has been planned and the team will be used in doing it.

Of course, besides the grading of the cross squares there is a large amount of street grading to be done under the recent order of the council, and this will be done partly by the owners of abutting property and partly by the city under contract.

A persistent effort is being made by the council through the street committee to improve the streets of Pendleton and to do it at the lowest expense possible. It will be generally conceded that, were the council to cause a large expenditure in doing the work, the streets could be put into much better condition than they will be under the present plan, but the proposition of improvement named all the time has been sidetracked with the duty of avoiding the expenditure of heavy sums of money.

Already, the good efforts of the street work appear on Main and Court streets, and in time, it is believed, the resident streets will show the same good results. There must be given the dressing that is being put on the streets to settle and the larger stones mixed now with the gravel to be raked off.

The council gave ample notice to the property owners to protest against the improvement of the streets which were named, but the property owners have exhibited a liberal spirit and have given the council and the street committee hearty support in almost every instance.

Mr. Switzer is giving to his work as chairman of the street committee a large amount of time, which brings him no return and is purely public spirited work on his part.

SUICIDE OF AN INDIAN.

Low-Shaw-art, a Ma'con, Kills Himself by Shooting.

A suicide among the Indians is of such rare occurrence that the self-killing of Low-shaw-art, a young Indian maiden of the Umatilla reservation, has created a profound sensation there.

Low-shaw-art was 23 years old and a daughter of Columbia Joe. She committed suicide by shooting herself at her father's house.

Particulars were received today through the agent, Major Charles Wilkins. Columbia Joe informed Major Wilkins that Low-shaw-art asked permission to come to town, which Columbia Joe refused, saying that she had no money and should not be running in town all the time anyway.

In the morning, she was sitting on a blanket in front of the house and her father said he wanted the blanket and would go out to look for the horse. She would not get up and allow him to take the blanket, so Columbia Joe jerked the blanket from under her and went out on the range to get the horses. When he returned in two hours, she was dead.

Her sister was also at the house at the time, and had gone to the river for some water. She heard the report of the gun as she was at the river, and, upon hastening to the house, found Low-shaw-art in the death agonies.

All the Indians declare the act of self-destruction to be very astonishing to them, for, although white people do not infrequently commit suicide, the Indians seldom do. A young Indian woman near Lewiston a few weeks ago also committed suicide, but these two instances stand almost entirely alone as the record of Indian suicides in this country.

NEW TRAIN APRIL FIRST.

O. R. & N. is to Make Addition to the Service.

It was given the East Oregonian to understand today that the new passenger train will be placed in service on the O. R. & N. line on April first, although the company has not yet made official announcement to that effect.

The new equipment has already been put on the road, and is now used on the regular overland No. 1 and 2.

The reason for placing on the extra train is to enable the making of better time. Each of the two trains will be smaller than the one now run, and the time will be reduced between Portland and Chicago.

For the train crews of the new train Pendleton will be the stopping place, as at present, the engine crews change at Umatilla as now is done.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Fred Hendley came home from Portland this morning.

Miss Agnes Lane, of Meacham, is visiting friends in Pendleton.

J. J. Walk, a Montana livestock buyer, is at the Hotel Pendleton.

Senator and Mrs. T. C. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cohen are expected home tomorrow from their trip to Mexico.

Judd Geer, horticultural commissioner of this district, arrived from Milton Thursday evening and went home to Cove.

Mrs. M. A. Sheridan returned yesterday from Sumpter, where she has been looking after her property interests for a week past.

Assistant Superintendent M. J. Buckley and Roman Lindsey, of the La Grande carshops, were in town today and went east on freight train No. 22.

Sumpter Miner: Fred S. Stine, a popular Pendletonian, arrived in Sumpter last week and will engage in the practice of dentistry. He has taken offices in the Bellview building.

Tom Ashton and C. H. Howard are stopping at the St. George. They have been to Baker City looking over the mining prospects and business opportunities, and they will in all probability locate in Baker.

H. B. Miller, president of the state horticultural board, who was in Milton on official business, came down Thursday on his way home to the Willamette valley. He was informed of his appointment as consul to Chung King, China, while in Milton.

Sumpter Miner: Mrs. Robbins, wife of J. M. Robbins, president of the First bank of Sumpter, has been in Pendleton during the past week for the first time. As soon as a suitable residence can be secured or built, it is probable Mrs. Robbins will return to live here permanently, as Mr. Robbins' banking and mining interests here and near by, require his continuous presence here.

NEW BRIDGE AT MILTON.

Will Be Raised in About Two Weeks—To Cost $2000.

County Judge John E. Bean came home Thursday evening from Milton. While there, he inspected the work on the new bridge which is to be built over the Walla Walla river above where the Tama-Ann river branches and which was washed out during the high water this winter. It is to be an eighty-foot span and will cost $2000.

The county will build this span, and the city of Milton will then construct the fifty-foot part on the Milton end.

Judge Bean explains that the reason why Milton builds that part of the new bridge is that the high water washed away the river bank from the Milton side and the boundary line of the city was fixed at the former bank of the river. When, therefore, the bank was washed away, the boundary line remained where it was, and the bridge built from the end of the county structure to the new bank must be built by the city of Milton.

The new bridge will be raised in ten days or two weeks.

THE SALEM WAY.

How that City Placed a Loan and Keeps the Interest at Home.

The board of water commissioners of the city of Salem has advertised for bids for $25,000 of water bonds. The bids were opened Monday night and the Times Mountaineer says:

The commissioner then proceeded to open the bids and accepted that of N. Harris & Co., of Chicago, submitted by William H. C. Barrett, of Spokane, which was to take the bonds at par, the commission to pay the expenses of negotiating the loan.

The bonds are to run 20 years at 4 per cent interest payable semi-annually. The loan is considered a good one by the commission, as it is two per cent lower than the present bonds on drawing, and was negotiated on the best terms possible.

The Dalles would have done well to have taken a leaf from the experience of Salem, says the Capital Journal. Although she pays the same rate of interest, the bargain she has made is not otherwise comparable with the one made by Salem in her popular loan.

The Dalles bonds run for 20 years, while Salem has the option of paying sooner if preferred. The Dalles says "the expenses of negotiating the loan;" Salem paid nothing on that score.

But the greatest difference lies in the fact that the Dalles bonds go to the East, and every cent of interest, amounting in all to 80 per cent of the amount received will be sent to the east, while local capital is left lying idle in the banks with no profitable investment in sight. While Salem borrowed her money for her own small capitalists; furnished a good investment for $25,000 of the idle funds of her own citizens; and not a cent of cold cash will go out of this community for interest.

The Dalles brings in $25,000 of Eastern money in competition with her local capital, and will send back $45,000 to pay it up; Salem neither brings in nor sends out a cent.

Some more Oregon cities better get haysed councils, like Salem.

THE WATCH TRUST.

Anti-Trust Millionaire Assists Looked Out Engravers.

The eighty-five Philadelphia watch case engravers, who were looked out as jubilant over a letter received by George E. Nicholson, president of the Watch Case Engravers' Association of America, from John C. Duerber, of Canton, Ohio, president of the largest watch case factory in the world.

The letter was as follows: "I am in receipt of your favor of 3d, and in reply would say the fight you are waging is the same I fought with the watch trust for over twelve years.

"I want my competitors, when I give a dollar for labor or gold, to do the same thing, but I cannot compete against firms whose employees work on the 'minute system' and like those in the combination against you, who put us out of business by the use of so-called solid gold forty pennyweight case. They wanted to drive us out of the business with low prices, but failed. This senseless oppression of employees, cutting of prices and debasing of the goods, has got to stop some time, and we would like to have it terminate at once.

"We are glad that you have taken the stand you have, and this company will assist you in every possible way. If you have any engravers who are in need of work let us know their names, and we will do our best to keep them employed. If they need us to assist them in getting here, please let us know.

"The same argument now advanced by the trust was used against us in the fight twelve years ago, when our own single-handed and alone. Our own enemies said: 'We will bust Duerber up in thirty days.' They felt quite sure of it, because with one stroke of the pen, the combination took away all our customers. Had we not been supplied with sufficient money to send our travelers to the retail trade, this factory would have been closed.

(Signed) JOHN C. DUEBER, President."

At request twenty of the local engravers will leave today for Canton, Ohio. If necessary a second installment of men will go to the Buckeye State in a few days. The Duerber factory, the largest in the world, employs 3000 hands, including 125 engravers. Arrangements have been made since the lockout by Mr. Duerber whereby 50 or 100 more engravers may be put to work.

The minute system, by way of explanation, provides that a case must be engraved every 30 minutes. The men are employed on the basis of 600 minutes to the day. Whenever more than 30 minutes are taken by an engraver to finish a case it means that it is taken off his time. Poor workmanship is the natural result as the only object is to get as many cases completed in a given time as possible. It is also worse than what is designated as the "sweating system."

about which so much is heard. There are very few engravers who can accomplish the demands of the minute system, and as a consequence they suffer in losing much time that is really employed most diligently.

The watch case manufacturers hold a meeting in New York and combined to combat the union movement of the independent Watch Case Engravers of America. Mr. Duerber was requested to break the backbone of the engravers' association but unfortunately for them he declined.

"Mr. Duerber says to all engravers: 'We will not join. We need no protection. We will not assist to enslave them. We will furnish work for all good men who need work, and assist you in any way possible.'"

As Mr. Duerber has recognized the union in his factory, the Canton branch at their meeting Sunday, instructed their secretary to write Mr. Duerber thanking him for his stand in their behalf. Had he joined them, proposed cases would have been put on the market by every factory in the country as substitutes for engraved ones. But since Mr. Duerber has refused to join the combine he will be able to supply the market with the hand-engraved watch cases which the other shops must finally come to if they desire to hold their trade. The lockout of engravers have now the support of all the engravers in the United States, moral and financially, as well as the American Federation of Labor and the recognition of Mr. Duerber.
